The Age of Structuralism ,1996-01-01 Structuralism began in linguistics and was enlarged by Claude Levi Strauss into a new way of thinking that views our world as consisting of relationships between structures we create rather than of objective realities The Age of Structuralism examines the work of seven writers who either expanded upon or reacted against Levi Strauss In a panoramic overview of the origins of deconstructionism and its critics Edith Kurzweil offers a lucid and penetrating portrait of the movement that dominated French intellectual life for much of the postwar era and which continues to influence the French intellectual milieu She explains Levi Strauss s strikingly original contributions then proceeds to illuminate the ideas of crusaders and critics The key figures dealt with include Louis Althusser who reinterpreted Marxism through a rereading of Marx s texts with the help of structuralist techniques Henri Lefebvre who remained faithful to Marx s humanism and was one of the earliest and most vehement critics of structuralism Paul Ricoeur whose phenomenology sought to reconcile ethical theory and intellectual pursuits Alain Touraine a socialist whose sociology of political action led him to dismiss structuralist concerns Jacques Lacan who criticized ego oriented psychoanalytic theory and practice and whose own work emphasized linguistic structures in psychoanalysis Roland Barthes whose literary criticism in its determination to reject all false notions and systems led to a highly idiosyncratic approach that drew upon all systems and finally Michel Foucault whose social histories of deviance medicine psychology grammar language sexuality criminology have reexamined every facet of social theory Placing these major figures in the context of political historical and psychoanalytic currents of the time The Age of Structuralism is a commanding and far reaching study of a decisive epoch in intellectual history Kurzweil s new opening essay explains how these towering figures prefigured current emphasis on semiotics post structuralism deconstruction and post postmodernism Kurt H Wolff called it lucid splendid and unobtrusive when the book first appeared It remains a central work in the appreciation of the French giants upon whose shoulders the new crop of thinkers expect to stand     The Havoc of Capitalism ,2010-01-01 Havoc of Capitalism brings together an interdisciplinary community of scholars from around the world to contribute to the dialogue about alternative global futures in the current context of environmental crisis uncertainty and inequality The contributors to this book provide insight into the havoc wrought by processes of capitalism colonialism and consumption Drawing on present environmental matters of concern such as the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina First Nation perspectives on ecological colonization and the possibilities for transformation and action this book makes a timely intervention in debates about accumulated historical debts ordinary ecological crises and the challenges for sustaining social and environmental alternatives     Democracy Inter-parliamentary Union,1998 Principles to realization Cherif Bassiouni     Alain Touraine Jon Clark,Marco Diani,2013-12-19 First published in 2004 The seventeen essays in this volume discuss the work of Alain Touraine and consider his contribution to the social sciences The text includes his most recent thinkings on the market and communities     Civil Society and Political Theory

Phenomenology of Life. Meeting the Challenges of the Present-Day World Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2006-03-30

Philosophy has been always received or bypassed for its resonance or aloofness with the spirit of the time Should not philosophy phenomenology of life be expected to do more to ascertain its validity Should it not pass the pragmatic test that is to respond directly to the life concerns of its time What is the role of the philosopher and philosophy today Due to the ever advancing scientific technological social and cultural changes that are shaping human life and the life world in transformation we are desperately seeking a measure to estimate life s unfolding a compass to stir the course between Scylla and Charibda to maintain human hood and creative insight for laying the cornerstones for the unforeseeable unfolding of life dynamisms It is this challenge which philosophy phenomenology of life meets with underlying onto-poietic unraveling of the hidden logoic concatenations of beingness in becoming The present collection of essays offers contributions to answer this challenge by focusing upon measure sharing in life intersubjectivity and communication societal equilibrium education and more It will be of great interest to those working in the fields of Phenomenology Philosophy History of Philosophy and Contemporary Philosophy

Can We Live Together? Alain Touraine, David Macey, 2000 In this book a leading French social thinker grapples with the gap between the tendency toward globalization of economic relations and mass culture and the increasingly sectarian nature of our social identities as members of ethnic religious or national groups Though at first glance it might seem as if the answer to the question Can we live together is that we already do live together watching the same television programs buying the same clothes and even using the same language to communicate from one country to another the author argues that in important ways we are farther than ever from belonging to the same society or the same culture Our small societies are not gradually merging into one vast global society instead the simultaneously political territorial and cultural entities that we once called societies or countries are breaking up before our eyes in the wake of ethnic political and religious conflict The result is that we live together only to the extent that we make the same gestures and use the same objects we do not communicate with one another in a meaningful way or govern ourselves together What power can now reconcile a transnational economy with the disturbing reality of introverted communities The author argues against the idea that all we can do is agree on some social rules of mutual tolerance and respect for personal freedom and forgo the attempt to forge deeper bonds He argues instead that we can use a focus on the personal life project the construction of an active self or subject ultimately to form meaningful social and political institutions The book concludes by exploring how social institutions might be retooled to safeguard the development of the personal subject and communication between subjects and by sketching out what these new social institutions might look like in terms of social relations politics and education
