Doug Hall Doug Hall, Rena Bransten Gallery, 2001 Doug Hall Vividly Doug Hall, 2015-11-17 One doesn't necessarily think of the American South as a vivid and colorful place but Doug Hall challenges that notion with a fire engine red house in Savannah and a turquoise abattoir in Lumber City. Then he sets out contrasting those colorful southern surroundings with equally brilliant images from Cuba and Mexico. The book contains 25 stunning photographs taken by the author, a photographer who divides his time between Atlanta and Mexico City. Doug Hall Doug Hall, Newcomb Art Gallery, 2003

History of Photography Laurent Roosens, Luc Salu, 1989-01-01 The fourth volume in a history of photography, this is a bibliography of books on the subject. Ant Farm, 1968-1978 Constance Lewallen, Steve Seid, Chip Lord, 2004 Publisher Description How Photography Became Contemporary Art Andy Grundberg, 2021-02-23 A leading critic's inside story of the photo boom during the crucial decades of the 1970s and 80s. When Andy Grundberg landed in New York in the early 1970s as a budding writer, photography was at the margins of the contemporary art world. By 1991, when he left his post as critic for the New York Times, photography was at the vital center of artistic debate. Grundberg writes eloquently and authoritatively about photography's boom years, chronicling the medium's increasing role within the most important art movements of the time, from Earth Art and Conceptual Art to performance and video. He also traces photography's embrace by museums and galleries as well as its politicization in the culture wars of the 80s and 90s. Grundberg reflects on the landmark exhibitions that defined the moment and his encounters with the work of leading photographers, many of whom he knew personally, including Gordon Matta-Clark, Cindy Sherman, and Robert Mapplethorpe. He navigates crucial themes such as photography's relationship to theory as well as feminism and artists of color. Part memoir and part history, this perspective by one of the period's leading critics ultimately tells a larger story about the crucial decades of the 70s and 80s through the medium of photography. Resolutions Michael Renov, Erika Suderburg, 1996 Resolutions provides by far the best, boldest, and most thorough account to date of video art and activism practice and theory. The long-awaited follow-up to a project conducted by Los Angeles Contemporary Exhibitions (LACE), this volume presents original articles by many of the most interesting video artists, filmmakers, and critical theorists writing today. Their subjects, from video pedagogy to emerging technologies, are many and varied and together constitute a clear and complete picture of the state of the medium. Constructed like an inquiry into newly forming video practice, the collection at once interweaves and questions a series of relationships among politics, popular culture, artistic intervention, and social practices. The often provocative essays on topics ranging from video porn to Geraldo Rivera to lesbian representation to the politics of video memory contribute significantly to a much-needed reconceptualization of the electronic medium. State of Mind Constance M. Lewallen, Karen Moss, 2011-10 State of Mind the lavishly illustrated companion book to the exhibition of the same name, investigates California's vital contributions to Conceptual art, in particular work that emerged in the late 1960s among scattered groups of young artists The essays reveal connections between the northern and southern California Conceptual art scenes and argue that Conceptualism's experimental practices and an array of then new media performance site specific installations film and video mail art and artists publications continue to exert an enormous influence on the artists working today Digital Currents Margot Lovejoy, 2004-08-02 Digital Currents explores the growing impact of digital technologies on aesthetic experience and examines the major changes taking place in the role of the artist as social communicator Margot Lovejoy recounts the early histories of electronic media for art making video computer the internet in this richly illustrated book She provides a context for the works of major artists in each media describes their projects and discusses the issues and theoretical implications of each to create a foundation for understanding this developing field Digital Currents fills a major gap in our understanding of the relationship between art and technology and the exciting new cultural conditions we are experiencing It will be ideal reading for students taking courses in digital art and also for anyone seeking to understand these new creative forms Heinemann Physics for CXC Norman Lambert, Natasha Lewis dos Santos, Tricia A. Samuel, 2000 Heinemann Physics for CXC is a lively accessible textbook written by Norman Lambert the well respected author and teacher and experienced teachers Natasha Lewis dos Santos and Tricia A Samuel The authors have drawn on their many years of teaching Performance Anthology Carl E. Loeffler, Darlene Tong, 1989 Performance art is a major contemporary art form and California is recognized internationally as a pivotal area for innovative performance art activity This updated edition of Performance Anthology offers an extraordinary documentation of California performance art from 1970 through 1989 The anthology provides a chronicle of the literature of artists publications art journals major books and catalogues introductions and original essays by artists and leading historians and critics of performance art in California and photographs illustrating major works by California artists Through the documentation of the literature a framework is established of the artists events organizations and spaces that have been instrumental in launching and sustaining the performance art scene in California

Archaeologies of Presence Gabriella Giannachi, Nick Kaye, Michael Shanks, 2012 Archaeologies of Presence is a brilliant exploration of how the performance of presence can be understood through the relationships between performance theory and archaeological thinking Drawing together carefully commissioned contributions by leading international scholars and artists this radical new work poses a number of essential questions What are the principle signifiers of theatrical presence How is presence achieved through theatrical performance What makes a memory come alive and live again How is presence connected with identity Is presence synonymous with being in the moment What is the nature of the co presence of audience and performer Where does performance practice end and its documentation begin Co edited by performance specialists Gabriella Giannachi and Nick Kaye and archaeologist Michael Shanks Archaeologies of Presence represents an innovative and rewarding feat of interdisciplinary scholarship Tangled Memories Marita Sturken, 1997-02-28 On American cultural memory Memory's Gate Paul McCusker, 2009-08-30 The Time Thriller Trilogy delivers gripping fast paced mystery that

Gems,2017-02-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam s position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature Theories and Documents of Contemporary Art Kristine Stiles,1996 Enth u a S 74 Concrete art 1936 49 Max Bill S 74 77 The mathematical approach in contemporary art 1949 Max Bill S 301 304 Dieter Roth Bridge Builders Martin Pearce,Richard Jobson,2002-04-17 Bridges are arguably the most symbolic of man made structures Unique in their balance between structural and aesthetic concerns they offer a physical representation of unity and optimism It is no coincidence that the dawn of this millennium has been marked all over the world by the building of bridges as the world has stepped into a new era During this period construction of monumental road or rail bridges has given way to a focus on the more intimate footbridge reflecting the mounting concern for sustainability and the encouragement of healthier lifestyles Bridge design has traditionally been the domain of the engineer but recently architects have been increasingly involved in the field so that now this particular building type quite literally bridges the gap between the two disciplines The examples featured in this book represent some of the most successful collaborations where architects and engineers placed on an equal footing have achieved extraordinarily innovative designs Bridge Builders begins with an introductory essay examining the history of the bridge throughout the world from ancient times to the present and analysing its symbolic significance and structural development This account is followed by descriptions drawings and photographs of an international selection of recent footbridges showing the full diversity of current practice and providing an invaluable resource on the subject

Colonial Diplomacy through Art Moya Tönnies, 2024-12-30 Addressing Zionists in 1923 the British artist C R Ashbee spoke of that preposterous Balfour Declaration whose Arabic tail you people perpetually ignore but the lash of which you will some day feel His warnings received no attention at the time nor has his radical pro Arab Palestinian political position been researched since One hundred years later this art historical study asks what possibilities individual colonial actors had to influence official colonial policy In the example of Jerusalem under British rule Moya Tönnies analyses how three members of the British administration Ashbee architect Ernest Tatham Richmond and governor Ronald Storrs all three identifying with the International Arts and Crafts Movement used art as a diplomatic sphere for their British colonial anti Zionist interventions
