The End Richard John Neupert, 1995 Given the importance that spectators grant to the final moments of a motion picture it is surprising to find so little written on how films end and how audiences interpret those closing moments This study investigates endings in film and the lively role they play in how and why viewers make sense of movies Relying upon contemporary literary criticism and film theory the author analyses narrative strategies in films ranging from the classical Hollywood motion picture to the more modern European art cinema To assist readers in understanding the various functions of endings the films are divided into four critical categories the Closed Text film typical of classical works the Open Story films the Open Discourse film and the Open Text film which struggles to defy story resolution Detailed textual analysis of sample films reveal how all of the devices of filmic narration from mise en scene to soundtracks direct a viewer's perception comprehension and interpretation of closure in films Among the sample films that are featured as test cases for studying endings are The Quiet Man Ford 1950 The 400 Blows Truffaut 1959 Weekend Godard 1967 Tout va bien Godard 1972 and Earth Dovzhenko 1930 To round out his informative study of endings in films Neupert also examines a host of diverse titles including Do the Right Thing Lee 1989 Open City Rossellini 1945 and The Graduate Nichols 1967

Americanism, Media and the Politics of Culture in 1930s France David A. Pettersen, 2016-05-20 First book to focus on Americanism and its consideration of French film and literature The book is organized around individual figures texts and films making it easy to adopt for individual units in courses The book is written in clear accessible and jargon free language The book brings a new and innovative transatlantic perspective to 1930s French culture The book offers new perspectives on important figures that we thought we knew well The book mixes cultural history with the analysis of individual films and novels in a way that is engaging to read
