Jones, 1990-06-29 Malcolm Jones the author of an earlier widely read book on Dostoyevsky here approaches his subject afresh in the light of recent developments in Dostoyevsky studies and in critical theory He takes as his starting point the vexed question of Dostoyevsky s fantastic realism which he attempts to redefine Accepting Bakhtin s reading of Dostoyevsky in its essentials he seeks out its weaknesses and develops it in new directions Taking well known texts by Dostoyevsky in turn Professor Jones illustrates aspects of their multivoicedness In Part 1 he concentrates on the internal emotional and intellectual reversals of the underground In Part 2 he focuses on the disruptive and subversive aspects of the relationships between characters and between text and reader In Part 3 he examines textual multivoicedness in its diachronic aspect showing some of the ways in which Dostoyevsky s texts echo and exploit the voices of precursors

The Cambridge Companion to Dostoevskii William J. Leatherbarrow, 2002-07-18 Key dimensions of Dostoevskii s writing and life are explored in this collection of specially commissioned essays Contributors examines topics such as Dostoevskii s relation to folk literature money religion the family and science The essays are well supported by supplementary material including a chronology of the period and detailed guides to further reading Altogether the volume provides an invaluable resource for scholars and students

What the God-seekers Found in Nietzsche Nel Grillaert, 2008 At the end of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth century a large and varied group of the Russian intelligentsia became fascinated by Friedrich Nietzsche whose provocative ideas inspired many of them to overcome obsolete traditions and to create new values Paradoxically the German philosopher who vigorously challenged the established Christian worldview invigorated the rich ferment of religious philosophy in the Russian Silver Age his ideas served as a fruitful source of inspiration for the philosophers of the Russian religious renaissance the so called God seekers in their quest for a new religious consciousness Especially Nietzsche s anthropology of the bermensch was instrumental in their reformulation of Christianity This book explores how three pivotal figures in the Russian religious reception of Nietzsche i e Vladimir Solov v Dmitrii Merezhkovskii and Nikolai Berdiaev engaged in a vacillating yet highly prolific debate with Nietzsche and how each of them appropriated his anthropology of the bermensch in their religious philosophy In order to explain Merezhkovskii's and Berdiaev's assessment of Nietzsche the author highlights the significance of Dostoevskii only by reading Nietzsche through the prism of Dostoevskii could both God seekers pin down the religious ramifications of Nietzsche's thought This book will be of interest to anyone fascinated by Nietzsche Dostoevskii Russian religious philosophy Russian history of ideas and reception studies Reference Guide to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-12-02 First Published in 1998 This volume will surely be regarded as the standard guide to Russian literature for some considerable time to come It is therefore confidently recommended for addition to reference libraries be they academic or public A Devil's Vaudeville William J. Leatherbarrow, 2005-05-24 A study of the demonic markers that run throughout Dostoevsky's fiction this also explores the narrative and generic implications of the way Dostoevsky inscribed the demonic in his fictional works implications that point to a new understanding of familiar concepts in the work of this Russian master European Gothic Avril Horner, 2017-06-01 The only collection to concentrate on the European Gothic writing in English French German Russian and Spanish Charts the rich process of cross fertilisation especially regarding Anglo French exchanges in the development of the Gothic novel Emphasises the importance of the impact of translation on the development of the Gothic novel Uses a variety of critical perspectives to reassess the work of authors such as Clara Reeve Sophia Lee Charlotte Smith Ann Radcliffe Matthew Lewis Charles Maturin Coleridge Mary Shelley Jan Potocki Balzac Dostoevsky Gaston Leroux and Djuna Barnes Offers a fresh way of thinking about Gothic lineages and histories Narrative, Space and Gender in Russian Fiction: 1846-1903 Joe Andrew, 2007-01-01 The present volume has as its primary aim readings from a feminist perspective of a number of works from Russian literature published over the period in which the woman question rose to the fore and reached its peak All the works considered here were produced in or hark back to a fairly narrowly defined period of not quite 20 years 1846-1864 in which issues of gender of male and female roles were discussed much more keenly than in perhaps any other period in Russian literature The overall project is summed up by the three key words of this book's title narrative space and gender and especially the interconnections between them That is what do the way these stories were told tell us about gender identities in mid nineteenth century Russia Which spaces were central to these fictional worlds Which spaces suggested which gender identities The discussions therefore focus on issues of narrative and space and how they acted as technologies of gender This volume will be of interest to all interested in nineteenth century Russian literature as well as students of gender and of the semiotics of narrative space The Grand Inquisitor Fyodor Dostoyevsky, Charles B. Guignon, 1993-01-01 This new edition presents The Grand Inquisitor together with the preceding chapter Rebellion and the extended reply offered by Dostoevsky in the following sections entitled The Russian Monk By showing how Dostoevsky frames the Grand Inquisitor story in the wider context of the novel this edition captures the subtlety and power of Dostoevsky's critique of modernity as well as his alternative vision of human fulfillment Dostoevsky's Conception of Man Peter

