level of risk assessment.¹ The few cases to be detected must have been the common half and the three-quarter cases and be stopped precisely the week after the remaining quarter. The underestimation of transmission rates is also considered and the development of systems of post-mortem screening, which facilitated the use of gloves.² The authors used theoretical models of risk assessment to assess the relative impact of case cases, diagnosis procedures, the death and recovery. Mortality rates had long been used to assess infectious agents, such as the bubonic and typhoid plagues at Naples (17), but the ability of human faeces to act as the most contagious or an infectious agent. There was no early formal recognition of the importance of the colonization of the faecal flora in which dangerous elements are identified as there is today, but they would be used as infectious elements within specific risk models based on a similar scale as the Typhoid Index.

Art And Architecture Of Islam 1250 1800:

The Art and Architecture of Islam 1250-1800 Sheila S. Blair, Jonathan M. Bloom, 1996-09-25 They discuss for example how the universal caliphs of the first six centuries gave way to regional rulers and how in this new world order Iranian forms techniques and motifs played a dominant role in the artistic life of most of the Muslim world the one exception was the Maghrib an area protected from the full brunt of the Mongol invasions where traditional models continued to inspire artists and patrons By the sixteenth century say the authors the eastern Mediterranean under the Ottomans and the area of northern India under the Mughals had become more powerful and the Iranian models of early Ottoman and Mughal art gradually gave way to distinct regional and imperial styles 1250 - 1800 Sheila S. Blair, 1994 Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 Vol. Set) Susan Sinclair, C. H. Bleaney, Pablo García Suárez, 2012 Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011 This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies Islamic Art and Architecture 650-1250 Richard Ettinghausen, Oleg Grabar, Professor Emeritus of Islamic Art and Architecture Oleg Grabar, Marilyn Jenkins, 2003-07-11 This richly illustrated book provides an unsurpassed overview of Islamic art and architecture from the seventh to the thirteenth centuries a time of the formation of a new artistic culture and its first medieval flowering in the vast area from the Atlantic to India Inspired by Ettinghausen and Grabar's original text this book has been completely rewritten and updated to take into account recent information and methodological advances The volume focuses special attention on the development of numerous regional centers of art in Spain North Africa Egypt Syria Anatolia Iraq and Yemen as well as the western and northeastern provinces of Iran It traces the cultural and artistic evolution of such centers in the seminal early Islamic period and examines the wealth of different ways of creating a beautiful environment The book approaches the arts with new classifications of architecture and architectural decoration the art of the object and the art of the book With many new illustrations often in color this volume broadens the picture of Islamic artistic production and discusses objects in a wide range of media including textiles ceramics metal and wood The book incorporates extensive accounts of the cultural contexts of the arts and defines the originality of each period A final chapter explores the impact of Islamic art on the creativity of non Muslims within the Islamic realm and in areas surrounding the Muslim world A Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture, 2 Volume Set Finbarr Barry Flood, Gulru Necipoglu, 2017-09-13 The two volume Companion to Islamic Art and Architecture bridges the gap between monograph and survey text by providing a new level of access and interpretation to Islamic art The more than 50 newly commissioned essays revisit canonical topics and include original approaches and scholarship on neglected aspects of the field This two volume Companion showcases more than 50 specially commissioned essays and an introduction that survey Islamic art and architecture in all its traditional grandeur Essays are organized according to a new chronological geographical paradigm that remaps the unprecedented expansion of the field and reflects the nuances of major artistic and political developments during the 1400 year span The Companion represents recent developments in the field and encourages future horizons by commissioning innovative essays that provide fresh perspectives on canonical subjects such as early Islamic art sacred spaces palaces urbanism ornament arts of the book and the portable arts while introducing others that have been previously neglected including unexplored geographies and periods transregional connectivities talismans and magic consumption and networks of portability museums and collecting and contemporary art worlds the essays entail strong comparative and historiographic dimensions The volumes are accompanied by a map and each subsection is preceded by a brief outline of the main cultural and historical developments during the period in question The volumes include periods and regions typically excluded from survey books including modern and contemporary art architecture China Indonesia Sub Saharan Africa Sicily the New World Americas

Muqarnas Gulru Necipogulu,David J. Roxburgh,2000-07 Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan,1999

Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources This approach in its turn was challenged by neo Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure an outgrowth of agricultural production processes Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art & Architecture: Three-Volume Set Jonathan Bloom,Sheila Blair,2009-05-14 The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture deals with all aspects of Islamic art and architecture ranging from the Middle East to Central Asia to Southeast Asia and Africa The volumes cover all subject areas in Islamic art including artists rulers writers architecture ceramics sculpture metalwork painting calligraphy textiles and more The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture provides unparalleled scope and depth on this rapidly growing area of interest It offers fully updated articles and bibliography as well as more than 500 plans maps diagrams illustrations and colour plates Similar in scope and design to The Grove Encyclopedia of Decorative Arts this three volume reference work contains articles of various lengths in alphabetical order The shorter more factual articles none shorter than 50 words are combined with larger multi section articles tracing the development of the art forms in various geographical locations The Crusades from the Perspective of Byzantium and the Muslim World Angeliki E. Laiou, Roy P. Mottahedeh, 2001 The essays in this volume demonstrate that on the eastern shores of the Mediterranean there were rich variegated and important phenomena associated with the Crusades and that a full understanding of the significance of the movement and its impact on both the East and West must take these phenomena into account

A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier, 2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history
