Nile Sparrows Ibrahim Aslan, 2009 Set in the author's own Nile side neighborhood of Warraq Aslan's second novel the first to be translated and published in English chronicles the daily rhythm of life of rural migrants to Cairo and their complex webs of familial and neighborly relations over half a century It opens with the mysterious disappearance of the tiny grandmother Hanem who is over 100 years old and is last seen by her daughter in law Dalal Dalal does not have the heart to tell Hanem that her grown children Nargis and Abdel Reheem have both been dead for some time Her grandson Mr Abdalla who has children of his own and not a few flecks of gray in his hair reluctantly sets out for their home village to search for her embarking on a bittersweet odyssey into his family's past and a confrontation with his own aging In an elliptical narrative Aslan limns a series of vignettes that mimic the workings of memory moving backward and forward in time and held together by a series of recurrent figures and images There is Abdalla's father the tragic al Bahey Uthman his quirky and earthy uncle Abdel Reheem and his sweet mother Nargis who dies with her simplest desires unfulfilled Aslan's moving portrait of the quotidian dramas that constitute the lives of ordinary Egyptians is untainted by populist pretensions or belittling romanticism and full of the humor and heartbreaking pathos that have become trademarks of the author's style

Leadership and Coherence Nathan W. Harter, 2014-07-17 Leadership and Coherence investigates how leaders justify their decisions and how they bring about coherence amongst followers Taking a cognitive approach it builds on the work of Hannah Arendt to attempt a phenomenology of judgment examining how the moral imperative experienced by leaders can be shared by their community so both leader and led are guided by a mutual purpose Through biographical case studies of historical leaders this book illustrates how successful leaders operate in a turbulent world not only making their own decisions but also gathering likeminded followers to share in a common vision and shared sense of purpose

Freud and the Non-European Edward W. Said, 2014-01-07 Using an impressive array of material from literature archaeology and social theory Edward Said explores the profound implications of Freud's Moses and Monotheism for Middle East politics today The resulting book reveals Said's abiding interest in Freud's work and its important influence on his own He proposes that Freud's assumption that Moses was an Egyptian undermines any simple ascription of a pure identity and further that identity itself cannot be thought or worked through without the recognition of the limits inherent in it Said suggests that such an unresolved nuanced sense of identity might if embodied in political reality have formed or might still form the basis for a new understanding between Jews and Palestinians Instead Israel's relentless march towards an exclusively Jewish state denies any sense of a more complex inclusive past

No One Sleeps in Alexandria Ibrahim Abdel Meguid, 2006-04-01 This sweeping novel depicts the intertwined lives of an assortment of Egyptians Muslims and Copts northerners and southerners men and women as they begin to settle in Egypt's great second city and explores how the Second World War starting in supposedly faraway Europe comes crashing down on them affecting their lives in fateful ways Central to the novel is the story of a striking friendship between Sheikh Magd al Din a devout Muslim with peasant roots in northern Egypt and Dimyan a Copt with roots in southern Egypt in their journey of survival and self discovery Woven around this narrative are the stories of other characters in the city in the villages or in the faraway desert closer to the fields of combat And then there is the story of Alexandria itself as written by history as experienced by its denizens and as touched by the war Throughout the author captures the cadences of everyday life in the Alexandria of the early 1940s and boldly explores the often delicate question of religious differences in depth and on more than one level No One Sleeps in Alexandria adds an authentically Egyptian vision of Alexandria to the many literary but mainly Western Alexandrias we know already it may be the same space in which Cavafy Forster and Durrell move but it is certainly not the same world
