A Book of Memories William H. Hildebrand, Dean H. Keller, Anita Dixon Herington, 1993 An oversized 9 25x12 25 photographic narrative that combines historical overviews of higher education trends political climates and social and cultural movements with anecdotal reminiscences of campus life Hundreds of mostly b w captioned photographs selected from the University Archives enh      Invisible Stars Donna Halper, 2015-02-11 Invisible Stars was the first book to recognize that women have always played an important part in American electronic media The emphasis is on social history as the author skillfully explains how the changing role of women in different eras influenced their participation in broadcasting This is not just the story of radio stars or broadcast journalists but a social history of women both on and off the air Beginning in the early 1920s with the emergence of radio the book chronicles the ambivalence toward women in broadcasting during the 1930s and 1940s the gradual change in status of women in the 1950s and 1960s the increased presence of women in broadcasting in the 1970s and the successes of women in broadcasting in the 1980s and 1990s The second edition is expanded to include the social and political changes that occurred in the 2000s such as the growing number of women talk show hosts changing attitudes about women in leadership roles in business more about minority women in media and women in sports and women sports announcers The author addresses the question of whether women are in fact no longer invisible in electronic media She provides an assessment of where progress for women in society as well as broadcasting can be seen and where progress appears totally stalled      Do I Dare Disturb the Universe? Charlise Lyles, 2008 Describes the author s childhood education in the Cleveland projects in the 1960s and 1970s where she learned to appreciate literature at a young age despite growing up amid race riots and murder      Dorothy Fuldheim Patricia M. Mote, 1997      Cleveland TV Tales Mike Olszewski, Janice Olszewski, 2014 These 57 short stories are an entertaining introduction to the history of Cleveland Ohio for natives or newcomers They highlight exceptional people and notable events from log cabin days to the mighty industrial era and cover subjects from sports to fashion to crime For any Clevelander who wants to know a little more about the old hometown      In Our Own Words Robert G. Torricelli, Andrew Carroll, 2000-10 Presents a collection of oratory including sermons speeches courtroom arguments radio broadcasts eulogies and commencement addresses      Predicting the Winner Ira Chinoy, 2024-05 Winner of the Ray Hiebert History of Journalism Published Work Award The history of American elections changed profoundly on the night of November 4 1952 An outside the box approach to predicting winners from early returns with new tools computers was launched live and untested on the newest medium for news television Like exhibits in a freak show computers were referred to as electronic brains and mechanical monsters Yet this innovation would help fuel an obsession with numbers as a way of understanding and shaping politics It would engender controversy down to our own time And it would herald a future in which the public square would go digital The gamble was fueled by a crisis of credibility stemming from faulty election night forecasts four years earlier in 1948 combined with a lackluster presentation of returns What transpired in 1952 is a complex tale of responses to innovation which Ira Chinoy makes understandable via a surprising history of election nights as venues for rolling out new technologies refining methods of prediction and providing opportunities for news organizations to shine In Predicting the Winner Chinoy tells in detail for the first time the story of the 1952 election night a night with continuing implications for the way forward from the dramatic events of 2020 21 and for future election nights in the United States

Punched, Kicked, Spat On, and Sometimes Thanked Paul Orlousky, 2020-11-09 I was a TV news reporter for almost fifty years most of them in Cleveland specializing in investigative reports During that time I saw a lot of things Historic events Horrific crimes Bizarre behavior Heartwarming deeds And sometimes just hilarious silly stuff That's Paul Orlousky After five decades on Cleveland TV nightly on channels 3 5 and 19 this veteran newsman has a lot of stories to share What went on behind the camera Racing to the scene in a tiny helicopter or crouching inside a sweltering news van on a stakeout What he heard in a judge's chambers or a courtroom lobby after a tense trial How the internal workings of a news operation shaped the reporting viewers saw onscreen Threats from angry subjects of an investigation like shady business owners politicians and sometimes even cops Yes over the years Orlousky got a lot of threats and more He was yelled at punched kicked spat on menaced by dogs But he was also thanked many more times by regular people all over Northeast Ohio for digging into stories that mattered to them Now Orlousky shares his favorite behind the camera tales in these short candid informative and often funny stories My approach to life is simple Orlousky writes You can look at it either as a tragedy or a comedy I chose comedy in part because that was a way to get through many of the tragic situations I reported on and that people I encountered were forced to deal with If you've ever watched local TV news you'll enjoy these backstories behind the news stories You'll get a few chuckles and might even wind up a better informed news consumer

Intergenerational Conflict and Authentic Youth Experience Barney Langford, 2024-04-01 This book explores how the youth experience viscerally felt and deeply ingrained at a time of substantial physical psychological and emotional changes serves to authenticate that youth experience to the exclusion of that of ensuing youth generations Using Cohen s concept of moral panic to frame the intergenerational conflict notions of generational exclusivity and authenticity are explored through Bourdieu s concept of habitus how each generation privileges its own youth experience as the standard by which other youth generations can be judged Shared authenticated generational understandings act as the benchmark by which ensuing youth generations can be assessed and found wanting Intergenerational conflict has been brought into sharp focus by the emergence of the Millennial generation digital natives with their obsession with digital technology and particularly mobile phones The book will be of interest for the field of youth studies in general particularly upper level undergraduate youth studies courses and postgrads and social scientists In addition it will be of interest for scholars interested in the work of Pierre Bourdieu and Stanley Cohen and subject areas intergenerational conflict social change popular culture music media and cultural studies and social theory
