La técnica narrativa en Valle-Inclán Amparo de Juan Bolufer,2000 Mexico in the Time of Cholera Donald Fithian Stevens,2019-05-15 This captivating study tells Mexico's best untold stories The book takes the devastating 1833 cholera epidemic as its dramatic center and expands beyond this episode to explore love lust lies and midwives Parish archives and other sources tell us human stories about the intimate decisions hopes aspirations and religious commitments of Mexican men and women as they made their way through the transition from the Viceroyalty of New Spain to an independent republic In this volume Stevens shows how Mexico assumed a new place in Atlantic history as a nation coming to grips with modernization and colonial heritage helping us to understand the paradox of a country with a reputation for fervent Catholicism that moved so quickly to disestablish the Church El Romanticismo en Francia (1800-1850) Paulette Gabaudam,1979-01-01 The National Union Catalog ,1973 Urbanism and Urbanity Leigh Mercer,2013 Through the study of more than twenty novels produced in Spain from the 1840s to the 1920s this book explores the literary means by which the social options available to modern Spanish bourgeois citizens were discursively constructed occasionally before and often concomitantly to their production in reality As a result this study is concerned with the interplay of realism and reality in modern Spain From the earliest folletines of the 1840s to the Modernist novels of the 1920s the majority of novels written in this eighty year period are what one might term novelas de costumbres contemporáneas or novels of contemporary customs and therefore primarily concerned with faithfully copying and moreover influencing real social norms in the public sphere In these pages I argue that the spatial and behavioral discourses in the novels of contemporary customs offer a telling history of the evolving formulation of the Spanish bourgeoisie The linking of novels and urbanism is hardly arbitrary in the context of nineteenth century Spain Urbanism particularly in the nineteenth century was as much a verbal construction as the novel as proven by the lengthy treatises of such prominent Spanish bureaucrats engineers architects and urban planners as Ramón de Mesonero Romanos Ildefonso Cerdá and Carlos María de Castro For Spanish intellectuals of this era city planning and the novel functioned as parallel enmeshed discourses in which to work out what it meant to be middle class and the roles this class ought to play in contemporary society In this way they can be considered associated fields of discourse in the sense described by Michel Foucault in The Archaeology of Knowledge Foucault's treatise was a call for scholars to reexamine historical fields and question the historical grouping of knowledge's into certain discursive unities and consider whether these might be broken up and new ones conceived In this vein this book undertakes a broader and more integrative view of the Spanish nineteenth century calling into question the boundaries of fields such as etiquette and urban planning or literature and touristic discourse The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1886 □□□□□□□□ □□□□□□□□ □□□□□□□□□□□□
