Army And The Creation Of The Pahlavi State In Iran 19101926:

The Military in Post-Revolutionary Iran Hesam Forozan, 2015-10-14 Iran's Revolutionary Guard Corps also known as the Sepah has wielded considerable and increasing power in Iran in recent decades. Established in 1979 by Ayatollah Khomeini as a paramilitary organisation charged with protecting the nascent Islamic regime and countering the untrustworthy Imperial army or Artesh the Sepah has evolved into one of the most powerful political ideological military and economic players in Iran over recent years. The Sepah is entrusted with a diverse set of indoctrination apparatus training programmes and system welfare provisions intended to broaden support for the regime. Although established as a paramilitary organisation the Sepah developed to have its own ministry complex bureaucracy and diversified functions alongside its own network and personnel. This book provides a comprehensive overview of the Sepah and its role. It examines the position of the Sepah in Iranian state and society, explores the nature of the Sepah's involvement in politics and discusses the impact of the Sepah's political rise on Iran's economy and foreign policy. Contemporary Iran can only be fully understood by an awareness of the ongoing fighting among regime factions and increasing popular demands for social change. Knowing about the Sepah is central to all this.

Reformers and Revolutionaries in Modern Iran Dr Stephanie Cronin, 2013-04-15 The contributors of this book undertake a fundamental reexamination and reappraisal of the phenomenon of leftist activism in Iran. Sexual Politics in Modern Iran Janet Afary, 2009-04-09 This book charts the history of Iran's sexual revolution from the nineteenth century to today. The resilience of the Iranian people forms the basis of this sexual revolution, one that is promoting reforms in marriage and family laws and demanding more egalitarian gender and sexual relations. Making Space for the Gulf Arang Keshavarzian, 2024-04-16

The Persian Gulf has long been a contested space, an object of imperial ambitions, national antagonisms and migratory dreams. The roots of these contestations lie in the different ways the Gulf has been defined as a region both by those who live there and those beyond its shore. Making Space for the Gulf reveals how capitalism, empire building, geopolitics and urbanism have each shaped understandings of the region over the last two centuries. Here the Gulf comes into view as a created space encompassing dynamic social relations and competing interests. Arang Keshavarzian writes a new history of the region that places Iran, Iraq and the Arabian Peninsula together within global processes. He connects moments more often treated as ruptures: the discovery of oil, the Iranian Revolution, the rise and decline of British empire, the emergence of American power and crafts a narrative populated by a diverse range of people, migrants and ruling families, pearl divers and star architects, striking taxi drivers and dethroned rulers, protectors of British India and stewards of globalized American universities. Tacking across geographic scales, Keshavarzian reveals how the Gulf has been globalized through transnational relations, regionalized as a geopolitical category and cleaved along national divisions and social inequalities. When understood as a process, not an object, the Persian Gulf reveals much about how regions and the world have been made in modern times. Making Space for the Gulf offers a fresh understanding of this globally consequential place.

The Iranian Constitutional Revolution and the Clerical Leadership of Khurasani Mateo Mohammad

Farzaneh,2015-03-13 The Iranian Constitutional Revolution was the twentieth century's first such political movement in the Middle East. It represented a landmark in Iranian history because of the unlikely support it received from Shi'ite clerics who historically viewed Western concepts with suspicion, some claiming constitutionalism to be anti-Islamic. Leading the support was Muhammad Kazim Khurasani, the renowned Shi'ite jurist who conceived of a supporting role for the clergy in a modern Iranian political system. Drawing on extensive analysis of religious texts, fatwas, and articles written by Khurasani and other pro and anti-constitutionalists, Farzaneh provides a comprehensive and illuminating interpretation of Khurasani's religious pragmatism. Despite some opposition from his peers, Khurasani used a form of jurisprudential reasoning when creating shari'a that was based on human intellect to justify his support of not only the Iranian parliament but also the political powers of clerics. He had a reputation across the Shi'ite community as a masterful religious scholar, a skillful teacher, and a committed humanitarian who heeded the people's socioeconomic and political grievances and took action to address them. Khurasani's push for progressive reforms helped to inaugurate a new era of clerical involvement in constitutionalism in the Middle East.

Islam and the Army in Colonial India Nile Green,2009-05-14 Set in Hyderabad in the mid-nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, this book, a study of the cultural world of the Muslim soldiers of colonial India, focuses on the soldiers' relationships with the faqir, holy men who protected them, and the British officers they served. Drawing on Urdu as well as European sources, the book uses the biographies of Muslim holy men and their military followers to recreate the extraordinary encounter between a barracks culture of miracle stories, carnivals, drug use, and madness with a colonial culture of mutiny, memoirs, Evangelicalism, magistrates, and the asylum. It explores the ways in which the colonial army helped promote this sepoys' religion while at the same time attempting to control and suppress certain aspects of it. The book brings to light the existence of a distinct barracks Islam and shows its importance to the cultural, no less than the military, history of colonial India.

