Dostoevsky Kierkegaard Nietzsche And Kafka:

Dostoevsky, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche & Kafka William Hubben, 1997-05-13 How four of Europe's most mysterious and fascinating writers shaped the modern mind Dostoevsky Kierkegaard Nietzsche and Kafka were all outsiders in their societies unable to fit into the accepted nineteenth century categories of theology philosophy or belles lettres Instead they saw themselves both as the end products of a dying civilization and as prophets of the coming chaos of the twentieth century In this brilliant combination of biography and lucid exposition their apocalyptic visions of the future are woven together into a provocative portrait of modernity This small book has a depth of insight and a comprehensiveness of treatment beyond what its modesty of size and tone indicates William Hubben sees the spiritual destiny of Europe as one of transcending these masters But to be transcended their message must first be absorbed and that is why the study of them is so important to us now William Barrett The New York Times

Dostoevsky, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, and Kafka William Hubben, 1962 Four Prophets of Our Destiny William Hubben, 1952 Donated by Sydney Harris Dostoevsky, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, and Kafka William Hubben, 1962

Dostoevsky, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, and Kafka, 1964 Information Theory, Towards a History of Consciousness Vwadek P. Marciniak, 2006 Towards a History of Consciousness Space Time and Death offers a cogent and compelling discussion of the neglected topic of the history of consciousness An analysis of our postmodern ontology reveals deep but neglected roots What are those roots and how did they grow Is there a self without consciousness What is the relation of the self to the individual Does the recognition of death contribute to the growth of consciousness As a survey of western history this work pushes the boundaries of the understanding of consciousness in intriguing and sometimes provocative directions This integrative study is intended for the serious curious student and thinker Sin and Redemption Harold Bloom, Blake Hobby, 2010 The allied themes of sin and redemption are at the heart of many classics of religious literature and even secular writers feel compelled to explore the role of sin and redemption in such works as King Lear Moby Dick Paradise Lost The Portrait of a Lady The Waste Land and many more works Featuring original essays and excerpts from previously published critical analyses this addition to the Bloom's Literary Themes series gives students valuable insight into the title's subject theme The Poetics of Grace: Christian Ethics as Theodicy Jeph Holloway, 2013-04-09 What is God doing about a world marked by conflict and division What about a world in which our technologies promise great good but also threaten our existence What is God doing in a world where the demands for accumulation and acquisition create division and despair Can Christians hope to be of positive influence in a world that does not always support reflect or even understand Christian commitments Christian ethics often raises such questions as these and the possible answers vary widely Paul's Letter to the Ephesians is a tremendous resource for exploring a faithful response to perhaps the toughest question of all what is God doing about evil The role of Christian ethics is to take seriously the challenge that whatever God is doing God calls us to participate in a distinctive task that embraces our own commitments and labors within the divine purpose Ephesians says that God has taken the initiative to pursue that purpose and remarkably offers that we ourselves are part of the answer to the question what is God doing about evil

Folks, 2014-01-10 Conservative strands in American literature are often overlooked in university courses This book focuses on the works of conservative American writers and of others who have written of America from a conservative perspective Beginning with the work of Edgar Allan Poe the book explores the traditionalist temper in books by Vachel Lindsay James Agee Flannery O Connor V S Naipaul and Kent Haruf Drawing on the theories of Lewis P Simpson Leszek Kolakowski Roger Scruton and Gertrude Himmelfarb among others this text offers a fresh examination of a significant aspect of American literature Murder and Masculinity Rebecca E. Biron, 2000 Rebecca Biron breaks new ground in this study of masculinity violence and the strategic construction of collective political identities in twentieth century Latin American fiction By engaging current sociological psychoanalytic and feminist theories Murder and Masculinity analyzes the cliché of proving virility through violence against women Biron develops her argument through close readings of five works Jorge Luis Borges's La intrusa Armonía Somer's El despojo Clarice Lispector's A Maca no Escuro Manuel Puig's The Buenos Aires Affair and Reinaldo Arenas's El Asalto Although men murdering women is often interpreted as nothing more than machista misogyny Biron argues that the five narratives addressed in this book show that healed masculinities are essential to the achievement of cultural identity and political autonomy in Latin America The introduction to this study deftly situates Biron's work in relation to previous theoretical arguments on the social and political dimensions of Latin American writing The five subsequent chapters offer superb analyses of the individual texts Like their male protagonists who experiment with the psychological and legal extremes of gender division these narratives risk nonconformity to the laws of genre in their quest for liberation from violent social and literary conventions In combining elements of detective stories crime narratives psychological case studies and magical or grotesque realism they offer metafictional commentary on a network of discourses that confuses images of masculinity national identity and political autonomy in postcolonial Latin America Fragments Pedro Blas Gonzalez, 2005 Eschewing hair splitting for the sport of it Gonzalez takes a fresh look at the notion of subjectivity and the nature of the self in seven essays With reference to Camus Cocteau Gabriel Marcel Ortega and Enrique Anderson Imbert he explores diverse topics from the aesthetic vision and moral courage to the absurd His nuanced and sensitive writing draws the reader on an introspective journey through a portal that subtly shifts the perception of human reality
