Notable Americans of Czechoslovak Ancestry in Arts and Letters and in Education Miloslav Rechcigl Jr., 2021-11-02 As pointed out in my last two publications no comprehensive study has been undertaken about the American Learned Men and Women with Czechoslovak roots The aim of this work is to correct this glaring deficiency with the focus on immigration from the period of mass migration and beyond irrespective whether they were born in their European ancestral homes or whether they have descended from them Whereas in the two mentioned monographs the emphasis has been on scholars and social and natural scientists and men and women in medicine applied sciences and engineering respectively the present compendium deals with notable Americans of Czechoslovak ancestry in arts and letters and in education With respect to women although most professional fields were closed to them through much of the nineteenth century the area of arts and letters was opened to them as noted earlier and as this compendium authenticates Union League Club of Chicago Art Collection Union League Club of Chicago, Marianne Richter, Wendy Greenhouse, 2003

A Place in the Sun Thomas Brent Smith, 2016-01-20 Of the hundreds of foreign students who attended the Munich Art Academy between 1910 and 1915 Walter Ufer 1876 1936 and E. Martin Hennings 1886 1956 returned to the United States to foster the development of a national art They ultimately established their reputations in the American Southwest The two German American artists shared much in common and both would gain membership in the celebrated Taos Society of Artists Featuring nearly 150 color plates and historical photographs A Place in the Sun is a long overdue tribute to the lives achievements and artistic legacy of these two important artists In tracing the lifelong friendship and intersecting careers of Ufer and Hennings the contributors to this volume explore the social and artistic implications of the artists German heritage and training Following their training in Munich both men hoped to build careers in the spirited art environment of Chicago Both were sponsored by wealthy businessmen many of German descent The support of these patrons allowed Ufer and Hennings to travel to the American Southwest where they like so many other talented artists fell under the spell of Taos and its picturesque scenery They also encountered the region's Native peoples and Hispanic culture that inspired many of their paintings Despite their mutual interests Ufer and Hennings were not identical by any means Each artist had a distinct artistic style and as the essays in this volume reveal the two men could not have had more different personalities or career trajectories Connoisseurs of southwestern art have long admired the masterworks of Ufer and Hennings By offering a rich sampling of their paintings alongside informative essays by noted art historians A Place in the Sun ensures that their significant contributions to American art will be long remembered A Place in the Sun is published in cooperation with the Denver Art Museum Max Liebermann and International Modernism Marion Deshmukh, Françoise Forster-Hahn, Barbara Gaehtgens, 2011-05 Although Max Liebermann 1847 1935 began his career as a realist painter depicting scenes of rural labor Dutch village life and the countryside by the turn of the century his paintings had evolved into colorful images of bourgeois life and leisure that critics associated with French impressionism During a time of increasing German nationalism his paintings and cultural politics sparked numerous aesthetic and political controversies His eminent career and his reputation intersected with the dramatic and violent events of modern German history from the Empire to the Third Reich The Nazis persecution of modern and Jewish artists led to the obliteration of Liebermann from the narratives of modern art but this volume contributes to the recent wave of scholarly literature that works to recover his role and his oeuvre from an international perspective Karl Kraus und Die Fackel Gilbert J. Carr, Edward Timms, 2001 John Steuart Curry Patricia A. Junker, 1998 John Steuart Curry Inventing the Middle West is the first comprehensive study in more than fifty years of this member of the great triumvirate of American Regionalists Thomas Hart Benton Curry and Grant Wood It revives the reputation of one of the most important and controversial artists of the first half of the twentieth century whose paintings of farm life in his native Kansas including baptisms and tornados of the circus of American history and of the American scene in general were dramatically eclipsed by the ascendancy of abstract art and the New York School at midcentury 68 colour 114 b w illustrations Sport and the European Avant-Garde (1900-1945), 2022-02-07 What has been the significance of sport for the European avant garde in the first half of the 20th century From an international and interdisciplinary perspective we show the extent to which avant garde art and culture was shaped by the dynamic encounter with modern sports Our focus lies on avant garde artists groups movements and institutions across Europe including Cubism Futurism Vorticism Purism Expressionism Dada the Bauhaus Constructivism in Central and Eastern Europe thereby unfolding the diversity of avant garde responses to modern sports The book in front of you includes fascinating readings in the fields of aesthetics visual cultures cultural history and politics and highlights why specific kinds of sport such as cycling boxing and football became important for avant garde movements and artists --To Build Up a Rich Collection-- Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art, Bill North, 2003 The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context Isabel Wünsche, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Expressionism in a Transnational Context is a challenging exploration of the transnational formation dissemination and transformation of expressionism outside of the German speaking world in regions such as Central and Eastern Europe the Baltics and Scandinavia Western and Southern Europe North and Latin America and South Africa in the first half of the twentieth century Comprising a series of essays by an international group of scholars in the fields of art history and literary and cultural studies the volume addresses the intellectual discussions and artistic developments arising in the context of the expressionist movement in the various art centers and cultural regions The authors also examine the implications of expressionism in artistic practice and its influence on modern and contemporary cultural production Essential for an in depth understanding and discussion of expressionism this volume opens up new perspectives on developments in the visual arts of this period and challenges the traditional narratives that have predominantly focused on artistic styles and national movements Albert Bloch Frank Baron,1995
