Contemporary Narrative Paul Crosthwaite, 2011-01-05 This landmark collection of essays demonstrates the capacity of literary and cultural criticism working in dialogue with contemporary narrative texts to provide penetrating insights into a public sphere defined by a succession of overlapping global crises ranging from finance and economics to the environment geopolitics terrorism and public health

Uniting Regions and Nations through the Looking Glass of Literature Karoline Szatek-Tudor, 2017-03-07 This volume of essays emphasizes the common theme that bodies of water may segregate but ironically also unite nations and their readers through the literature that authors from various countries produce It reveals the importance of valuing literature that over time has travelled down bubbling streams across lakes along ocean waves and white water rivers because fiction drama and poetry know neither actual nor artificial boundaries and therefore they cross fertilize and even transform beliefs practices and roles across cultures Topics examined here range from South Africa s on going crises that in part mirror those of Somalia and Mozambique to poetry that has been reinvented as a literature in movement and to philosopher Henri Bergson s influence on other philosophers as well as Nikos Kazantzakis author of Zorba the Greek The scholars contributing to this collection hail from across the globe allowing the work to add to conversations on regional and international literary study with special emphasis on writings from such places as Japan Luxembourg the Caribbean the United States Hungary South Africa Greece and Turkey

Tracks and Traces of Violence Viviane Azarian, 2017 Tracks and Traces of Violence explores the social conditions political contexts and cultural spaces of violence in Africa It is comprised of accounts that underpin the visible and hidden tracks and traces of violence in the memories of traumatized individuals and groups It also interrogates the gaps silences and vacuities of in these memories as well as the role they play in shaping the facial contours of our modern societies Weaving together views from literature anthropology art cultural studies and museum studies this book provides deeper insight into the meanings of violent socialities spatialities and temporalities as well as into how they materialize in poetry fiction art and popular culture Series Contributions to African Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 80 Subject African Studies Sociology Art Literature Anthropology

 ,2022-02-22 Poverty and precarity are among the most pressing social issues of today and have become a significant thematic focus and analytical tool in the humanities in the last two decades This volume brings together an international group of scholars who investigate conceptualisations of poverty and precarity from the perspective of literary and cultural studies as well as linguistics Analysing literature visual arts and news media from across the postcolonial world they aim at exploring the frameworks of representation that impact affective and ethical responses to disenfranchised groups and precarious subjects Case studies focus on intersections between precarity and race class and gender institutional frameworks of publishing environmental precarity and the framing of refugees and migrants as precarious subjects Contributors Clelia Clini

Illustration Maxime Leroy,2018-10-25 This book analyses the practice of illustrating one s own works of literature The first part discusses theoretical aspects of authorial illustration and suggests some critical approaches to it In particular it considers the use of systemics as an actionable framework for its study The second part consists of commentaries on specific illustrations The book adopts a conversational style providing academics and students in literature and the fine arts with an enjoyable scholarly introduction to this thriving field of research Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik,2019 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of im prison ment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods Point, Dot, Period... The Dynamics of Punctuation in Text and Image Laurence Petit, Pascale Tollance, 2016-04-26 Point Dot Period The Dynamics of Punctuation in Text and Image is a collection of twelve previously unpublished essays which explore the fundamental role played by punctuation in the two semiotic fields of text and image Whilst drawing upon a wide range of material including painting engraving photography video art poetry fiction and journalism each essay contributes to the exploration of singular uses of punctuation which highlight the complexity of what remains in all cases a silent and yet particularly eloquent mode of expression By bringing together authors from a variety of fields such as linguistics literary studies and art criticism at a time when the relation between text and image occupies a prominent place in the critical landscape this volume offers new insights into the possibility and nature of their encounter and invites the reader to focus on the material aspect of visual and textual creation This collection also offers an original approach to the works of some major artists and canonical authors whilst simultaneously making room for emerging talents "What Countrey's This? And Whither Are We Gone?" Rosa E. Penna, Karoline Szatek-Tudor, Janet Hadley Williams, 2010-09-13 In the summer of 2008 the twelfth in a series of biennial conferences on the Literature of Region and Nation was held at Aberdeen University in the North East of Scotland Over fifty scholars representing no fewer than twenty different countries convened for the occasion and twenty two of the papers presented are included in this volume As at previous conferences in the series the papers range widely in approach in subject matter and in geographical coverage readers of this book will find explorations of literature from all five continents The papers are arranged thematically the central concepts of region and nation are examined in the first section and subsequent sets of papers go on to consider literary and pictorial representations of places and peoples literature of diaspora and exile a keynote topic of the conference the use of language particularly non standard languages in literary texts and artistic interactions between cultures All the papers have been peer reviewed and some extensively revised The collection demonstrates the vitality of scholarship in the field of regional literary studies Economies of Representation, 1790-2000 Dr Helen Gilbert, Dr Leigh Dale, 2013-04-28 Although postcolonialism has emerged as one of the most significant theoretical movements in literary and cultural studies it has paid scant attention to the importance of trade and trade relations to debates about culture Focusing on the past two centuries this volume investigates the links among trade colonialism and forms of representation posing the question What is the historical or modern relationship between economic inequality and imperial patterns of representation and reading Rather than dealing exclusively with a particular industry or type of industry the contributors take up the issue of how various economies have been represented in Aboriginal art in literature by North American Caribbean Portuguese South African First Nations Australian British and Aboriginal authors and in a diverse range of writings that includes travel diaries missionary texts the findings of the Leprosy Investigation Commission early medical accounts and media representations of HIV AIDS Examining trade in commodities as various as illicit drugs liquor bananas tourism adventure fiction and modern Aboriginal art as well as cultural exchanges in politics medicine and literature the essays reflect the widespread origins of the contributors themselves who are based throughout the English speaking world Taken as a whole this book contests the commonplace view promoted by some modern economists that trade in and of itself has a leveling effect equalising cultures places and peoples demonstrating instead the ways in which commerce has created and exacerbated differences in power

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945

Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Klopper,Craig MacKenzie,2010 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country s literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945
