Battarbee and Namatjira is the biography of two artists Rex Battarbee and Albert Namatjira one white Australian from Warrnambool in Victoria the other Aboriginal of the Arrernte people from the Hermannsburg Mission south of Alice Springs From their first encounters in the early 1930s when Battarbee introduced Namatjira to the techniques of water colour painting through the period of Namatjira's popularity as a painter to the tragic circumstances leading to his death in 1959 their close relationship was to have a decisive impact on Australian art This biography illustrated with photographs makes extensive use of Battarbee's diaries for the first time to throw new light on Namatjira's life and to bring Battarbee who has been largely ignored by biographers back into focus Some of its findings will be controversial By moving between the artists and their backgrounds and looking closely at the nature of their friendship Edmond is able to portray the personal and social complexities the two men faced while at the same time illuminating larger cultural themes the treatment of the Arrernte and Indigenous people generally the influence of the Lutheran church the development of anthropology and the evolution of Australian art
