Art Action And Participation:

Art, Action and Participation Frank Popper, 1975 Art--action and Participation Frank Popper, 1975 ART, ACTION ET PARTICIPATION. FRANK. POPPER, 1985 Pioneering Participatory Art Practices Annemarie Kok, 2024-05-06 Participatory art practices allow members of an audience to actively contribute to the creation of art Annemarie Kok provides a detailed analysis and explanation of the use of participatory strategies in art in the so called long sixties starting around 1958 and ending around 1974 in Western Europe Drawing on extensive archival materials and with the help of the toolbox of the actor network theory she maps out the various actors of three case studies of participatory projects by John Dugger and David Medalla Piotr Kowalski and telewissen all of which were part of documenta 5 Kassel 1972 Art in Action Nicholas Wolterstorff, 1980 Taking vigorous issue with the pervasive Western notion that the arts exist essentially for the purpose of aesthetic contemplation Nicholas Wolterstorff proposes instead what he sees as an authentically Christian perspective that art has a legitimate even necessary place in everyday life While granting that galleries theaters and concert halls serve a valid purpose Wolterstorff argues that art should also be appreciated in action in private homes in hotel lobbies in factories and grocery stores on main street His conviction that art should be multifunction is basic to the author's views on art in the city he regards most American cities as dehumanizing wastelands of aesthetic squalor dominated by the demands of the automobile and leads him to a helpful discussion of its role in worship and the church Developing an aesthetic that is basically grounded yet always sensitive to the human need for beauty Wolterstorff make a brilliant contribution to understanding how art can serve to broaden and enrich our lives Art-action-participation Frank Popper, 1975

Art-Based Games Don Pavey, 2024-02-09 The visitor to an Art Arena game is confronted with an enormous piece of paper covering one wall of the room Groups of players are at work painting some with spontaneity or abandon others with thoughtful precision Back from the wall are knots of players calling out apparently cryptic information to those at work on the paper or transmitting it in coded sounds using whistles pipes and various home made instruments Colours are phased across the wall sometimes colliding sometimes mingling or encircling each other But what is the connection between the sound flow and the painting This book originally published in 1979 describes the beginnings of a new approach to art education an approach based on the use of games in art The games draw not only upon artistic and design skills but also upon those that teachers in all subjects try to develop in their pupils logical thinking breadth of judgement imagination and sensibility in handling materials and media They also provide a vehicle for familiarizing players with a wealth of concepts and data from different topics The approach aims at promoting group work and cooperative interaction and has proved to be of interest to social workers and to teachers of disabled and difficult children It has been tried out with an unusual variety of groups from mixed and low ability to groups of gifted children students and adults and while the level of playing has varied the games have elicited high involvement from participants While referring to game theory and research the book is essentially practical giving instructions for inventing and playing games and descriptions of a number of games played by different groups The end of the book gives a detailed list of concepts and suggestions for further reading and lists of materials and suppliers

Critical Terms for Art History, Second Edition Robert S. Nelson, Richard Shiff, 2010-03-15 Art has always been contested terrain whether the object in question is a medieval tapestry or Duchamp's Fountain But questions about the categories of art and art history acquired increased urgency during the 1970s when new developments in critical theory and other intellectual projects dramatically transformed the discipline The first edition of Critical Terms for Art History both mapped and contributed to those transformations offering a spirited reassessment of the field's methods and terminology Art history as a field has kept pace with debates over globalization and other social and political issues in recent years making a second edition of this book not just timely but crucial Like its predecessor this new edition consists of essays that cover a wide variety of loaded terms in the history of art from sign to meaning ritual to commodity Each essay explains and comments on a single term discussing the issues the term raises and putting the term into practice as an interpretive framework for a specific work of art For example Richard Shiff discusses Originality in Vija Celmins's To Fix the Image in Memory a work made of eleven pairs of stones each consisting of one original stone and one painted bronze replica In addition to the twenty-two original essays this edition includes nine new ones performance style memory monument body beauty ugliness identity visual culture visual studies and social history of art as well as new introductory material All help expand the book's scope while retaining its central goal of stimulating discussion of theoretical issues in art history and making that discussion accessible to both beginning students and senior scholars Contributors Mark Antliff Nina Athanassoglou Kallmyer Stephen Bann Homi K Bhabha Suzanne Preston Blier Michael Camille David Carrier Craig Clunas Whitney Davis Jas Elsner Ivan Gaskell Ann Gibson Charles Harrison James D Herbert Amelia Jones Wolfgang Kemp Joseph Leo Koerner Patricia Leighton Paul Mattick Jr Richard Meyer W J T Mitchell Robert S Nelson Margaret Olin William Pietz Alex Potts Donald Preziosi Lisbet Rausing Richard Shiff Terry Smith Kristine Stiles David Summers Paul Wood James E Young

Ludics Vassiliki Rapti, Eric Gordon, 2021-01-11 This book establishes play as a mode of humanistic inquiry with a profound effect on art culture and society Play is treated as a dynamic and relational modality where relationships of all kinds are forged and inquisitive interdisciplinary engagement is embraced Play cultivates reflection connection and creativity offering new epistemological directions for the humanities With examples from a range of disciplines including poetry history science religion and media this book treats play as an object of inquiry but also as a mode of inquiry The chapters each focusing on a specific cultural phenomenon do not simply put culture on display they put culture in play providing a playful lens through which to see the world The reader is encouraged to read the chapters in this book out of order allowing constructive collision between ideas moments in history and theoretical perspectives The act of reading this book like the project of the humanities itself should be emergent generative and playful
