Alabama Portrait Of A State:

Alabama Victor B. Haagen,1963-01-01 Alabama Wayne Greenhaw,1997 From its limestone caves and Appalachian mountains in the north to its white sand beaches on the Gulf of Mexico Alabama is a land of diverse and beautiful landscapes Featuring photos taken by Dan Brothers the former staff photographer for the Alabama Bureau of Tourism and Travel this spectacular book traces the state s heritage and provides a highly readable history 120 color photos Records and Briefs of the United States Supreme Court ,1832 The Deep South States of America Neal R. Peirce,1974 Compilation of Works of Art in the United States Capitol United States. Architect of the Capitol,1952 Shot in Alabama Frances Osborn Robb,2016 A sumptuously illustrated history of photography as practiced in the state from 1839 to 1941 offering a unique account of the birth and development of a significant documentary and artistic medium Alabama; Portrait of a State ,1968 A Southern Collection ,1993-02-01 A Southern Collection presents select masterworks from the permanent collection of the Morris Museum of Art on the occasion of the institution s inaugural exhibition Drawn from a comprehensive survey collection of painting in the South from the late eighteenth century to the present day the museum s opening exhibit explores an artistic terrain as rich and diverse as the South itself arranged in categories that reflect critical chronological developments in the art world A survey of painting activity in the South begins with the travels of itinerant portrait artists working prior to the Civil War At the same time landscape painting encompasses a sensitive response to the swamps bayous and fertile fields of the South Late in the nineteenth century strong and vivid genre painting competes with the nostalgic effects realized by Southern impressionists whose shimmering liquid images are invested with an elusive spirit of place In this century those strains of realism and naturalism that characterize the classic body of Southern writing appear in the representational art of painters who defied the modern abstract dictum And finally the exciting compelling works of a current generation of both self taught artists and sophisticated contemporary painters complete this fascinating though sometimes neglected chapter in American art history Art in the United States Capitol United States. Architect of the Capitol,1978 Hodges' New Bank Note Safe-guard John Tyler Hodges,1859 Portraits of Eminent Americans Now Living; with Biographical and Historical Memoirs of Their Lives and Actions John LIVINGSTON (Notary Public),1853 Pictorial History of the Civil War in the United States of America: Reorganizing the Army of the Potomac to the capture of Vicksburg Benson John Lossing,1868 Dictionary of North Carolina Biography William S. Lossing, 1874 Lessons in Likeness Estill Curtis Pennington, 2011 Between 1802 when the young Kentucky artist William Edward West began to paint portraits while on a downriver journey and 1920 when the last of Frank Duveneck's students worked in Louisville a large number of notable portrait artists were active in Kentucky and the Ohio River Valley In Lessons in Likeness Portrait Painters in Kentucky and the Ohio River Valley 1802-1920 Estill Curtis Pennington charts the course of those artists as they painted a variety of sitters drawn from both urban and rural society The work is illustrated when possible from The Filson Historical Society collection of some four hundred portraits representing one of the most extensive holdings available for study in the region Portraiture involves artists and subjects known as sitters and is an art that combines elements of biography aesthetics and cultural history Private portraits often attract an oral history that enlivens the more colorful aspects of local tradition and culture Public portraits of towering figures such as George Washington Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln were often reproduced in printed format to satisfy popular demand and subsequently attained an iconic timeless status Lessons in Likeness is organized in two parts Part One the cultural chronology serves as a backdrop to the biographies of the portrait artists This section identifies stylistic sources and significant historical moments that influenced the artists and their milieu Rather than working in isolation portrait artists were connected to the world around them and influenced by prevailing trends in their trade Early in the nineteenth century for instance Matthew Jouett journeyed to Boston for study with Gilbert Stuart and upon his return to Kentucky painted in a style that subsequently influenced an entire generation Later artists notably Oliver Frazer and William Edward West studied the lessons of Thomas Sully in Philadelphia Sully popularized the lush warmly colored and highly flattering style of portraiture practiced by many of the itinerant artists whose careers were facilitated by the introduction of steam and rail travel The Civil War provoked a dramatic shift in the cultural terrain further augmented by the rise of photography and the emergence of academic art centers Painters who had previously worked with a master painter or learned on their own were now able to study at established schools especially in Cincinnati which became one of the leading centers for the teaching of art in late nineteenth century America Several of the teachers there Frank Duveneck and Thomas Satterwhite Noble in particular had firsthand experience with avant garde European styles notably the realism and naturalism practiced in Munich and Paris in the last quarter of the nineteenth century and then taught in the art schools of New York and Philadelphia Part Two profiles the artists from this area and period who have appeared in previous art historical literature and have an identifiable body of work represented in public and private collections Individual biographies provide details of the artists' lives sources for further study and locations of works in public collections
