Arms Transfer Limitations And Third World Security:

Arms Transfer Limitations and Third World Security Thomas Ohlson, 1988 Is the arms trade totally uncontrolled What are the main obstacles to limitations on arms transfers What can be learned from past attempts at arms transfer control This book which completes SIPRI's trilogy on the facts and implications of Third World build up of major conventional weapons assesses past efforts current proposals and future possibilities to limit the transfer of weapons and military technology to Third World countries It is a companion to the two SIPRI volumes Arms Production in the Third World 1986 and Arms Transfers to the Third World 1971 85 OUP 1987 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D.

Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re-examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective Military Expenditure Saadet Deger, Somnath Sen, 1990

The purpose of this book is to analyse world military expenditure at the end of the 1980s and to discuss its political and economic implications After a decade of unprecedented expansion of international military spending its level is falling though modestly Political developments in Europe and the success of arms control negotiations raise hopes for further reductions In addition technological and economic structural disarmament is adding to the pressure for reductions However performance has not matched up to promises and formidable obstacles to defence spending limitations still remain Military Expenditure surveys recent events and describes the process of change that characterizes international military expenditure and its determinants at this time of transformation Weapons Proliferation and World Order Brad Roberts, 2023-09-29 With the end of the Cold War the subject of weapons proliferation has acquired new interest and prominence So too have questions about the nature of the world order that will succeed the structure of the last fifty years This study explores the connections among these topics It describes the prevailing conceptual model of nuclear proliferation evaluates proliferation's changing technical features considers economic and political factors bearing on its future rate and character and speculates about proliferation's implications on the post cold war world order It also considers the role of international public policy in meeting proliferation's challenges Arguing that updated approaches are needed the analysis emphasizes cooperative over coercive approaches to order It concludes with an assessment of progress to date in meeting these new challenges arguing that the new agenda is only slowly coming into focus Striving for Peace, Security, and Development of the World Joseph Rotblat,1993 The momentous events of the past year have changed the political face of the globe the ideological struggle that dominated the world for most of this century is over erstwhile mortal enemies have become friends and partners But old attitudes have survived and modern weapons are in abundance New foci of conflict have emerged military confrontations are taking place the world is still in turmoil The welcome deep cuts in nuclear weapons have still left thousands of warheads in the arsenals and the spread of these weapons to new states would further increase the danger of a nuclear confrontation The release of the pressure pent up under oppressive regimes created a powerful drive for independence often achieved only after bloody wars Many of the new states are economically non viable poverty and famine are frequent adjuncts of independence If military conflicts are to be avoided a comprehensive strategy must be formulated to improve the standards of living in the developing countries and enhance their security A strategy is also needed to protect the environment from the effects of further industrialization and greater use of energy What is needed is a concept of a sustainable equitable and liveable world for all its inhabitants All these problems were analysed by scientists and scholars who met at a Pugwash Conference The arguments used by them and the proposed solutions are presented in this book under six themes World Peace Nuclear Disarmament Issues Arms Control Security in the Asia Pacific Region Development Strategies and World Economic Order Energy and the Environment Peace Studies Matthew Evangelista,2005 The academic field of Peace Studies emerged during the Cold War to address the nature and sources of interstate and internal conflict and methods to prevent it and deal with its consequences Limiting the Proliferation of Weapons Jean-François Rioux,1992 An international team of arms control experts addresses important questions raised by the use of export sales restrictions in controlling the spread of weapons In non technical language they examine vital issues relating to ballistic missiles as well as to nuclear chemical biological and conventional weapons Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1991-01 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world

Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1991-01 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Moral Issues in International Affairs Bill McSweeney,2016-07-27 A number of eminent international scholars have come together in this volume to address the question of morality in international affairs and to explore some of the central normative issues which arise in the context of European integration The essays examine the general question of morality and address specific areas of concern in the proposals for further integration White House Efforts to Thwart Congressional Investigations of Pre-war Iraq Policy United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs,1993 The Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro (BNL) Scandal and the Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) Program for Iraq United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs,1993 The Weapons State David Mutimer,2000 The proliferation of all kinds of weapons is a focal point for international security This work shows how both the language used to talk about weapons proliferation and the practices adopted to respond to it serve to define the problem in ways that promote policy responses doomed to failure The International Arms Trade Edward J. Laurance,1992 The events of 1991 in the Persian Gulf which saw Iraq import enough armaments to defy the major powers have brought the questions of arms trading to the head of the international agenda In this text international relations theory is applied to the transfer of military capability for the purpose of fortifying the national security of sovereign states The author examines past patterns of arms transfer and the influences of international factors on policymakers International relations theory is applied to the transfer of military capability for the purpose of fortifying the national security of sovereign states The author examines past patterns of arms transfer and the influences of international factors on policymakers in order to show that the arms trade has gone far beyond the control of individual nation states Reconstruction and Regional Diplomacy in the Persian Gulf H. Amirahmadi,N. Entessar,2023-05-26 First Published in 1992 Reconstruction and Regional Diplomacy in the Persian Gulf goes beyond a description of the recent events by analysing the social political and economic patterns of interaction between the Gulf states The argument is strengthened by a consideration of the role of the superpowers in the region s political discourse and of religion as a force for a change Not only do the authors provide an easily accessible basis for explaining the current problems in the region but they also offer their own sometimes provocative policy prescriptions This book is an important read for scholars and researchers of Middle East politics and Middle East history Critical Reflections on Security and Change Stuart Croft,Terry Terriff,2013-02-01 The contributors reflect critically on security studies since the 1980s They conclude that analysts and policy makers have not been able to respond well to the changes that have occurred and that they must revise their approach if they are to meet the challenges of the future Foreign Assistance Legislation for Fiscal Years 1984-85: Overview of security supporting assistance programs United States.
