Doris Lessing Life Work And Criticism:

Doris Lessing Katherine Fishburn,1987 Doris Lessing Harold Bloom,2003 Essays of critical interpretation portray views of Doris Lessing s work including The Golden Notebook Marriages and The Grass is Singing A Study Guide for Doris Lessing's "A Mild Attack of Locusts" Gale, Cengage Learning, Free Woman Lara Feigel,2018-05-08 A genre defying memoir in which Lara Feigel experiments with sexual intellectual and political freedom while reading and pursuing Doris Lessing How might we live more freely and will we be happier or lonelier if we do Re reading The Golden Notebook in her thirties shortly after Doris Lessing s death Lara Feigel discovered that Lessing spoke directly to her as a woman a writer and a mother in a way that no other novelist had done At a time when she was dissatisfied with the conventions of her own life Feigel was enticed by Lessing s vision of freedom Free Woman is essential reading for anyone whose life has been changed by books or has questioned the structures by which they live Feigel tells Lessing s own story veering between admiration and fury at the choices Lessing made At the same time she scrutinises motherhood marriage and sexual relationships with an unusually acute gaze And in the process she conducts a dazzling investigation into the joys and costs of sexual psychological intellectual and political freedom This is a genre defying book at once a meditation on life and literature and a daring act of self exposure Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Encyclopedia of the British Novel Virginia Brackett,Victoria Gaydosik,2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition comprehensive Recommended Doris Lessing and the Forming of History Kevin Brazil,2016-09-20 The death of Nobel Prize winning Doris Lessing sparked a range of commemorations that cemented her place as one of the major figures of twentieth and twenty first century world literature This volume views Lessing s writing as a whole and in retrospect focusing on her innovative attempts to rework literary form to engage with the challenges thrown up by the sweeping historical changes through which she lived The 12 original chapters provide new readings of Lessing s work via contexts ranging from post war youth politics and radical women s writing to European cinema analyse her experiments with genres from realism to autobiography and science fiction and draw on previously unstudied archive material The volume also explores how Lessing s writing can provide insight into some of the issues now shaping twenty first century scholarship including trauma ecocriticism the post human and world literature as they emerge as defining challenges to our own present moment in history The International Fiction Review ,1993 The Progress of Indolence Camille R. La Bossière,1997 Loving Arms Karen Schneider,2021-09-15 Loving Arms examines the war related writings of five British women whose works explore the connections among gender war and story telling

While not the first study to relate the subjects of gender and war it is the first within a growing body of criticism to focus specifically on British culture during and after World War II Evoking the famous St Crispin s Day speech from Henry V and then her own father s account of being moved to tears on V J Day because he had been too young to fight Karen Schneider posits that the war story has a far reaching potency She admits perhaps for all of us that such stories had powerfully shaped my consciousness in ways I could not completely resist How a story is narrated and by whom are matters of no small importance As widely defined and accepted war stories are men s stories If we are to hear an other story of war then we must listen to the stories women tell Many of the war stories written by women insist that war is not the condition of men but rather the condition of humanity beginning with relations between the sexes For the five women whose work is examined in Loving Arms Stevie Smith Katharine Burdekin Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen and Doris Lessing this latter point was particularly relevant Their positions as women within a patriarchal militarist culture that was externally threatened by an overtly fascist one led to an acute ambivalence says Schneider Though all five women perceived the war from substantially different perspectives each in her own way exposed and critiqued the seductive power of war and war stories with their densely interwoven tropes of masculinity and nationalism Yet these writers conflicting impulses of loyalty to England and resistance to the war betray their ambivalence Loving Arms will interest students of twentieth century British literature and culture gender studies and narratology Even today we maintain an unabated love affair with the war story But unless we listen to what the women had to say fifty years ago we are doomed to hear only the same old story

Critical Survey of Long Fiction: Oscar Hijuelos-Patrick McGinley, 2000

Modern British Women Writers Vicki K. Janik, Del Ivan Janik, 2002-11-30 The 20th century witnessed several major cultural movements including modernism anti modernism and postmodernism These and other means of understanding and perceiving the world shaped the literature of that era and with the rise of feminism resulted in a particularly rich body of literature by women writers This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries on 58 British women writers of the 20th century Some of these writers were born in England while others such as Katherine Mansfield and Doris Lessing came from countries of the former Empire or Commonwealth The volume also includes entries for women of color such as Kamala Markandaya and Buchi Emecheta Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes an overview of the writer s background an analysis of her works an assessment of her achievements and lists of primary and secondary sources The volume closes with a selected general bibliography

Culture and Literature Tawhida Akhter, 2022-01-25 During the last few decades there has been remarkable progress in research on various aspects of cross cultural relationships Different fields have been explored and there are still so many fields yet to be explored We often talk about how one culture has affected another this book serves to draw parallels between different cultures It explores how culture plays an important role in the development of personality It further examines how behavior has both a positive and a negative effect in the development of personality and interrogates how literature portrays the reality of a culture through its fictitious characters Herman Melville, Romantic and Prophet Christopher S. Durer, 1996

Doris Lessing Alice Ridout, Susan Watkins, 2009-08-13 Despite winning the Nobel Prize for Literature Doris Lessing has received relatively little critical attention One of the reasons for this is that Lessing has spent much of her lifetime and her long published writing career crossing both national and ideological borders This essay collection reflects and explores the incredible variety of Lessing's border crossings and positions her writing in its various social and cultural contexts Lessing crosses literal national borders in her life and work but more controversial have been her crossings of genre borders into sci fi and space fiction and her crossing of ideological borders such as moving into and out of the Communist Party and from a colonial into a post colonial world This timely collection also considers a number of the most interesting recent critical and theoretical approaches to Lessing's writing including work on maternity and abjection in relation to The Fifth Child and The Grass is Singing eco criticism in Lessing's Ifrakan novels and postcolonial re writings of landscape in her African Stories
