 Horton,Nick Bentley,Nick Hubble,Philip Tew,2024-02-08 This volume relates the British fiction of the decade to the contexts in which it was written and received in order to examine and explain contemporary trends such as the rise of a new working class fiction the ongoing development of separate national literatures of Scotland Wales and Ireland and shifts in modes of attention and reading From the aftermath of the 2008 global financial crash to the Covid 19 pandemic of 2020 the 2010s have been a decade of an ongoing crisis which has penetrated every area of everyday life Internationally there has been an ongoing shift of global power from the US to China and events and developments such as the election of Donald Trump as US President the emergence of the Black Lives Matter movement the rise of the populist right across Europe and very gradually the incipient effects variously of AI Nationally there has been a decade of austerity economics punctuated by divisive referendums on Scottish independence and whether Britain should leave or remain in the EU Balancing critical surveys with in depth readings of work by authors who have helped define this turbulent decade including Nicola Barker Anna Burns Jonathan Coe Alys Conran Bernadine Evaristo Mohsin Hamid James Kelman James Robertson Kamila Shamsie Ali Smith Zadie Smith and Adam Thirlwell among others this volume illustrates exactly how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade The London Chronicle ,1760 Finnegans Wake Andrew Treip,1994 This is a collection by diverse hands on the thematic conceptual and contextual impact of time in and around Joyce s Finnegans Wake In keeping with the practice of the Z rich James Joyce Foundation workshops from one of which over Easter 1992 the collection developed many essays emphasize the local temporal textures of Finnegans Wake through close readings of individual passages However this does not preclude fruitful interaction with wider contexts and theoretical concerns Two articles are detailed studies of social and political contemporary contexts with which Joyce s last work was in dialogue Three more explore philosophical psychological and scientific theories of time which Joyce exploited and transformed in his text Two essays relate Finnegans Wake to discussions of time in French feminist and deconstructive theory and finally four essays concentrate on the temporality of composition two apiece on each of the chronology of Joyce s early note taking and draft processes The collection should prove interesting to all readers and critics of Joyce as well as to critics concerned with the problem of historicizing and contextualising the temporally disruptive texts of high modernism and early postmodernism The Law Times ,1867 The Universal Magazine of Knowledge and Pleasure ,1769 The
