Drug Use in Metropolitan America Robert M. Bray,1999 Recently the Research Triangle Institute completed a five year study sponsored by the National Institute on Drug Abuse called The Washington D C Metropolitan Area Drug Study DC MADS The study attempted to look at the nature and extent of drug abuse among diverse populations living in a single metropolitan area focusing particularly on underrepresented populations such as the homeless the institutionalized and juvenile offenders along with populations that have been studied in more depth such as persons living in households The goal was to not only establish prevalence correlates and consequences of drug abuse but to establish a research model for conducting other such studies Drug Use in Metropolitan America describes relates and integrates findings from the DC MADS study More than that though this book places the findings in the larger context of our national drug abuse problem Therefore while there is some reporting of findings there is more emphasis on examining the policy research and program implications that flow from the studies This book will be of interest to researchers practitioners and policy makers in a number of areas as well as to academics in Sociology courses dealing with drugs deviance social problems and research methodology It should also appeal to those concerned with Psychology and Medicine Allied Health

Pan-African Issues in Drugs and Drug Control Anita Kalunta-Crumpton,2016-03-03 Popular war on drugs rhetoric postulates drug use in the West as the product of the drug production and trafficking roles of non western societies and non western peoples within and outside the West In such rhetoric African societies and people of African descent in Africa and in Diaspora have received criticisms for their respective roles in drug production and drug trafficking including the position of many African countries as transit routes for drugs exported to the West By contrast the abuse of drugs by populations of African origin around the globe and the harmful consequences of the drug trade and drug abuse on these populations has been little studied Drawing on contributions from seven countries in Africa two countries in Europe and seven countries in the Americas this volume examines the relationships between drug use drug trafficking drug controls and the black population of a given society Each chapter examines the nature and pattern of drug use or abuse the effects of drug use or abuse illegal or and legal on other areas such as health and crime the nature pattern and perpetration of trafficking and sale of illegal or and legal drugs and past and current policies and control of illegal and or legal drugs It will be essential reading for all students academics and policy makers working in the area of drug control

The Psychology of Religion Ralph W. Hood (Jr.),Peter C. Hill,Bernard Spilka,2018-09-17 Keeping up with the rapidly growing research base the leading graduate level psychology of religion text is now in a fully updated fifth edition. It takes a balanced empirically driven approach to understanding the role of religion in individual functioning and social behavior. Integrating research on numerous different faith traditions, the book addresses the quest for meaning, links between religion and biology, religious thought, belief, and behavior across the lifespan, experiential dimensions of religion and spirituality, the social psychology of religious organizations and connections to coping, adjustment, and mental disorder. Chapter opening quotations and topical research boxes enhance the readability of this highly instructive text.

New to This Edition: New topics: cognitive science of religion, religion and violence, and groups that advocate terrorist tactics. The latest empirical findings, including hundreds of new references. Expanded discussion of atheism and varieties of nonbelief. More research on religions outside the Judeo-Christian tradition, particularly Islam. State-of-the-art research methods, including techniques for assessing neurological states.
