Weber, M. Anne Katzenberg, Theodore G. Schurr, 2011-05-26 Siberia's Lake Baikal region is an archaeologically unique and emerging area of hunter gatherer research offering insights into the complexity variability and dynamics of long term culture change The exceptional quality of archaeological materials recovered there facilitates interdisciplinary studies whose relevance extends far beyond the region The Baikal Archaeology Project one of the most comprehensive studies ever conducted in the history of subarctic archaeology is conducted by an international multidisciplinary team studying Middle Holocene about 9 000 to 3 000 years B P hunter gatherers of the region Funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada the project includes scholars in archaeology physical anthropology ethnography molecular biology geophysics geochemistry and paleoenvironmental studies This book presents the current team's research findings on questions about long term patterns of hunter gatherer adaptive strategies Grounded in interdisciplinary approaches to primary research questions of cultural change and continuity over 6 000 years the project utilizes advanced research methods and integrates diverse lines of evidence in making fundamental and lasting contributions to hunter gatherer archaeology Content of this book's DVD ROM may be found online at this location <http://core.tdar.org/project/376587> The Early Upper Paleolithic beyond Western Europe P. Jeffrey Brantingham, Steven L. Kuhn, Kristopher W. Kerry, 2004-06-02 This volume brings together prominent archaeologists working in areas outside Western Europe to discuss the most recent evidence for the origins of the early Upper Paleolithic and its relationship to the origin of modern humans With a wealth of primary data from archaeological sites and regions that have never before been published and discussions of materials from difficult to find sources the collection urges readers to reconsider the process of modern human behavioral origins Archaeological evidence continues to play a critical role in debates over the origins of anatomically modern humans The appearance of novel Upper Paleolithic technologies new patterns of land use expanded social networks and the emergence of complex forms of symbolic communication point to a behavioral revolution beginning sometime around 45 000 years ago Until recently most of the available evidence for this revolution derived from Western European archaeological contexts that suggested an abrupt replacement of Mousterian Middle Paleolithic with Aurignacian Upper Paleolithic adaptations In the absence of fossil association the behavioral transition was thought to reflect the biological replacement of archaic hominid populations by intrusive modern humans The contributors present new archaeological evidence that tells a very different story The Middle Upper Paleolithic transitions in areas as diverse as the Levant Eastern Central Europe and Central and Eastern Asia are characterized both by substantial behavioral continuity over the period 45 000 25 000 years ago and by a mosaic like pattern of shifting adaptations Together these essays will enliven and enrich the discussion of the shift from archaic to modern behavioral adaptations Contributors O Bar Yosef A Belfer Cohen R L Bettinger P J Brantingham N R Coinman A P Derevianko R G Elston J R Fox X Gao J M Geneste T Goebel E G le K W Kerry L Koulakovskaia J K Kozlowski S L Kuhn Y V Kuzmin D B Madsen A E Marks L Meignen T Meshveliani K Monigal P E Nehoroshev J W Olsen M Otte M C Stiner J Svoboda A Sytnik D Tseveendorj L B Vishnyatsky Social Complexity in Prehistoric Eurasia Bryan K. Hanks, Kathryn M.