McGuire Wolf,1997-10 Dostoevsky s novels have contributed to a conception of man that reverberates in the conclusions of prominent twentieth century philosophical anthropologists Max Scheler Martin Heidegger Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty and Albert Camus among others have admitted that the works of Dostoevsky had an influence on the manner in which they learned to conceive of human nature and the world in which humans live Our aim in this dissertation is to ask what is there in the novels of Dostoevsky concerning the nature of man of which certain philosophers could claim that in their philosophical conceptions of man they were positively influenced by him The main thesis is substantiated with a careful analysis of four novels Notes From the House of the Dead Zapiski iz mertvogo doma Notes From the Underground Zapiski iz podpol ia Crime and Punishment Prestuplenie i nakazanie and The Brothers Karamazov Brat ia Karamazovy These novels were chosen partly because I have come to the conclusion that these novels more than others concretely show in what sense the leading characters appear to have made themselves be what they had freely chosen to be under the circumstances in which they had to live and that they were fully aware of the responsibility they had to bear for the implications and consequences of what they had thus decided Based upon a close reading four interpretive chapters employ the most significant criticism from English Russian and French literary scholarship Dostoevsky s philosophical conception of man is compared and contrasted with the conception that Scheler and Heidegger hold i e that freedom is man s essence Sartre s atheistic humanism and Camus thought The following conclusions are consonant with Dostoevsky s work freedom is constitutive for the being or the mode of being essence of man it is an inalienable duty one must become oneself Man strives to overcome himself and to exceed his freedom but in so doing invariably loses it Man exceeds himself only in the sense that he realizes an ideal human possibility The Dostoevskian man reveals not only the absence of human nature but also the enormous power which man possesses for achieving his ideal human possibility Writing Fear Katherine

Bowers,2022-03-01 In Russia gothic fiction is often seen as an aside a literary curiosity that experienced a brief heyday and then disappeared In fact its legacy is much more enduring persisting within later Russian literary movements Writing Fear explores Russian literature s engagement with the gothic by analysing the practices of borrowing and adaptation Katherine Bowers shows how these practices shaped literary realism from its romantic beginnings through the big novels of the 1860s and 1870s to its transformation during the modernist period Bowers traces the development of gothic realism with an emphasis on the affective power of fear She then investigates the hybrid genre s function in a series of case studies focused on literary texts that address social and political issues such as urban life the woman question revolutionary terrorism and the decline of the family By mapping the myriad ways political and cultural anxiety take shape via the gothic mode in the age of realism Writing Fear challenges the conventional literary history of nineteenth century Russia Freedom and Responsibility in Russian Literature Elizabeth Cheresh Allen,Gary Saul Morson,1995 Robert Louis Jackson has long been recognized on both sides of the Atlantic as one of the foremost Dostoevsky scholars in the world Freedom and Responsibility in Russian Literature collects twenty essays by distinguished scholars many former students of Jackson's and admiring colleagues on some of the foremost questions in Russian studies Whatever the specific topic these essays manifest a determination to exercise the critical independence and integrity exemplified by Jackson throughout his long career The Novel in the Age of Disintegration Kate Holland, 2013-10-31 Scholars have long been fascinated by the creative struggles with genre manifested throughout Dostoevsky's career In The Novel in the Age of Disintegration Kate Holland brings historical context to bear showing that Dostoevsky wanted to use the form of the novel as a means of depicting disintegration brought on by various crises in Russian society in the 1860s This required him to reinvent the genre At the same time he sought to infuse his novels with the capacity to inspire belief in social and spiritual reintegration so he returned to some older conventions of a society that was already becoming outmoded In thoughtful readings of Demons The Adolescent A Writer's Diary and The Brothers Karamazov Holland delineates Dostoevsky's struggle to adapt a genre to the reality of the present with all its upheavals while maintaining a utopian vision of Russia's future mission Harold Pinter's The Dumb Waiter Mary F. Brewer, 2009 This collection of essays focuses on one of Harold Pinter's most popular and challenging plays The Dumb Waiter while addressing also a range of significant issues current in Pinter studies and which are applicable beyond this play The interesting and provocative dialogues between established and emerging scholars featured here provide close readings of The Dumb Waiter within relevant cultural and historical contexts and from a range of theoretical perspectives The essays range over issues of autobiography and theater genre studies and the impact of Pinter's political activism on his dramatic production among others The collection is also concerned with the meaning of the play when assessed against other examples of Pinter's work both dramatic and non-dramatic writing Each contributor shows a gift for presenting a complex argument in an accessible style making this book an important resource for a wide range of readers from undergraduates to postgraduates and specialist researchers The collection offers essays that approach The Dumb Waiter from an interdisciplinary perspective and as both a literary and dramatic text Thus the book should be of equal significance to those encountering Pinter within the context of English Studies drama and performance The Dialogics of Critique Michael Gardiner, 2002-03-11 As interest in the work of Bakhtin grows there is an increasing demand for a well organized readable text which explains his main ideas and relates them to current social and cultural theory This book is designed to supply this demand Elegantly written with the needs of the student coming to Bakhtin for the first time in mind it provides the essential guide to this important and neglected thinker How Are the Mighty Fallen? Barbara Green, 2003-06-01 This book marries the several elements a given text 1 Samuel a focal character King Saul a spacious and creative theorist Mikhail Bakhtin a historical context the collapse of monarchic Israel and the moment for return The dilemma for the exile community is to return with royal leadership or without it a reading challenge is can a character be a cipher for a corporate experience Saul represent the whole monarchic experience The author argues that the narrative of 1

