Revenue Sharing and Its Alternatives: what Future for Fiscal Federalism? United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee. Subcommittee on Fiscal Policy, 1967

Living Church Annual, 1917

Europa World Year Taylor & Francis Group, 2004

Toward a New Mission Statement for Canadian Fiscal Federalism Harvey Lazar, 2000 Canada State of the Federation 1999-2000 identifies and explains major threads in Canadian fiscal federalism Set against the cacophony over domineering and arrogant centralization from supporters of Quebec sovereignty on the one hand and fears that excessive decentralization is fuelling an obsessively neo liberal agenda on the other these essays replace much of this heat with new light The authors begin with an examination of recent developments in the theoretical literature surrounding fiscal federalism They then examine some of the major issues facing the federation Is there a vertical imbalance between federal and provincial governments Does Ottawa collect more revenues than are needed relative to its spending responsibilities while the provinces are under funded How do federal provincial struggles over money and jurisdictional power affect local government or the para public sector emerging aboriginal governments and citizens Federal government actions in 1999 suggest that Ottawa has not lost all of its interest in social outcomes It is however seeking to influence the well being of citizens by transferring money to them directly rather than through transfers to provinces The authors suggest that if this trend continues the approach to the millennium will be seen as a watershed in public policy given that current trends in Canadian fiscal federalism are as much about re balancing the federation as they are about decentralization The Canadian Baptist ,1909 The Evolving Use and the Changing Role of Interstate Compacts Caroline N. Broun,Michael L. Buenger,2006 The Evolving Use and the Changing Role of Interstate Compacts is a long needed guide to the law and use of interstate compacts This book explains the historical basis of compacts and the legal underpinnings of compacts It covers such diverse topics as federal and state court jurisdiction compact created administrative agencies Eleventh Amendment immunity drafting considerations and the use of compacts in specific areas such as crime control child welfare environmental regulation and economic development The book also examines why interstate compacts are providing to be the vehicle of choice for cooperation between states and provides practitioners with the tools they need to understand create and make the best use of such agreements Yearbook of American & Canadian Churches 2012 Eileen W. Cowan and Charles Guiguet The Mammals of British Columbia last revised in 1965 Visiting Grandchildren Donald Savoie, 2006-03-04 During his successful campaign to become Conservative Party leader in the spring of 2004 Stephen Harper said of the Maritime provinces We will see the day when the region is not the place where you visit your grandparents but instead more often than not the place where you visit your grandchildren In Visiting Grandchildren esteemed policy analyst and scholar Donald J Savoie explores how Canadian economic policies have served to exclude the Maritime provinces from the wealth enjoyed in many other parts of the country especially southern Ontario and calls for a radical new approach in how Canadian governments determine policies that affect the different regions Savoie advocates a ratchet effect for national economic policies whereby regions take turns at high growth with the slow growth region of one period becoming the high growth region of the next with none moving from slow growth to decline He demonstrates how this pattern has been effective in countries undergoing long term regional convergence and how it would recognize that what is good for the Maritimes is good for Canada no less than what is good for Ontario is good for Canada Visiting Grandchildren looks to history accidents of geography and to the workings of national political and administrative institutions to explain the relative underdevelopment of the Maritime provinces Savoie argues that the region must strive to redefine its relationship with the national government and with other regions that it must ask fundamental questions of itself about its own responsibility for its present underdevelopment develop a cooperative mindset and embrace the market if it is to prosper in the twenty first century Savoie s work serves as the blueprint for a new way of envisioning the Maritime region
