Gerard Manley Hopkins Gerald Roberts, 2013-10-31 The Critical Heritage gathers together a large body of critical sources on major figures in literature Each volume presents contemporary responses to a writer's work enabling students and researchers to read for themselves for example comments on early performances of Shakespeare's plays or reactions to the first publication of Jane Austen's novels The carefully selected sources range from landmark essays in the history of criticism to journalism and contemporary opinion and little published documentary material such as letters and diaries Significant pieces of criticism from later periods are also included in order to demonstrate the fluctuations in an author's reputation Each volume contains an introduction to the writer's published works a selected bibliography and an index of works authors and subjects The Collected Critical Heritage set will be available as a set of 68 volumes and the series will also be available in mini sets selected by period in slipcase boxes and as individual volumes Airy Cages Christine

Harrison, 1995-06-01 Hopkins and Heidegger Brian Willems, 2011-10-27 Hopkins and Heidegger is a new exploration of Gerard Manley Hopkins poetics through the work of Martin Heidegger More radically Brian Willems argues that the work of Hopkins does no less than propose solutions to a number of hitherto unresolved questions regarding Heidegger's later writings vitalizing the concepts of both writers beyond their local contexts Willems examines a number of cross sections between the poetry and thought of Hopkins and the philosophy of Heidegger While neither writer ever directly addressed the other's work Hopkins died the year Heidegger was born 1899 and Heidegger never turns his thoughts on poetry to the Victorians a number of similarities between the two have been noted but never fleshed out Willems readings of these cross sections are centred on Hopkins concepts of inscape and instress and around Heidegger's reading of both appropriation Ereignis and the fourfold das Geviert This study will be of interest to scholars and postgraduates in both Victorian literature and Continental philosophy Humphrey Jennings and British Documentary Film: A Re-assessment Philip C.

Logan, 2016-05-13 Humphrey Jennings ranks amongst the greatest film makers of twentieth century Britain Although a relatively unknown figure to the wider public his war time documentaries are regarded by many including Lord Puttnam Lindsay Anderson and Mike Leigh as amongst the finest films of their time Groundbreaking both in terms of their technique and their interest in and respect for the everyday experiences of ordinary people these films are much more than mere government propaganda Instead Jennings work offers an unparalleled window into the British home front and the hopes fears and expectations of a nation fighting for its survival Yet until now Jennings has remained a shadowy figure with his life and work lacking the sustained scholarly investigation and reassessment they deserve As such film and social historians will welcome this new book which provides an up to date and thorough exploration of the relationships between Jennings life ideas and films Arguing that Jennings's film output can be viewed as part of a coherent intellectual exercise rather than just one aspect of the artistic interests of a wide ranging intellectual Philip Logan paints a much fuller and more convincing picture of the man than has previously been possible He shows for the first time exactly how Jennings s artistic expression was influenced by the fundamental intellectual social and cultural changes that shook British society during the first decades of the twentieth century Combining biography social history and international artistic thought the book offers a fascinating insight into Jennings his work the wider British documentary film movement and the interaction between art and propaganda Bringing together assessments of his tragically short life and his films this book is essential reading for anyone with an interest in British cinema or the social history of Britain in the 1930s and 40s The Wheel of Health Guy T
