Alberta Oil and the Decline of Democracy in Canada Meenal Shrivastava, Lorna Stefanick, 2015-10-01 In Democracy in Alberta The Theory and Practice of a Quasi Party System published in 1953 C B Macpherson explored the nature of democracy in a province that was dominated by a single class of producers At the time Macpherson was talking about Alberta farmers but today the province can still be seen as a one industry economy the 1947 discovery of oil in Leduc having inaugurated a new era For all practical purposes the oil rich jurisdiction of Alberta also remains a one party state Not only has there been little opposition to a government that has been in power for over forty years but Alberta ranks behind other provinces in terms of voter turnout while also boasting some of the lowest scores on a variety of social welfare indicators The contributors to Alberta Oil and the Decline of Democracy critically assess the political peculiarities of Alberta and the impact of the government's relationship to the oil industry on the lives of the province's most vulnerable citizens They also examine the public policy environment and the entrenchment of neoliberal political ideology in the province In probing the relationship between oil dependency and democracy in the context of an industrialized nation Alberta Oil and the Decline of Democracy offers a crucial test of the oil inhibits democracy thesis that has hitherto been advanced in relation to oil producing countries in the Global South If reliance on oil production appears to undermine democratic participation and governance in Alberta then what does the Alberta case suggest for the future of democracy in industrialized nations such as the United States and Australia which are now in the process of exploiting their own substantial shale oil reserves The environmental consequences of oil production have for example been the subject of much attention Little is likely to change however if citizens of oil rich countries cannot effectively intervene to influence government policy      Canadiana ,1991      Faking Death Penny Cousineau-Levine,2003 In Faking Death Penny Cousineau Levine examines the work of over 120 Canadian photographers revealing important aspects of Canadian identity and imagination Contrasting Canadian photography with American and European traditions she shows that Canadian photographers are often preoccupied with a place that is elsewhere a doubling and duality that also occurs in Canadian literature film and political life Subverting the documentary tradition and other stylistic idioms for their own distinctive ends Canadian photographers exhibit an ambivalent preoccupation with death and dying bondage and entrapment Cousineau Levine argues that this is characteristically a faked death that expresses a collective Canadian wish for a symbolic passage to national maturity The book includes 16 colour reproductions and 150 duotones by artists such as Raymonde April Jeff Wall Lynne Cohen Charles Gagnon Evergon Michel Lambeth Thaddeus Holownia Geoffrey James Genevi ve Cadieux Shelley Niro Diana Thorneycroft Jin me Yoon Ian Wallace and Ken Lum This work provides a visual introduction to one of Canada s most vibrant and internationally recognized artistic media      Twelve Modern Houses, 1945-1985 Graham Livesey,University of Calgary.
