Double Masquerade:

Double Masquerade (sound Recording) Martha Powers,1991 Double Masquerade Lucy Muir,2016-01-24 Miss Catherine Trevor is quite happy with her life at her father s estate of Rosemont and does not regret choosing to remain unmarried at the advanced age of nine and twenty But a visit from her brother his peevish wife and ill mannered children causes Catherine to reconsider her status when she realizes she will eventually be dependent upon her brother if she does not establish her own household Hearing that Lord Edgecombe an unmarried marquess will spend the coming autumn at a neighbor s estate Catherine determines to bring the peer to an offer Despite the disapproval of her family who had hoped she would accept the hand of her long time friend and neighbor Lord Woodforde Catherine goes forward with her plans to capture Lord Edgecombe s interest With the aid of a friend she discovers what appeals to Lord Edgecombe and presents herself to please The peer s interest is piqued and Catherine is soon betrothed but no sooner has she achieved her goal than she begins to wonder if she has made a disastrous mistake Bound by her word to honor the betrothal Catherine must use her wits to find a way out of her predicament before her wedding day Double Masquerade Martha J. Powers,1989 They called the mysterious beauty of the London stage La Solitaire She gracefully declined all her suitors passions for she had a secret identity outside the spotlight of a handsome man forced her to lead a Double Masquerade Original Regency romance

Western Film and Fiction Kenneth E. Hall,2019-06-07 In American Westerns the main characters are most often gunfighters lawmen ranchers and dancehall girls Civil professionals such as doctors engineers and journalists have been given far less representation usually appearing as background characters in most films and fiction In Westerns about the 1910 Mexican Revolution however civil professionals also feature prominently in the narrative often as members of the intelligentsia an important force in Mexican politics This book compares the roles of civil professionals in most American Westerns to those in films on the 1910 Mexican Revolution Included are studies on the Santiago Toole novels by Richard

Wheeler Strange Lady in Town with Greer Garson and La sombra del Caudillo by Martin Luis Guzmán The Masqueraders, or Fatal Curiosity, and The Surprise, or Constancy Rewarded Eliza Haywood, 2015-01-01 The most important female English novelist of the 1720s Eliza Haywood is famous for writing scandalous fiction about London society Fast moving controversial and sometimes disturbing Haywood's short novels The Masqueraders and The Surprise are valuable sources for the study of eighteenth century gender and identity the social history of masquerade the dangers of courtship and seduction and conceptions of elite and popular cultures Despite their common theme of masquerade and seduction the two short novels are a study in contrasts The Masqueraders features the whirl of London life with a libertine anti hero and his serial seductions of women who believe that they can manipulate the social conventions that are expected to limit them The Surprise on the other hand is an uncharacteristically sentimental story in which a similarly salacious plot ends in rewards for the good and virtuous Well suited to the teaching of these two texts this volume contains annotated scholarly editions of both novels an extensive introduction and useful appendices that discuss the masquerade's role in eighteenth century debates on gender morality and identity Catalog of the Public School Library of Grand Rapids, Michigan

Grand Rapids Public Library (Grand Rapids, Mich.), 1889 The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was Wendy Doniger, 2005 Many cultures have myths about self imitation stories about people who pretend to be someone else pretending to be them in effect masquerading as themselves This great theme in literature and in life tells us that people put on masks to discover who they really are under the masks they usually wear so that the mask reveals rather than conceals the self beneath the self In this book noted scholar of Hinduism and mythology Wendy Doniger offers a cross cultural exploration of the theme of self impersonation whose widespread occurrence argues for both its literary power and its human value The stories she considers range from ancient Indian literature through medieval European courtly literature and Shakespeare to Hollywood and Bollywood They illuminate a basic human way of negotiating reality illusion identity and authenticity not to mention memory amnesia and the process of aging Many of them involve marriage and adultery for tales of sexual betrayal cut to the heart of the crisis of identity These stories are extreme examples of what we common folk do unconsciously every day Few of us actually put on masks that replicate our faces but it is not uncommon for us to become travesties of ourselves particularly as we age and change We often slip carelessly across the permeable boundary between the un self conscious self indulgence of our most idiosyncratic mannerisms and the conscious attempt to give the people who know us personally or publicly the version of ourselves that they expect Myths of self imitation open up for us the possibility of multiple selves and the infinite regress of self discovery Drawing on a dizzying array of tales some fact some fiction The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was is a fascinating and learned trip through centuries of culture guided by a scholar of incomparable wit and erudition Catalogue of the Newton Free Library of Newton, Massachusetts, 1892 Newton Free Library, 1892 They Aren't, Until I Call Them Enikő Bollobás, 2010 The Deutsche Nationalbibliothek lists this