Samuel may be read as a riddle propounding the complex story of Israel Judah's experience with kings as an instruction for those pondering leadership choices in the sixth century. The work is an extended reflection on what went wrong with kings and why new leadership must be attempted. The extended riddle of Saul works to show how the life of the king is fundamentally destructive not because any is malicious but because of many factors of weakness and inadequacy that will be familiar to readers.

Crime and Punishment Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 2017 Crime and Punishment is the story of a murder committed on principle of a killer who wishes to set himself outside and above society. It is marked by Dostoevsky's own harrowing experience and yet there are moments of wild humour. This authoritative translation comes with a challenging new introduction and helpful annotation.

In This Fragile World Ustadh Mahmoud Mau, 2023-02-06 The present volume is a pioneering collection of poetry by the outstanding Kenyan poet intellectual and imam Ustadh Mahmmoud Mau born 1952 from Lamu island once an Indian Ocean hub now on the edge of the nation state. By means of poetry in Arabic script the poet raises his voice against social ills and injustices troubling his community on Lamu. The book situates Mahmoud Mau's oeuvre within transoceanic exchanges of thoughts so characteristic of the Swahili coast. It shows how Swahili Indian Ocean intellectual history inhabits an individual biography and writings. Moreover it also portrays a unique African Muslim thinker and his poetry in the local language which has so often been neglected as major site for critical discourse in Islamic Africa. The selected poetry is clustered around the following themes: jamii societal topical issues, ilimu the importance of education, huruma social roles and responsibilities, matukio biographical events and maombi supplications. Prefaced by Rayya Timamy Nairobi University the volume includes contributions by Jasmin Mahazi Kai Kresse and Kadara Swaleh Annachiara Raia and Clarissa Vierke. The authors' approaches highlight the relevance of local epistemologies as archives for understanding the relationship between reform Islam and local communities in contemporary Africa.

The absurd in literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-07-19 Neil Cornwell's study while endeavouring to present an historical survey of absurdist literature and its forbears does not aspire to being an exhaustive history of absurdism. Rather it pauses on certain historical moments, artistic movements, literary figures and selected works before moving on to discuss four key writers: Daniil Kharms, Franz Kafka, Samuel Beckett and Flann O'Brien. The absurd in literature will be of compelling interest to a considerable range of students of comparative European including Russian and Central European and English literatures, British Isles and American as well as those more concerned with theatre studies, the avant garde and the history of ideas including humour theory. It should also have a wide appeal to the enthusiastic general reader.

Facets of Russian Irrationalism between Art and Life, 2016-04-08 Russia is an enigmatic mysterious country situated between East and West not only spatially but also mentally. Or so it is traditionally perceived in Western Europe and the Anglophone world at large. One of the distinctive features of Russian culture is its irrationalism which revealed itself diversely in Russian life and thought, literature, music and visual arts and has survived to the present day. Bridging the gap in existing scholarship the current volume is an attempt at an integral and multifaceted approach to this phenomenon and launches the study of Russian irrationalism in philosophy theology literature and the arts of the last two hundred years together with its reflections in Russian reality Contributors Tatiana Chumakova David Gillespie Arkadii Goldenberg Kira Gordovich Rainer Gr bel Elizabeth Harrison Jeremy Howard Aleksandr Ivashkin Elena Kabkova Sergei Kibal nik Oleg Kovalov Alexander McCabe Barbara Olaszek Oliver Ready Oliver Smith Margarita Odessaia Ildik M ria R cz Lyudmila Safronova Marilyn Schwinn Smith Henrieke Stahl Olga Stukalova Olga Tabachnikova Christopher John Tooke and Natalia Vinokurova
