Albanians in the Republic of Macedonia, 1945-1995 Slavko Milosavljevski, Mirče Tomovski, 1997-01-01 Political Economy of Statebuilding Mats Berdal, 2017-07-05 This volume examines and evaluates the impact of international statebuilding interventions on the political economy of post conflict countries over the past 20 years While statebuilding today is typically discussed in the context of peacebuilding and stabilisation operations the current phase of interest in external interventions to re build and strengthen governmental institutions can be traced back to the good governance policies of the International Financial Institutions IFIs in the early 1990s These sought political changes and improvements in the quality of governance in countries that were subject to or were seeking support under IFI designed structural adjustment programmes The focus of this book is specifically on state building efforts in conflict affected countries countries that are emerging or have recently emerged from periods of war and violent conflict The interventions covered in the present volume fall into three broad and overlapping categories International administrations and transformative occupations East Timor Iraq and Kosovo Complex peace operations Afghanistan Burundi Haiti and Sudan Governance and state building programmes conducted in the context of economic assistance Georgia and Macedonia This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention post conflict reconstruction political economy international organisations and IR Security Studies in general Collective Memory, National Identity, and Ethnic Conflict Victor Roudometof, 2002-12-30 Roudometof provides an in depth analysis of inter ethnic relations in the southern Balkans He examines the evolution of the Macedonian Question and the production of rival national narratives by Greeks Bulgarians and Macedonians He introduces the concept of a national narrative in order to account for the production and proliferation of different forms of collective memory among the rival nation states Roudometof deconstructs the national narratives of the competing sides and shows the limits of these narratives and their biases He also develops an alternative interpretation of Macedonian national formation The contentious issue of Macedonian national minorities in the southern Balkans is examined as well as the issue of the Albanian movements toward self determination and succession in Kosovo and western Macedonia Roudometof argues that the Macedonian minority groups are not as numerous in the neighboring states as it is conventionally assumed With regard to the Albanian national question he provides a review of the post 1945 relations between Albania and Greece the Albanians of Kosovo and the Serbs and the Albanians and Macedonians He argues that the Albanian nationalist movements have grown out of the interaction between Albanians and their neighboring nations and ethnic groups An important resource for scholars students and other researchers involved with the Balkans and ethnic conflict resolution in general Geschichte der Balkanländer Edgar Hösch, 2008 Ethnicity and Mass Media in South Eastern Europe Nikolai Genov, 2006 Not the mass media but other powerful domestic and international factors provoked the ethnic conflicts in South Eastern Europe and determined the paths and mechanisms of their settlement Nevertheless it is a proven fact that on various occasions the use of guns was well prepared by hate speech used by the mass media in their coverage of interethnic relations And vice versa the efforts to find solutions for interethnic tensions and conflicts have been often facilitated by the moderate or neutral coverage of events by the mass media Nikolai Genov is professor of sociology at the Free University in Berlin Germany
