The Repeating Island Antonio Benítez-Rojo, 1997-01-10 In this second edition of The Repeating Island Antonio Benítez Rojo a master of the historical novel short story and critical essay continues to confront the legacy and myths of colonialism This co-winner of the 1993 MLA Katherine Singer Kovacs Prize has been expanded to include three entirely new chapters that add a Lacanian perspective and a view of the carnivalesque to an already brilliant interpretive study of Caribbean culture As he did in the first edition Benítez Rojo redefines the Caribbean by drawing on history economics sociology cultural anthropology psychoanalysis literary theory and nonlinear mathematics His point of departure is chaos theory which holds that order and disorder are not the antithesis of each other in nature but function as mutually generative phenomena Benítez Rojo argues that within the apparent disorder of the Caribbean the area's discontinuous landmasses its different colonial histories ethnic groups languages traditions and politics there emerges an island of paradoxes that repeats itself and gives shape to an unexpected and complex sociocultural archipelago Benítez Rojo illustrates this unique form of identity with powerful readings of texts by Las Casas Guillén Carpentier García Márquez Walcott Harris Buitrago and Rodríguez Juli

Magical Realism Lois Parkinson Zamora, Wendy B. Faris, 1995 On magical realism in literature

Carpentier's Baroque Fiction Steve Wakefield, 2004 Carpentier was one of the first novelists to introduce a version of magical realism and the neo baroque into Latin American fiction This study focuses on one of the first novelists to introduce a version of magical realism and the neo baroque into Latin American fiction Original research colours eyewitness accounts of Alejo Carpentier's travels through Spain before and during the Spanish Civil War and the inspiration that he drew from the Baroque architecture he encountered there The origins of Carpentier's uniquely baroque style are found in his endeavour to create a period ambience in his historical fictions through descriptions of visual arts and architectural settings and parodies of the literary style of Spanish Golden Age writers Medusa's gaze is used as a metaphor for the petrifying power of the Baroque as a weapon of European dominance By wielding the same weapon in an act of postcolonial defiance Carpentier enabled a reassertion of Latin American culture and laid the foundations for the 1960s Boom in the Latin American novel

STEVE WAKEFIELD is Visiting Research Fellow at the University of New South Wales Australia Alejo Carpentier, el peregrino en su patria Roberto González Echevarría, 1993 Writing the Nation John Charles Hawley, 1996 The fourteen essays in this volume contribute significantly to a consideration of the interplay between nation and narration that currently dominates both literary and cultural studies With the fervent reassertion of tribal domains throughout the world and with the consequent threat to the stability of a common discourse in putative countries once mapped and subsequently dominated by colonizing powers the need for such studies becomes increasingly obvious Whose idea of a nation is to prevail throughout these postcolonial territories whose claims to speak for a people are to be legitimized by international agreement amid the demands of patriotic rhetoric what role may be allowed for individual expression that attempts to transcend the immediate political agenda who may assume positions of authority in defining an ethnic paradigm such are the questions variously addressed in this volume The essayists who here contribute to the discussion are students of the various national literatures that are now becoming more generally available in the West The range of topics is broad moving globally from the Caribbean and South America through the African continent and on to the Indian subcontinent and moving temporally through the nineteenth century and into the closing days of our twentieth We deal with poetry fiction and theoretical writings and have two types of reader in mind We hope to introduce the uninitiated to the breadth of this expanding field and we hope to aid those with a specialized knowledge of one or other of these literatures in their consideration of the extent to which post colonial writing may or may not form a reasonably unified field We seek to avoid the new form of colonialism that might impose a theoretical template to these quite divergent writings falsely rendering it all accessible and familiar At the same time we do note questions and concerns that cross borders whether these imagined lines are spatial temporal gendered or racial Alejo Carpentier Penny Newman, 197? Encyclopedia of Latin American Literature Verity Smith, 1997-03-26 This work is a guide to writers' works and topics in Central and South America and the Caribbean It contains over 400 entries written by 160 contributors which are organized into four major types: topic, individual writer, individual work and survey

Voices Out of Africa in Twentieth-century Spanish Caribbean Literature Julia Cuervo Hewitt, 2009 Hewitt Spanish and Portuguese Pennsylvania State U explores the representation of Africa and Afro Caribbean-ness in Spanish Caribbean literature of the 20th century Her main argument is that the literary representation of Africa and Africanness meaning practices belief systems music art myths popular knowledge in Spanish speaking Caribbean societies constructs a self referential discourse in which Africa and African things shift to a Caribbean landscape as the site of the M Other Or in other words these representations imaginatively rescue and simultaneously construct a Caribbean cultural imaginary conceived as the Other within that associates Africa with a cultural womb Among the texts she explores are Fernando Ortiz s interpretations of the Black Carnival in Cuba the early Afro Cuban poems of Alejo Carpentier the Afro Cuban stories of Lydia Cabrera a number of literary representations of the figure of the runaway slave and two works by Puerto Rican novelist Edgardo Rodriguez Julia

Encyclopedia of the World Novel, 1900 to the Present Michael David Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition a useful and engaging reference to the vast world of the novel in world literature

Literary Landscapes of Time Jobst Welge, Juliane Tauchnitz, 2022-11-07 The volume asks how the literatures of the Americas and the Caribbean present multiple or internally differentiated spaces and how these are distinguished or traversed by different temporalities The historical and post colonial experiences of these areas turns them into especially fertile ground for the exploration of the connections between landscape geography and historical temporal palimpsests as well as the specificities of literary form The contributions are dedicated to individual yet conceptually interconnected studies of staggered multiple non simultaneous temporalities in modern and contemporary literature The volume adopts a comparative perspective throughout and intends to foster the dialogue between the study of Latin American and Caribbean literatures in Spanish Portuguese French and English Therefore the individual essays are not grouped according to geographical or linguistic areas but follow a trajectory from spatiotemporal constellations of the 19th century to ruined catastrophic landscapes and the geopoetic inscriptions of time in regions The essays should appeal to all readers interested in World Literature Hemispheric Studies as well as temporal approaches to space and geography

The Return of the Baroque in Modern Culture Gregg Lambert, 2004-11-01 The Return of the Baroque in Modern Culture explores the reinvention of the early European Baroque within the philosophical cultural and literary thought of postmodernism in Europe the United States the Caribbean and Latin America Gregg Lambert argues that the return of the Baroque expresses a principle often hidden behind the cultural logic of postmodernism in its various national and cultural incarnations a principal often in variance with Anglo American modernism Writers and theorists examined include Walter Benjamin Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Octavio Paz and Cuban novelists Alejo Carpentier and Severo Sarduy A highly original and compelling reinterpretation of modernity The Return of the Baroque in Modern Culture answers Raymond Williams charge to create alternative national and international accounts of aesthetic and cultural history in order to challenge the centrality of Anglo American modernism