Anti-Veiling Campaigns in the Muslim World Stephanie Cronin,2014-04-24 In recent years, bitter controversies have erupted across Europe and the Middle East about women's veiling and especially their wearing of the face veil or niqab. Yet the deeper issues contained within these controversies—secularism versus religious belief, individual freedom versus social or family coercion, identity versus integration—are not new but are strikingly prefigured by earlier conflicts. This book examines the state-sponsored anti-veiling campaigns which swept across wide swathes of the Muslim world in the interwar period, especially in Turkey and the Balkans, Iran, Afghanistan, and the Soviet republics of the Caucasus and Central Asia. It shows how veiling was officially discouraged and ridiculed as backward, and although it was rarely banned, veiling was politicized and turned into a rallying point for a wider opposition. Asking a number of questions about this earlier anti-veiling discourse and the policies flowing from it, and the reactions which it provoked, the book illuminates and contextualizes contemporary debates about gender, Islam, and modernism.

Foucault and the Iranian Revolution Janet Afary, Kevin B.

Anderson,2010-07-15 In 1978 as the protests against the Shah of Iran reached their zenith philosopher Michel Foucault was working as a special correspondent for Corriere della Sera and le Nouvel Observateur During his little known stint as a journalist Foucault traveled to Iran met with leaders like Ayatollah Khomeini and wrote a series of articles on the revolution Foucault and the Iranian Revolution is the first book length analysis of these essays on Iran the majority of which have never before appeared in English Accompanying the analysis are annotated translations of the Iran writings in their entirety and the at times blistering responses from such contemporaneous critics as Middle East scholar Maxime Rodinson as well as comments on the revolution by feminist philosopher Simone de Beauvoir In this important and controversial account Janet Afary and Kevin B Anderson illuminate Foucault's support of the Islamist movement They also show how Foucault's experiences in Iran contributed to a turning point in his thought influencing his ideas on the Enlightenment homosexuality and his search for political spirituality Foucault and the Iranian Revolution informs current discussion on the divisions that have reemerged among Western intellectuals over the response to radical Islamism after September 11 Foucault's provocative writings are thus essential for understanding the history and the future of the West's relationship with Iran and more generally to political Islam In their examination of these journalistic pieces Afary and Anderson offer a surprising glimpse into the mind of a celebrated thinker

The Making of Modern Muslim Selves through Architecture Farhan S. Karim,Patricia Blessing,2023-10-20 This collection seeks to explore alternative definitions of bounded identities facilitating new approaches to spatial and architectural forms Taking as its starting point the emergence of a new sense of boundary emerged from the post 19th century dissolution of large heterogeneous empires into a mosaic of nation states in the Islamic world This new sense of boundaries has not only determined the ways in which we imagine and construct the idea of modern citizenship but also redefines relationships between the nation citizenship cities and architecture It brings critical perspectives to our understanding of the interrelation between the accumulated flows and the evolving concepts of boundary in predominantly Muslim societies and within the global Muslim diaspora Essays in this book seeks to investigate how architecture mediates the creation and deployment of boundaries and boundedness that have been devised to define enable obstruct accumulate and or control flows able to disrupt bounded territories or identities More generally the book explores how architecture might be considered as a means to understand the relationship between flows and boundaries and its implication of defining modern self The essays in this volume collectively address how the construction of self is primarily a spatial event and operated within the crucial nexus of power knowledge space Contributors investigate how architecture mediates the creation and deployment of boundaries and boundedness how architecture might be considered as a means to understand the relationship between flows and boundaries and its implications for how we define the modern self Part of the Critical Studies in Architecture of the Middle East series

It throws new light on the decision making processes, the restraints on action and the political exigencies at play during the Qajar years.

The Making of Modern Iran Dr Stephanie Cronin, 2012-11-12 This collection of essays by a distinguished group of specialists offers a new and exciting interpretation of Riza Shah's Iran. A period of key importance, the years between 1921-1941 have until now remained relatively neglected. Recently, however, there has been a marked revival of interest in the history of these two decades and this collection brings together some of the best of this recent new scholarship. Illustrating the diversity and complexity of interpretations to which contemporary scholarship has given rise, the collection looks at both the high politics of the new state and at history from below, examining some of the fierce controversies which have arisen surrounding such issues as the gender politics of the new regime, the nature of its nationalism and its treatment of minorities.