Linduff, 2009-08-31 Social Complexity in Prehistoric Eurasia challenges current interpretations of the emergence development and decline of social complexity in the steppe region of China and the former Soviet Union Through a thematic investigation of archaeological patterns ranging from monument construction and use and production and consumption of metals to the nature of mobility among societies the essays in this volume provide the most up to date thinking on social and cultural change in prehistoric Eurasia Collectively they challenge broader theoretical trends in Anglo American archaeology which have traditionally favored comparative studies of sedentary agricultural societies over mobile pastoralist or agro pastoralist communities By highlighting the potential and limitations of comparative studies of social complexity this volume sets the agenda for future studies of this region of the world It emphasizes how the unique nature of early steppe societies can contribute to more comprehensive interpretations of social trajectories in world prehistory Anthropology & Archeology of Eurasia , 2006 A Russian Philosopher Alexander Radishchev Allen McConnell, 2012-12-06 Alexander Radishchev's major work A Journey from St Petersburg to Moscow first published in 1790 was the most scathing denunciation of serfdom and autocracy that had ever appeared in Russia Its author was immediately arrested tried for treason and condemned to death the sentence being later commuted to exile in Siberia Catherine the Great who had provided Radishchev with a schooling in despotism in the Corps des Pages and with an introduction to the Enlightenment at the University of Leipzig saw in his book a gratuitous insult to herself as well as an attempt to incite a revolt that would bring him to power Forgetting that many of its ideas were the same as those she had herself expressed earlier she denounced it as the fruit of foreign abstract theories acting on an excitable ambitious and resentful man The Journey was effectively suppressed for more than a century Any mention of Radishchev was discouraged by the censor for seventy years A generation after Radishchev's death in 1802 Pushkin's biography of him was refused publication permission on the ground that the subject of it was forgotten and deserved to remain so Inner Asia and the Spatial Politics of Empire William Honeychurch, 2014-11-05 This monograph uses the latest archaeological results from Mongolia and the surrounding areas of Inner Asia to propose a novel understanding of nomadic statehood political economy and the nature of interaction with ancient China In contrast to the common view of the Eurasian steppe as a dependent periphery of Old World centers this work views Inner Asia as a locus of enormous influence on neighboring civilizations primarily through the development and transmission of diverse organizational models technologies and socio political traditions This work explores the spatial management of political relationships within the pastoral nomadic setting during the first millennium BCE and argues that a culture of mobility horse based transport and long distance networking promoted a unique variant of statehood Although states of the eastern steppe were geographically large and hierarchical these polities also relied on techniques of distributed authority multiple centers flexible structures and ceremonialism to accommodate a largely mobile and dispersed populace This expertise in spatial politics set the stage early on for the expansionistic success of later Asian empires under the Mongols and Manchus Inner Asia and the Spatial Politics of Empire brings a distinctly anthropological treatment to the prehistory of Mongolia and is the first major work to explore key issues in the archaeology of eastern Eurasia using a comparative framework The monograph adds significantly to anthropological theory on interaction between states and outlying regions the emergence of secondary complexity and the growth of imperial traditions Based on this approach the window of Inner Asian prehistory offers a novel opportunity to investigate the varied ways that complex societies grow and the processes articulating adjacent societies in networks of mutual transformation

Ceramics Before Farming Peter Jordan, Marek Zvelebil, 2016-06-03 A long overdue advancement in ceramic studies this volume sheds new light on the adoption and dispersal of pottery by non agricultural societies of prehistoric Eurasia Major contributions from Western Europe Eastern Europe and Asia make this a truly international work that brings together different theories and material for the first time Researchers and scholars studying the origins and dispersal of pottery the prehistoric peoples of Eurasia and flow of ancient technologies will all benefit from this book

Мистецька стилістика, техніка та змістовність за доби раннього заліза Євразії ,2023-12-20 The Archaeology of Volga Bulgaria in the 10th to Early 13th Centuries Konstantin A. Rudenko,2024-11-18 This book focuses on Volga Bulgaria 10th to early 13th centuries the only Muslim state in Eastern Europe before 1300 For several centuries it operated as a bridge between the Christian West and the Muslim East As such it is widely believed that the colossal transit of oriental silver coin through the state was the foundation of the Bulgar economy while Islam consolidated statehood in the Middle Volga region Drawing on the rich archaeological record Konstantin Rudenko argues against this view demonstrating that the Bulgar culture was instead formed on the basis of its own resources The Bulgars thus represent a unique example of relatively rapid change from nomadism to sedentism and urbanization with no significant influence from neighboring developed states Cultural syncretism therefore emerged as a key characteristic of Volga Bulgaria Culture Incarnate: Native Anthropology from Russia Marjorie Mandelstam Balzer,2016-09-16 This collection of studies uses the processes of analysis and self analysis to examine the social political and spiritual forces at work in the post Soviet world The text includes discussions of ethnohistory political anthropology and ethnic conflict and symbolic anthropology
