Campus Medius: Digital

Mapping in Cultural and Media Studies Simon Ganahl, 2022-03-07 Campus Medius explores and expands the possibilities of digital cartography in cultural and media studies Simon Ganahl documents the development of the project from a historical case study to a mapping platform Based on the question of what a media experience is the concepts of the apparatus dispositif and the actor network are translated into a data model A time space of twenty four hours in Vienna in May 1933 marked by a so called Turks Deliverance Celebration T rkenbefreiungsfeier serves as an empirical laboratory This Austrofascist rally is mapped from multiple perspectives and woven into media historical networks spanning from the seventeenth century up to the present day

American Culture in the 1990s Colin Harrison, 2010-03-31 American Culture in the 1990s focuses on the dramatic cultural transformations of the last decade of the millennium Lodged between the fall of Communism and the outbreak of the War on Terror the 1990s was witness to America's expanding influence across the world but also a period of anxiety and social conflict National traumas such as the Los Angeles riots the Oklahoma City bombing and the impeachment of President Clinton lend an apocalyptic air to the decade but the book looks beyond this to a wider context to identify new voices emerging in the nation This is one of the first attempts to bring together developments taking place across a range of different fields from Microsoft to the Internet from black fiction to gangsta rap from abject art to new independent cinema and from postfeminism to posthumanism Students of American culture and general readers will find this a lively and illuminating introduction to a complex and immensely varied decade Key Features 3 case studies per chapter featuring key texts genres writers and artists Chronology of 1990s American Culture Bibliographies for each chapter 18 black and white illustrations

Waldie,Ed Ruscha,2016-07-12 The renowned artist Ed Ruscha was born in Nebraska grew up in Oklahoma and has lived and worked in Southern California since the late 1950s Beginning in 1956 road trips across the American Southwest furnished a conceptual trove of themes and motifs that he mined throughout his career The everyday landscapes of the West especially as experienced from the automobile gas stations billboards building facades parking lots and long stretches of roadway are the primary motifs of his often deadpan and instantly recognizable paintings and works on paper as well as his influential artist books such as Twentysix Gasoline Stations and All the Buildings on the Sunset Strip His iconic word images declaring Adios Rodeo Wheels over Indian Trails and Honey I Twisted through More Damn Traffic to Get Here further underscore a contemporary Western sensibility Ruscha s interest in what the real West has become and Hollywood s version of it plays out across his oeuvre The cinematic sources of his subject matter can be seen in his silhouette pictures which often appear to be grainy stills from old Hollywood movies They feature images of the contemporary West such as parking lots and swimming pools but also of its historical past covered wagons buffalo teepees and howling coyotes Featuring essays by Karin Breuer and D J Waldie plus a fascinating interview with the artist conducted by Kerry Broucher this stunning catalogue produced in close collaboration with the Ruscha studio offers the first full exploration of the painter s lifelong fascination with the romantic concept and modern reality of the evolving American West Published in association with the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco Exhibition dates de Young San Francisco July 16 October 9 2016 Snap to Grid Peter Lunenfeld,2001 A vibrant guide to the artistic cultural and social faces of the new media Possessed Stefan Andriopoulos,2008-09-15 Silent cinema and contemporaneous literature explored themes of mesmerism possession and the ominous agency of corporate bodies that subsumed individual identities At the same time critics accused film itself of exerting a hypnotic influence over spellbound audiences Stefan Andriopoulos shows that all this anxiety over being governed by an outside force was no marginal oddity but rather a pervasive concern in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Tracing this preoccupation through the period s films as well as its legal medical and literary texts Andriopoulos pays particular attention to the terrifying notion of murder committed against one s will He returns us to a time when medical researchers described the hypnotized subject as a medium who could be compelled to carry out violent crimes and when films like The Cabinet of Dr Caligari and Dr Mabuse the Gambler famously portrayed the hypnotist's seemingly unlimited power on the movie screen. Juxtaposing these medicolegal and cinematic scenarios with modernist fiction, Andriopoulos also develops an innovative reading of Kafka's novels which center on the merging of human and corporate bodies. Blending theoretical sophistication with scrupulous archival research and insightful film analysis, Possessed adds a new dimension to our understanding of today's anxieties about the onslaught of visual media and the expanding reach of vast corporations that seem to absorb our own identities.

