Alaskan Tale By Jiro Nitta:

An Alaskan Tale by Jiro Nitta 日本, 1991 A novel based on the life and experiences of Frank Yasuda a Japanese fisherman who established a settlement at Beaver and a close friendship between Alaska and Japan Japanese American History Brian Niiya, Japanese American National Museum (Los Angeles, Calif.), 1993 Produced under the auspices of the Japanese American National Museum in Los Angeles this comprehensive reference culls information from primary sources Japanese language texts and documents oral histories and other previously neglected or obscured materials to document the history and nature of the Japanese American experience as told by the people who lived it The volume is divided into three major sections a chronology with some 800 entries a 400 entry encyclopedia covering people events groups and cultural terms and an annotated bibliography of major works on Japanese Americans Includes about 80 bandw illustrations and photographs Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Genes de Large Frederick J. Kent, 2005 This book was written in diary form to chronicle events during our annual stay at Chandalar Lake in the Brooks Range Myself and two friends built a cabin on the lake shore in 1991 My wife and I spend one month there during the short arctic autumn each year It s our piece of tranquility played out in a cabin by a lake on the tundra The following is a sample diary entry September 13 Low cloud cover calm all day thirty eight degrees in the a m It was fifty six degrees in the p m The snow has stayed back maintaining a hold only on the tops of the highest mountains It waits patiently for its ultimate advance In the meantime we have the arctic version of an Indian Summer and we love it The birch alder and berry bushes have given up their blazing colorful dance of autumn and let their costumes fall willing to wait for the rhythms of spring At the end of each diary entry there is a poem that corresponds to activities of the day or a historic quotation pertaining to the Chandalar area Brooks Range or Interior Alaska There are also short memoir pieces chronicling events from all over Alaska from territorial days to the present Memoir The Season Preparing for the hunting season had been a concern of mine for a couple of weeks No one in the village sold hunting licenses and it appeared that if you wanted one you had to send to Kodiak This was not a popular idea If one person had a license Fish and Game might want everyone to buy one I could understand that you had a right to hunt without a license if no one sold them but how did you find out when the season started and ended I had been seeing an old Aleut man with a shotgun coming home along the road at dusk every now and then The kids at school told me it was old Custa I stopped him on the road along the beach Custa I said When does the hunting season open He laid down the Emperor Goose he was carrying leaned on his rusty old shotgun and went into deep thought The silence was punctuated by the boom and hiss of waves pounding and receding through the pebbles on the beach Well he finally said I try to get out about daylight and get home about dark He picked up his goose placed his shotgun under his arm and shuffled on down the road I lived in the Aleutian Islands for a number of years and never asked another soul about hunting seasons Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007 , 2008-02 Alaska History , 1989 The Japanese Filmography Stuart Galbraith IV, 1996-01-01 This encyclopedia reference work treats a near century's worth of Japanese films released in the United States in theaters or on video and the important actors, directors, producers, and technical personnel involved in them. For people, each entry provides birth date, education, death (when appropriate), a brief biography, and a filmography. The movies are arranged by original U.S. release titles and include cast and production credits, studio, Japanese and U.S. distributor, sound format, running time in both the U.S. and Japanese versions, release dates in both countries, alternate titles, and rating (when appropriate) of U.S. release.

Taken from the Paradise Isle Heidi Kim, 2015-07-08. Crafted from George Hoshida's diary and memoir as well as letters faithfully exchanged with his wife Tamae, Taken from the Paradise Isle is an intimate account of the anger, resignation, philosophy, optimism, and love with which the Hoshida family endured their separation and incarceration during World War II. George and Tamae Hoshida and their children were an American family of Japanese ancestry who lived in Hawaii. In 1942, George was arrested as a potentially dangerous alien and interned in a series of camps over the next two years. Meanwhile, Tamae was forced to leave her handicapped eldest daughter behind in a nursing home in Hawaii. Tamae and three daughters, including a newborn, were incarcerated at the Jerome Relocation Center in Arkansas. George and Tamae regularly exchanged letters during this time, and George maintained a diary including personal thoughts, watercolors, and sketches. In Taken from the Paradise Isle, these sources are bolstered by extensive archival documents and editor Heidi Kim's historical contextualization, providing a new and important perspective on the tragedy of the incarceration as it affected Japanese American families in Hawaii. This personal narrative of the Japanese American experience adds to the growing testimony of memoirs and oral histories that illuminate the emotional, psychological, physical, and economic toll suffered by Nikkei as the result of the violation of their civil rights during World War II. Biography East and West, University of Hawaii at Manoa, College of Languages, Linguistics, and Literature, East-West Center, 1989. Newsletter, 1993. Tanana and Chandalar, Robert Addison McKennan, 2006. McKennan chronicles both his day-to-day struggles to survive in the Alaska wilderness and his frustrations as an anthropologist. He recorded his field methods and the difficulties he encountered in pursuing his research. The result is a personal memoir of a dedicated researcher and sensitive observer. Jacket. The Toho Studios Story, Stuart Galbraith IV, 2008-05-16. Since its inception in 1933, Toho Co. Ltd., Japan's most famous movie production company and distributor, has produced and/or distributed some of the most notable films ever to come out of Asia, including Seven Samurai, Godzilla, When a Woman Ascends the Stairs, Kwaidan, Woman in the Dunes, Ran, Shall We Dance?, Ringu, and Spirited Away. While the western world often defines Toho by its iconic classics, which include the Godzilla franchise and many of the greatest films of the legendary director Akira Kurosawa and actor Toshiro Mifune, these pictures represent but a tiny fraction of Toho's rich history. The Toho Studios Story: A History and Complete Filmography provides a complete picture of every Toho feature the Japanese studio produced and released, as well as foreign films that it distributed during its first 75 years. Presented chronologically, each entry in the filmography includes, where applicable, the original Japanese title, a direct translation of that title the film's international U S release and alternate titles production credits including each film's producers director screenwriters cinematographers art directors and composers among others casts with character names production companies technical specs running times and release dates U S release data including distributor whether the film was released subtitled or dubbed and alternate versions domestic and international awards and plot synopses

Ross, 2013-10-22 In the early twentieth century an industrial salmon cannery thrived along the Fraser River in British Columbia Chinese factory workers lived in an adjoining bunkhouse and Japanese fishermen lived with their families in a nearby camp Today the complex is nearly gone and the site overgrown with vegetation but artifacts from these immigrant communities linger just beneath the surface In this groundbreaking comparative archaeological study of Asian immigrants in North America Douglas Ross excavates the Ewen Cannery to explore how its immigrant workers formed a new cultural identity in the face of dramatic displacement Ross demonstrates how some homeland practices persisted while others changed in response to new contextual factors reflecting the complexity of migrant experiences Instead of treating ethnicity as a bounded stable category Ross shows that ethnic identity is shaped and transformed as cultural traditions from home and host societies come together in the context of local choices structural constraints and consumer society Whitaker's
