Busch,Daniel Joyner,2009-01-01 The spread of weapons of mass destruction poses one of the greatest threats to international peace and security in modern times the specter of nuclear chemical and biological weapons looms over relations among many countries The September 11 tragedy and other terrorist attacks have been painful warnings about gaps in nonproliferation policies and regimes specifically with regard to nonstate actors In this volume experts in nonproliferation studies examine challenges faced by the international community and propose directions for national and international policy making and lawmaking The first group of essays outlines the primary threats posed by WMD proliferation and terrorism Essays in the second section analyze existing treaties and other normative regimes including the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty and the Chemical Weapons and Biological Weapons Conventions and recommend ways to address the challenges to their effectiveness Essays in part three examine the shift some states have made away from nonproliferation treaties and regimes toward more forceful and proactive policies of counterproliferation such as the Proliferation Security Initiative which coordinates efforts to search and seize suspect shipments of WMD related materials Banning the Bang or the Bomb? I. William Zartman, Paul Meerts, Mordechai Melamud, 2014-04-17 Analyses the expansion of the nuclear arms control regime evaluating Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty negotiations and preparations for on site inspections International Law and the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction Daniel Joyner, 2009 Proliferation of WMD technologies is by no means a new concern for the international community Indeed since the signing of the Nuclear Non proliferation Treaty in 1968 tremendous energies have been expended upon diplomatic efforts to create a web of treaties and international organisations regulating the production and stockpiling of WMD sensitive materials within states as well as their spread through the increasingly globalised channels of international trade to other states and non state actors However the intervention in 2003 by Western powers in Iraq has served as an illustration of the importance of greater understanding of and attention to this area of law as disagreements over its content and application have once again lead to a potentially destabilising armed intervention by members of the United Nations into the sovereign territory of another member state Other ongoing disputes between states regarding the character of obligations assumed under non proliferation treaty instruments and the effect of international organisations decisions in this area form some of the most contentious and potentially destabilising issues of foreign policy concern for many states This book provides a comprehensive analysis of international law and organisations in the area of WMD proliferation It will serve both as a reference for understanding the law as it currently exists in its political and economic context as well as an analysis of areas in which amendments to existing law and organisations are needed
