Dorothy Dale in the City Margaret Penrose,2014-04-11 Neither books papers nor pencils were to be seen in the confused mass of articles piled high if not dry in the rooms of the pupils of Glenwood Hall who were now packing up to leave the boarding school for the Christmas holidays Going home is so very different from leaving home remarked Dorothy Dale as she plunged a knot of unfolded ribbons into the tray of her trunk I'm always ashamed to face my things when I unpack Don't advised Tavia I never look at mine until they have been scattered on the floor for a few days Then they all look like a fire sale and she wound her tennis shoes inside a perfectly helpless lingerie waist I don t see why we bring parasols in September to take them back in Christmas snows went on Dorothy I have a mind to give this to Betty and she raised the flowery canopy over her head Oh don t begged Tavia Listen That s bad luck Which asked Dorothy the parasol or Betty Neither replied Tavia But the fact that I hear Ned s voice Also the clatter of Cologne s heavy feet That means the plunge our very last racket I hope you take the racket out of this room said Dorothy for I have some Christmas cards to get off Let us in called a voice on the outer side of the door We ve got good news Only news asked Tavia We have lots of that ourselves Make it something more substantial Hurry begged the voice of Edna Black otherwise known as Ned Ebony We ll be caught Tavia brought herself to her feet from the Turkish mat as if she were on springs Then she opened the door cautiously What is it she demanded Is it alive It was once replied Edna but it isn t now The giggling at the door was punctuated with a struggle Echoes from bygone days; or Love lyrics and character sonnets, by Thomas Brevior Thomas Shorter,1889 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1977 Dorothy Dale in the City Margaret Penrose,2023-09-18 In Dorothy Dale in the City by Margaret Penrose readers are enveloped in a narrative that follows the adventurous spirit of Dorothy as she navigates the bustling city Written in a detailed and descriptive style Penrose skillfully captures the essence of urban life in the early 20th century The book provides a glimpse into the social norms and expectations of the time offering a compelling mix of drama suspense and coming of age themes Penrose s attention to detail and engaging storytelling make this book a captivating read for those interested in historical fiction and young adult literature Margaret Penrose the pseudonym of Lilian C Garis was a prolific author known for her popular series of books for young readers Her experiences as a mother and educator likely influenced her ability to create relatable characters and compelling storylines Dorothy Dale in the City showcases Penrose s talent for capturing the imagination of readers and providing a window into the past I highly recommend this book to anyone seeking an enchanting tale set in a bygone era filled with charm and intrigue
