Aisha The Beloved Of Mohammed:

Aishah, the Beloved of Mohammed Nabia Abbott, 1973 Aisha, the Beloved of Mohammed Nabia Abbott, 1973 The Biography of Muhammad Gregor Schoeler, 2010-10-18 This book considers the Arabic biographies of Prophet Muhammad the earliest of which dates from two centuries after his life These biographies prized by Muslims have been approached in the Western study of Islam from a range of positions Some scholars reject them entirely seeing in them products of the Muslim community's idealisation of its history while others accept them at face value reasoning that if not exact versions of events the events could not have differed too much from their descriptions The author revisits the debate and reconsiders several key incidents in the life of the Prophet By compiling an extensive corpus of materials and comparing them closely this book analyses the transmission and the contents of the accounts It shows that by understanding clearly the interaction in early Islam between written and oral modes of transmission and by the judicious sieving of the accounts as well as the lines of transmission we can sometimes reach back to that generation of Muslims who though not themselves witness to the events were younger contemporaries of those who were Establishing a solid basis for the informed study of Muhammad's biography and adding to the ongoing debate this book will appeal to scholars of early Islam history and theology Imperialism in Medieval History I P.F.M. Fontaine, 2022-10-04 Muhammad's Grave Leor Halevi, 2011 In this probing study of death rites Leor Halevi plays prescriptive texts against material culture advancing a new way of interpreting the origins of Islam He shows how religious scholars produced codes of funerary law to create new social patterns in the cities of Arabia Mesopotamia and the eastern Mediterranean They distinguished Islamic from Christian Jewish and Zoroastrian rites and they changed the way men and women interacted publicly and privately Each chapter explores a different layer of human interaction following the movement of the corpse from the deathbed to the grave Highlighting economic and political factors as well as key religious and sexual divisions Halevi forges a fascinating link between the development of funerary rites and the efforts of an emerging religion to carve its own distinct identity Muhammad's Grave is a groundbreaking history of the rise of Islam and the roots of contemporary Muslim attitudes toward the body and society Jean Sauvaget's Introduction to the History of the Muslim East Jean Sauvaget, Claude Cahen, 2022-09-23 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1965 Women in World History: v. 1: Readings from Prehistory to 1500 Sarah Shaver Hughes, Brady Hughes, 2015-02-24 Presenting selected histories in Asia Africa Europe and the Americas this work discusses political and economic issues marriage practices motherhood and enslavement and religious beliefs and spiritual development Famous women including Hatshepsut Hortensia Aisha Hildegard of Bingen and Sei Shonangan are discussed as well as lesser known and anonymous

Arabs in the Mirror Nissim Rejwan,2009-02-17 What is an Arab Though many in the West would answer that question with simplistic stereotypes the reality is far more complex and interesting Arabs themselves have been debating Arab identity since pre Islamic times coming to a variety of conclusions about the nature and extent of their Arabness Likewise Westerners and others have attempted to analyze Arab identity reaching mostly negative conclusions about Arab culture and capacity for self government To bring new perspectives to the question of Arab identity Iraqi born scholar Nissim Rejwan has assembled this fascinating collection of writings by Arab and Western intellectuals who try to define what it means to be Arab He begins with pre Islamic times and continues to the last decades of the twentieth century quoting thinkers ranging from Ibn Khaldun to modern writers such as al Ansari Haykal Ahmad Amin al Azm and Said Through their works Rejwan shows how Arabs have grappled with such significant issues as the influence of Islam the rise of nationalism the quest for democracy women s status the younger generation Egypt s place in the Arab world Israel s role in Middle Eastern conflict and the West s cultural invasion By letting Arabs speak for perceptions of the place of Islam in the religious history of the world and located the Islamic founder and prophet as the last of God's messengers. As Muslims established political control over ancient Jewish and Christian communities they also claimed hegemony over the panorama of biblical prophets and holy men. In the eighth century the author of the first complete biography of Muhammad set out a plan for a history of the world that culminated with the advent of Muhammad and the religion of Islam. The biography not only gave the details of Muhammad's life but also retold the stories of past prophets from an Islamic perspective. The Making of the Last Prophet is an examination of the reshaping and retelling of the biblical past to form the image of Muhammad as the Seal of the prophets of God. Through a translation of the reconstructed Arabic text the sources, the form and uses of the eighth century biography are examined for the ways in which attitudes toward Muhammad were shaped in early Islam. The work particularly underscores the interplay of Jewish, Christian and other Near Eastern religious ideals in the formation of Islam's notions of prophethood.

Soulmates Juliana Geran Pilon, 2011-12-31 In Soulmates: Resurrecting Eve Juliana Geran Pilon argues for a return to an egalitarian view of men and women found in the original Genesis narrative as reflected through Judaism, Christianity and Islam. In each of these Abrahamic traditions it was understood that man and woman were created to be soulmates in God's image, equal despite their different functions within society. Pilon writes that this original message has gradually been distorted with disastrous effect. Any hope for an ennobling human community begins by resurrecting Eve as an equal partner to Adam. The work examines the Biblical creation narrative, comparing it to Greek and other ancient mythologies. Pilon explains how the disturbing association of woman with sin and death led to Eve's demise as Adam's equal. The final section of the work deals with the Goddess myth, love and marriage in early religious narratives and modern man's search for his soul, no less than for a soulmate. The book at its core is a meditation on the relationship between men and women but also among human beings. The resurrection of Eve is indispensable to attaining a true appreciation of love and faith. Pilon uses religious texts, expert commentary and various works of fiction, poetry and psychology to make her argument come alive. The work is strengthened by the writing style, alternately poetic and humorous, and a clear and illuminating progression of ideas. Its emphasis on reconciliation and understanding and its post-feminist outlook will find a receptive audience.

Mohammed Essad Bey, 2016-11-04 But above all, Essad Bey was a brilliant, intoxicating stylist. Bey's writing is of a kind that hardly exists among contemporary non-fiction writers, even less so among experts on Islam. It has rhythm and uses harmonious imagery; it is rich in semantic and syntactic variations; he understands the arc of suspense so well that it sometimes carries the author away from historical facts towards possible but not proven fiction. His biography on Mohammed has perhaps no place in scientific libraries but one could not think of a more entertaining depiction, one which captures the spirit of early Islamic history, above and beyond that of any source, critical monograph.
