Double Take A Comparative Look At Photographs:

Double Take Richard Whelan, 1981 Seventy pairs of photographs ranging in date from the earliest days of the medium to the present document instances where by direct influence or pure coincidence two photographers were drawn to identical or very similar subjects Though alike in content the photographs within the pairs are strikingly different unique in their formal and technical details and in the varying perceptions they describe Cover flap The Black Image in the New Deal Nicholas Natanson, 1992 Between 1935 and 1942 photographers for the New Deal's Resettlement Administration Farm Security Administration FSA captured in powerfully moving images the travail of the Great Depression and the ways of a people confronting radical social change Those who speak of the special achievement of FSA photography usually have in mind such white icons as Dorothea Lange's Migrant Mother or Walker Evans's Alabama sharecroppers But some six thousand printed images a tenth of FSA's total included black figures or their dwellings At last Nicholas Natanson reveals both the innovative treatment of African Americans in FSA photographs and the agency's highly problematic use of these images once they had been created While mono dimensional treatments of blacks were common in public and private photography of the period such FSA photographers as Ben Shahn Arthur Rothstein and Jack Delano were well informed concerning racial problems and approached blacks in a manner that avoided stereotypes right wing as well as left wing In addition rather than focusing exclusively on FSA approved agency projects involving blacks politically the safest course they boldly addressed wider social and cultural themes This study employs a variety of methodological tools to explore the political and administrative forces that worked against documentary coverage of particularly sensitive racial issues Moreover Natanson shows that those who drew on the FSA photo files for newspapers magazines books and exhibitions often entirely omitted images of black people and their environment or used devices such as cropping and captioning to diminish the true range of the FSA photographers vision Ben Shahn: An Artist's Life Howard Greenfeld, 2019-08-10 Ben Shahn was born in Lithuania in 1898 and emigrated to New York with his family in 1906 Trained as a lithographer Shahn created social realist paintings of controversial subjects such as Sacco and Vanzetti He worked as an assistant to Diego Rivera on Rivera's Rockefeller Center mural and later created his own public murals in Washington New York and New Jersey In 1935 Walker Evans invited him to join the New Deal's Farm Security Administration As a photographer Shahn documented the Depression in the American South with Evans and Dorothea Lange During the war years he worked for the Office of War Information OWI producing propaganda posters before returning to painting Toward the end of his life he worked as a commercial artist taught and wrote about art including The Biography of a Painting 1956 and The Shape of Content 1960 Howard Greenfeld's biography is the first complete life of the artist and is illustrated with 90 of his photographs pictures and paintings Howard Greenfeld's approach scrupulously balances the personal and the political to provide a rounded portrait gives a convincing sense of a determined individual making his mark as an immigrant in the turbulent America of depression and war social upheaval and reaction David Cohen

The New York Times Picturing the Past Bonnie Brennen, Hanno Hardt, 1999 Explores the relations between photo journalism and history investigating how photographs shape both what we remember and how we remember This book provides insight into how photographs generate a sense of national community and reinforce prevailing social cultural and political values Aspects of Modernism Andreas Fischer, Martin Heusser, Thomas Herrmann, 1997 Photographs Updated Beth Goldberg, 1990 Carleton Watkins Carleton E.
