Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives Kenneth Reeds, Anna Rocca, 2013-10-03

Women Taking Risks in Contemporary Autobiographical Narratives explores the nature and effects of risk in self narrative representations of life events and is an early step towards confronting the dearth of analysis on this subject The collection focuses on risk taking as one of women s articulations of authorial agency displayed in literary testimonial photographic travel and film documentary forms of autobiographical expression in French Among many themes the book fosters discussion on matters of courage strength resilience freedom self fulfillment political engagement compassion faith and the envisioning of unconventional alliances that follow a woman s stepping out of her comfort zone The fourteen essays included in this collection discuss works of women authors from North Africa Sub Saharan Africa France and the Caribbean They exemplify a variety of self narratives that blur unified conceptualizations of both identity and national belonging They address questions about women writers attitudes towards risk and their willingness to change the status quo They also explore the many personal and public forms in which agency manifests through risk taking engagements the ways in which women challenge the conventional wisdom about feminine reserve and aversion to danger the multiplicity of seen and unforeseen consequences of risk taking the all too frequent lack of recognition of female courage the overcoming of obstacles by taking risks and frequently the amelioration of women s lives Addressing both the broader context of the study of risk and the more specific areas of female expression and autobiography in Francophone cultures this collection is attractive to a diverse audience with the potential to cross disciplines and inform a wide body of research A number of the essays deal with issues born in postcolonial circumstances This examination of the elucidation of marginalized voices should prove enlightening to an array of scholars researching specific ethnic sexual gender and general subjects related to identity In making inroads towards expanding the well developed area of risk studies into the humanities this collection makes an important contribution that has the potential to promote a variety of cross disciplinary research including examinations of the psychology and sociology behind chauvinism personal expression and formative experiences Annie Ernaux Siobhán

McIlvanney, 2001-01-01 This text provides an analysis of Annie Ernaux s individual texts It engages in a series of provocative close readings of her works to highlight the contradictions and nuances in her writing demonstrating the intellectual intricacies of her work Leftovers Ruth Cruickshank, 2020-01-31 The intrinsic ambivalence of eating and drinking often goes unrecognised In Leftovers Cruickshank s new theoretical approach reveals how representations of food drink and their consumption proliferate with overlooked figurative psychological ideological and historical interpretative potential Case studies of novels by Robbe Grillet Ernaux Darrieussecq and Houellebecq demonstrate the transferrable potential of re thinking eating and drinking Rewriting Rewriting Cathy Jellenik, 2007 Although the storytelling of any time rewrites itself rewriting became a primary concern in the literature of the twentieth century an era characterized as having quoted

reenacted cannibalized revised redone refurbished and outright plagiarized the texts of earlier times The modern obsession with literary reiteration manifests itself in a rather unique way in the narratives of Marguerite Duras Annie Ernaux and Marie Redonnet These authors systematically and repeatedly rewrite their own texts and in so doing give evidence of three of the more salient aspects of twentieth century French literature a trend toward the representation of multifaceted selves a desire to reevaluate the literary paradigm and an acute concern for the unreliability of language This book argues that the rewriting performed by Duras Ernaux and Redonnet moves beyond the tacit rewriting that occurs in any text toward a renovation of various features of the literary arena within which they circulate Cathy Jellenik argues that all writing contains rewriting an argument grounded in the theoretical apparatuses of Saussure Bakhtin Benveniste Barthes Kristeva and Derrida She then examines and interrogates the ways in which Duras Ernaux and Redonnet use rewriting to question and rethink the literary traditions they inherit Jellenik suggests that the rewriting projects of Duras Ernaux and Redonnet promise to lead them and their readers toward the creation of a new literary aesthetic capable of responding to the questions of our times Writing

Shame and Desire Loraine Day, 2007 This study combines psycho social and literary perspectives to investigate the interdependency of shame and desire in Annie Ernaux's writing arguing that shame implies desire and desire vulnerability to shame and that the interplay between the two generates the energy for personal growth and creative endeavour The and Femininity Stacey Weber-Fève, 2010-01-05 Re hybridizing Transnational Domesticity and Femininity examines the problems of voicing the personal when considering the role and place of women in the home Analyzing a collection of first person cinematic and literary narratives by Assia Djebar Annie Ernaux Simone de Beauvoir Raja Amari Coline Serreau Le la Sebbar and Yamina Benguigui Weber Fève explores the transnational processes of identity formation gender performance and construction of culture and society Through a closer look at contemporary representations of French Algerian and Tunisian women on the page and on the screen this study discusses the ways in which homemaking nation and gender are intricately bound to one another and situated in personal history Working within as well as beyond so called national systems of visual and written representation these women artists challenge inherited and monolithic performances definitions and discourses of femininity In doing so they create re hybridized subjects that begin to recognize and embrace the differences within themselves The authors and filmmakers in this study through their female protagonists the protagonists homes and homemaking acts and the investigative lens of the interrogation of the personal are interested in exploring how the process of uncovering or articulating new and other identities and subjectivities ushers in new and re hybridized ways of seeing knowing and being female

From Menstruation to the Menopause Maria Kathryn Tomlinson, 2021-05-15 This book examines the representation of the female fertility cycle in contemporary Algerian Mauritian and French women's writing It focuses on menstruation childbirth and the menopause whilst also incorporating experiences such as miscarriage and abortion This study frames its analysis of contemporary women's writing by looking back to the pioneering work of the second wave feminists Second wave feminist texts were the first to break the silence on key aspects of female experience which had thus far been largely overlooked or considered taboo Second wave feminist works have been criticised for applying their universal theories to all women regardless of their ethnicity socio economic status or sexuality This book argues that contemporary women's writing has continued the challenge against normative perceptions of the body that was originally launched by the second wave feminists whilst also taking a more nuanced contextual and intersectional approach to corporeal experience The cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach of this book is informed not only by critics of the second wave feminist movement but also by sociological studies which consider how women's bodily experiences are shaped by socio cultural context