The Caspian World Abbas Amanat, Kevin Gledhill, Kayhan A. Nejad, 2025-08-15 The Caspian World is a wide ranging exploration of the strategic political and commercial significance of the Caspian Sea, a site where empires Russian, Persian, Ottoman and British competed, warred and collaborated. As with the Mediterranean, the Indian Ocean or the Black Sea, the geography of the Caspian Sea creates a sphere of unique political dynamics and possibilities and the essays in this volume describe the role of the Caspian as a force of connection as well as a source of threats to the states on its shores. Rather than narrating history through binary state to state relationships, however, The Caspian World uncovers the sea as a space of multi-sided exchanges and numerous centers, tracing how the Caspian has shaped the commercial, intellectual, diplomatic and imperial projects throughout the region. Contributors: Ulfat Abdurasulov, Abbas Amanat, Elena Andreeva, George Bournoutian, Iurii Demin, Layla S. Diba, Etienne Forestier, Peyrat, Kevin Gledhill, Guido Hausmann, Kayhan A. Nejad, Matthew P. The Loneliest Revolution Ali Mirsepassi, 2023-03-31 In this first hand account of the Iranian Revolution, Mirsepassi deftly weaves together his memories of provincial life and radical activism in the 1960s and 1970s in Iran, with insights gleaned in his subsequent career as a sociologist of Iran.

Dreams of Emancipation Norihiro Naganawa, 2025-09-30 Given Russia's invasion of Ukraine, why do emancipation messages that emanated from Russia count? Navigating multilingual sources, this book addresses the role of Russia's multiethnic society and borderlands in generating kaleidoscopic repercussions of its 1917 Revolution. It also sees the USSR's interactions with its neighboring countries as a crucible of the Soviet modality of communism. The book shows how the collapse of the Russian Empire further released a vast range of liberationist projects and dreams far from confined to the goals of Bolshevism in its borderlands and beyond and how the Soviet Union became a highly ambiguous source of emancipatory inspiration in the long twentieth century, overshadowing today's global politics.

From Orientalism to Postcolonialism Sucheta Mazumdar, Vasant Kaiwar, Thierry

Labica,2010-11-01 This book uses a historical and theoretical focus to examine the key of issues of the Enlightenment Orientalism concepts of identity and difference and the contours of different modernities in relation to both local and global shaping forces including the spread of capitalism The contributors present eight in depth studies and a substantial theoretical introduction utilizing primary and secondary sources in Turkish Farsi Chinese not to mention English French and German in the effort to engage materials and cultural perspectives from diverse regions It provides a critical attempt to think through the potentialities and limitations of area studies and civilizational approaches to the production of knowledge about the modern world and the often obscured relationship between the fragment and the whole or the particular and universal The book is an intervention in one of the most fundamental debates confronting the social science and humanities namely how to understand global and local historical processes as interconnected developments affecting human actors From Orientalism to Postcolonialism will be of interest to academics and postgraduate students in Cultural and Postcolonial Studies and Asian studies and Middle Eastern studies Studies on Persianate Societies: Volume 1 (2003/1382) ,2025-01-27 Studies on Persianate Societies is an interdisciplinary publication that offers original research on the culture and civilisation of the geographical area where Persian has historically been the dominant language or a major cultural force encompassing Iran Afghanistan and Tajikistan as well as the Caucasus Central Asia the Indian Subcontinent and parts of the former Ottoman Empire It also offers regular surveys of relevant books published in Iran India and Pakistan Russia and the Commonwealth of Independent States This publication is the predecessor of the Journal of Persianate Studies History of civilizations of Central Asia Adle, Chahryar,UNESCO,2005-10-03 This major six volume project co published with Macmillan covers the historical experience of the peoples and societies of the Caribbean region from the earliest times to the present day The sixth volume brings this series to an end as it takes in the whole of the modern period from colonial conquest and domination to decolonization the Cold War from start to finish the disintegration of the Soviet Union and the renewed instability in certain areas Not only did the colonial regimes lay a new patina over the region but nationalism remoulded all old identities into a series of new ones That process of the twentieth century was perhaps the most transformative of all after the colonial subjugation of the nineteenth While it has been the basis of remarkable stability in vast stretches of the region it has been a fertile source of tension and even wars in other parts The impact and the results of such changes have been astonishingly variable despite the proximity of these states to each other and their being subject to or driven by virtually the same compulsions Farewell Shiraz Cyrus Kadivar,2017 In Farewell Shiraz Kadivar tells the story of his family and childhood against the tumultuous backdrop of twentieth century Iran from the 1905 1907 Constitutional Revolution to the fall of Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi before presenting accounts of his meetings with key witnesses to the Shah s fall and the rise of Khomeini Each of the people interviewed provides a richly detailed picture of the momentous events that took place and the human drama behind them