The Cinema Alone Michael Temple, James S. Williams, 2000
This volume of essays constitutes a comprehensive and interdisciplinary engagement with Jean-Luc Godard's current film and video work. Its key focus is the eight-part magnum opus Histoire(s) du cinéma (1988-1998), an extraordinary experiment in film history that attempts to tell all the stories of cinema whilst remaining true to the specificity of what the cinema alone contributed to twentieth-century culture. The Cinema Alone features contributors from France, Britain, and America who discuss Godard's recent work both in the context of his earlier corpus and in relation to subjects such as literature, art history, philosophy, silent cinema, European culture, film theory, video, and digital technology. The collection will make an important contribution to critical debates on the past, present, and future of Film and Media Studies as cinema enters its second century.

A Companion to Fritz Lang Joe McElhaney, 2015-01-27
A Companion to Fritz Lang Fritz Lang's movie-making spans a major part of the history of cinema across genres, styles, and national contexts. With smartness and sharpness, the essays in this essential volume come from many angles to capture the richness of Lang's cinema and bring great insight to its study.

Dana Polan, Cinema Studies, NYU
Fritz Lang's influence on cinema cannot be overstated, with a career that stretched from the silent era in Germany to the decline of the Hollywood studio system in the late 1950s, from the Weimar Republic to Nazi Germany, from Depression America to the McCarthy era. One of the best-known migrants from Germany's school of Expressionism, Lang is also credited with influencing the emergence of film noir. A Companion to Fritz Lang offers the first full-scale collection of scholarship available in English on one of the most important filmmakers of all time. Addressing much of Lang's voluminous body of work, from Metropolis and M to lesser-known titles such as Western Union and Clash by Night, this volume offers a superb overview of Lang's cinema with revealing insights into his enduring influence on directors such as Godard, Scorsese, Chabrol, and Tarantino. The two dozen essays presented here are an unrivaled and up-to-the-minute assessment of the prolific and resilient life and vision of one of cinema's greatest auteurs.

Film, Art, New Media: Museum Without Walls? Angela Dalle Vacche, 2012-06-12
In the footsteps of André Bazin, this anthology of 15 original essays argues that the photographic origin of twentieth-century cinema is anti-anthropocentric. Well aware that the twentieth century stands out as the only period in history with its own photographic film record for posterity, Angela Dalle Vacche has convened international scholars at The Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute and asked them to rethink the history and theory of the cinema as a new model for the museum of the future By exploring the art historical tropes of face and landscape and key areas of film studies such as early cinema Soviet film theory documentary the avant garde and the newly born genre of the museum film this collection includes detailed discussions of installation art and close analyses of media relations which range from dance to painting to performance art Thanks to the title of Andre Malraux s famous project Film Art New Media Museum Without Walls invites readers to reflect on the museum of the future where twentieth century cinema will play a pivotal role by interrogating the relation between art and science technology and nature from the side of photography in dialogue with digitalization

TV by Design Lynn Spigel, 2008 From the Publisher While critics have long disparaged commercial television as a vast wasteland TV has surprising links to the urbane world of modern art that stretch back to the 1950s and 60s during that era the rapid rise of commercial television coincided with dynamic new movements in the visual arts a potent combination that precipitated a major shift in the way Americans experienced the world visually TV by Design uncovers this captivating story of how modernism and network television converged and intertwined in their mutual ascent during the decades of the cold war Whereas most histories of television focus on the way older forms of entertainment were recycled for the new medium Lynn Spigel shows how TV was instrumental in introducing the public to the latest trends in art and design Abstract expressionism pop art art cinema modern architecture and cutting edge graphic design were all mined for staging techniques scenic designs and an ever growing number of commercials As a result TV helped fuel the public craze for trendy modern products such as tailfin cars and boomerang coffee tables that was vital to the burgeoning postwar economy And along with influencing the look of television many artists including Eero Saarinen Ben Shahn Saul Bass William Golden and Richard Avedon also participated in its creation as the networks put them to work designing everything from their corporate headquarters to their company cufflinks Dizzy Gillespie Ernie Kovacs Duke Ellington and Andy Warhol all stop by in this imaginative and winning account of the ways in which art television and commerce merged in the first decades of the TV age
