Double Sacrifice:

Sacrifice in the Post-Kantian Tradition Paolo Diego Bubbio, 2014-07-07 An examination of the philosophical notion of sacrifice from Kant to Nietzsche In this book Paolo Diego Bubbio offers an alternative to standard philosophical accounts of the notion of sacrifice which generally begin with the hermeneutic and postmodern traditions of the twentieth century starting instead with the post Kantian tradition of the nineteenth century He restructures the historical development of the concept of sacrifice through a study of Kant Solger Hegel Kierkegaard and Nietzsche and shows how each is indebted to Kant and has more in common with him than is generally acknowledged Bubbio argues that although Kant sought to free philosophical thought from religious foundations he did not thereby render the role of religious claims philosophically useless This makes it possible to consider sacrifice as a regulative and symbolic notion and leads to an unorthodox idea of sacrifice not the destruction of something for the sake of something else but rather a kenotic emptying conceived as a withdrawal or a making room for others

Inka Human Sacrifice and Mountain Worship Thomas Besom, 2013-04-15 The Inka empire was the largest pre Columbian polity in the New World Its vast expanse its ethnic diversity and the fact that the empire may have been consolidated in less than a century have prompted much scholarly interest in its creation In this study Besom explores the ritual practices of human sacrifice and the worship of mountains attested in both archaeological investigations and ethnohistorical sources as tools in the establishment and preservation of political power Besom examines the relationship between symbols ideology ritual and power to demonstrate how the Cuzque os could have used rituals to manipulate common Andean symbols to uphold their authority over subjugated peoples He considers ethnohistoric accounts of the categories of human sacrifice to gain insights into related rituals and motives and reviews the ethnohistoric evidence of mountain worship to predict locations as well as motives He also analyzes specific archaeological sites and assemblages theorizing that they were the locations of sacrifices designed to assimilate subject peoples bind conquered lands to the state and or justify the extraction of local resources

The Science of Sacrifice Susan L. Mizruchi, 1998-05-04 From ritual killings to subtle acts of self denial the practice and rhetoric of sacrifice has a special centrality in modern American literature In a compelling interdisciplinary investigation Susan Mizruchi portrays an episode in American cultural history when the literary movement of realism and the fledgling field of sociology both converged in the belief that sacrifice is basic to sociality This is a book about the fascination that sacrifice held for writers principally Herman Melville Henry James and W E B Du Bois and also for those who articulated the main tenets of modern social theory an inquiry that eventually spans historical events such as public lynchings and the political scapegoating of immigrants a century ago The execution in Billy Budd Sailor the death of Du Bois s first born son in The Souls of Black Folk Henry James s preoccupation with renunciation and scapegoating and the self denying working classes of Norris and Stein all illustrate repeated stagings of sacrificial rituals from a Biblical past For Mizruchi the peculiar persistence of this aesthetic construct becomes a guide to a rich theological and social scientific tradition distinctive to the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and including such influential works as Smith s Lectures on the Religion of the Semites Frazer s Golden Bough and Ross s Sin and Society The major features of sacrifice its original association with spiritual doubt its function as a form of spiritual economics that sustained divisions between the fortunate and the bereft and its role in fixing boundaries between aliens and kin held strong symbolic value for writers struggling to reconcile faith with rationalism and communal coherence with capitalist expansion Mizruchi eloquently demonstrates how the conceptual power of sacrifice made it a key mediator of cultural change from the decline of sympathy and the significance of race in an emerging multicultural society to the revival of maternal self sacrifice Rethinking Abelard Babette S.
