Revista histórica Instituto Histórico del Perú, 1953 La historia rural de las sociedades medievales europeas Isabel Alfonso Antón, 2011-11-28 Este libro reúne las reflexiones de un conjunto de medievalistas europeos sobre algunos casos significativos de las distintas trayectorias seguidas por la historiografía del mundo rural medieval en sus países respectivos. Esta aproximación internacional proporciona una visión más profunda de cuáles han sido las relaciones de los estudios rurales medievales con otros debates en las ciencias sociales y resalta las conexiones entre las distintas tradiciones históricas nacionales y los problemas del presente de cada una de estas sociedades. La comparación entre diferentes regiones europeas permite captar más claramente las similitudes y las diferencias que hay entre ellas y constituye un instrumento importante para construir mejores síntesis y para identificar las líneas más fructíferas de investigaciones futuras.

Finding Caspicara Susan Verdi Webster, 2024 Caspicara was the most renowned sculptor of the eighteenth century Andean world. Yet many works that are attributed to this Indigenous artist cannot be firmly documented as he is nearly absent in traditional archival records. Susan Webster seeks to analyze not only the visual imagery and material culture of his many works but she also seeks to lay the foundation for understanding how scholars can revive the life and records of artists and other historical figures many of whom were Indigenous in this period with different methodologies. By cultivating artistic theory, popular religious devotion and specific styles of sculpture, Webster's examination of the labor and workshop practices of this period contextualize the extensive commercial networks that existed within Quito and emanated beyond it. Webster explores the reason why authors constructed an almost completely fictional life story and canon for this artist that continued for two centuries, how this story fueled the agendas and goals of these authors in melding the colonial past with a newly independent country that could measure itself against western European culture and as a potent story for tourists. She then considers the ways in which Caspicara's work was at the center of debates of sculpture versus painting in Quito. These debates and their development in the city also add context to notions of authorship and how it was documented or not. By exploring the professional world where he worked, Webster's analysis of Indigenous sculptors and their family networks of labor and apprenticeship in the arts allow us to understand the changing workforce and materials for sculptures. This analysis also reveals what day to day life may have been for Caspicara and how this routine informed the artistic choices available to him. Archival materials indirectly offer glimpses into how patrons regarded Caspicara and his work and how the work of others later embellished or altered his original vision. Throughout the chapters, visibility, materials and reception challenge the typical obsession of art historians, museum curators and auction houses in their hunger to attribute authorship in ways that increase the value both for prestige and monetary reasons and in ways that end up obscuring authorship and intent Maneras y motivos en Historia del Derecho Jesús Vallejo Fernández de la Reguera, 2014-02-20 Este libro reúne los trabajos en los que el autor ha plasmado sus reflexiones sobre el modo en que se escribe la historia del derecho y sobre las razones, fines e intenciones que mueven a quienes cultivan esa especialidad de la historia. La historiografía se contempla teniendo en cuenta sus resultados, no su metodología, a la vez que atendiendo tanto a sus condicionamientos de presente como a sus potencialidades de futuro. Se abordan en estas páginas aspectos tales como la reconstrucción politicamente interesada de escuelas históricas jurídicas a partir de los años cuarenta del último siglo, la renovación y apertura de perspectivas historiográficas en torno a los años ochenta o la posible incidencia de la normalidad constitucional en la reconstrucción y exposición de los órdenes jurídicos y constitucionales del pasado Flower World - Mundo Florido Alexander Herrera Wassilowski, Mark Howell, Matthias Stockli, Arnd Adje Both, 2023-12-31 The bilingual series Flower World Music Archaeology of the Americas raises the study of ancient music and music related activities of the pre-Columbian Americas to the next level.