The Publishers Weekly, 1884 Complete Dictionary Catalogue of the Public School Library of Grand Rapids, Michigan Grand Rapids Public Library (Grand Rapids, Mich.), 1892 Merry Murderers Zsófia Anna Toth, 2011-07-12 This book explores the different trends and the various changes in the representational history of femmes fatales within twentieth century American culture. While providing precedents discussing the Western cultural history of this iconic female figure as well as presenting the cultural and theoretical debates surrounding her, the major focus lies in Maurine Dallas Watkins's story entitled Chicago and how its diachronic and transmedial revivals contributed to this debate and what kind of an interpretation it provided of the lethal woman. Through a cultural historical literary and cinematic excavation, this book argues that the story of Chicago produces a unique kind of deathly woman figure, the farcical femme fatale, by combining the traditionally tragic aspects with comic modes of discourse and representation. In addition to the theorization of the femme fatale within Western culture, the discussion of the comic as well as various comic genres and comic strategies of representation, Mikhail Bakhtin's theory of the carnival and the carnivalesque is discussed in great detail with an emphasis on scapegoating as well as Judith Butler's concept of gender performativity and Joan Riviere's womanly masquerade in order to understand how the farcical femmes fatales of Chicago manage to get away with their sins and crimes. Additionally, the Vice of sixteenth century drama as well as the figure of the homme fatale are also taken under scrutiny since it is argued that in the various versions of Chicago, we encounter farcical femmes fatales who are the minions of a modernized Vice figure and all their comic grotesque performances and masquerades take place in the heterotopic space of the carnival. While also examining their historical and cultural contexts, the different versions of Chicago are investigated one by one, starting from the original Chicago Tribune articles and ending in the 2002 film adaptation. This book reveals what strategies can be employed to justify the modification of the traditionally tragic scenario of the femme fatale. It is a scholarly work that is informative, thorough as well as entertaining.

The Logic of Ecstasy Ann Davis, 1992-01-01 None of these painters was motivated solely by mystical concerns; each of them also painted works which were of a secular or non-spiritual nature. None the less, they were all deeply interested in and concerned about matters mystical. Through a careful examination of the primary documentation, Ann Davis looks at the sources of their beliefs in Christianity, transcendentalism, and theosophy and theories of the fourth dimension and attempts to put some of their major works into new contexts so that familiar paintings can be seen in a new and revealing mystical way.

The Medical Age, 1895 Human Cinema Rammesh, 2018-08-17 Hrishikesh Mukherjee's films have brought immense joy to generations of film lovers and a new generation is now being impressed by his works thanks to the many repeated telecasts on various channels of his classic comedies such as Gol Maal and Chupke Chupke among others. This book is about the forty-two films that were directed by Hrishikesh Mukherjee and how his vision of humans is as important as that of his mentor Bimal Roy. The book is both a fan's perspective and a complete listing of all the released films of Mukherjee from 1957 till 1998 A Companion to Spanish Women's Studies Xon de Ros, Geraldine Hazbun, 2011 This volume presents an overview of the issues and critical debates in the field of women's studies including original essays by pioneering scholars as well as by younger specialists New pathfinding models of theoretical analysis are balanced with a careful revisiting of the historical foundations of women's studies Finding List Boston Public Library. West End Branch, 1896 Masked Men Steve Cohan, 1997-12-22 The fifties marks the moment when a heterosexual homosexual dualism came to dominate U S culture's thinking about masculinity The films of this era record how gender and sexuality did not easily come together in a normative manhood common to American men Instead these films demonstrate the widely held perception of a crisis of masculinity Masked Men documents how movies of the fifties represented masculinity as a multiple masquerade Hollywood's star system positioned the male actor as a professional performer and as a body intended to solicit the erotic interest of male and female viewers alike Drawing on publicity poster art fan magazines and the popular press as a means of following the links between fifties stars their films and the social tensions of the period Cohan juxtaposes Hollywood's narratives of masculinity against the personae of leading men like Cary Grant Humphrey Bogart John Wayne Charlton Heston Yul Brynner William Holden Montgomery Clift Marlon Brando and Rock Hudson Masked Men focuses on the gender and sexual masquerades that organized their performances of masculinity on and off screen Violence and Mediation in Contemporary Culture Ronald Bogue, Marcel Cornis-Pope, 1996-01-01 Ten essays explore violence in relation to notions of difference representation and power and the role of mediation in providing communal space in which cultural differences can interplay without conflict Among the topics are the semiotics of windows and television screens gender relations in contemporary film and the image of Mormons in popular literature The fiction of Kafka Lu Xun Conrad Aiken Toni Morrison and Ronald Sukenick is also examined Annotation c by Book News Inc Portland Or
