Ferrier, 1989-01-01 Shows and describes examples of Persian calligraphy glass tile pottery lacquer books paintings jewelry textiles sculpture and architecture Isfahan and its Palaces Sussan Babaie, 2008-07-14 Winner of the Houshang Pourshariati Iranian Studies Book Award 2009 This beautifully illustrated history of Safavid Isfahan 1501-1722 explores the architectural and urban forms and networks of socio cultural action that reflected a distinctly early modern and Persian Shi'i practice of kingship An immense building campaign initiated in 1590-91 at the millennial threshold of the Islamic calendar 1000 A H transformed Isfahan from a provincial medieval and largely Sunni city into an urban centered representation of the first Imami Shi'i empire in the history of Islam. The historical process of Shi'ification of Safavid Iran and the deployment of the arts in situating the shifts in the politico-religious agenda of the imperial household informs Sussan Babaie's study of palatial architecture and urban environments of Isfahan and the earlier capitals of Tabriz and Qazvin. Babaie argues that since the Safavid claim presumed the inheritance both of the charisma of the Shi'i Imams and of the aura of royal splendor integral to ancient Persian notions of kingship, a ceremonial regime was gradually devised in which access and proximity to the shah assumed the contours of an institutionalized form of feasting. Talar palaces, a new typology in Islamic palatial designs, and the urban spatial articulation of access and proximity are the architectural anchors of this argument. Cast in the comparative light of urban spaces and palace complexes elsewhere and earlier in the Timurid, Ottoman, and Mughal realms as well as in the early modern European capitals, Safavid Isfahan emerges as the epitome of a new architectural urban paradigm in the early modern age.

Arts of the Islamic Book Anthony Welch, Stuart Cary Welch, Asia Society, Kimbell Art Museum, 1982. The collection of Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan contains some of the world's finest examples of painting and calligraphy and is perhaps the most important private Muslim collection of Islamic art. This volume, richly illustrated with 24 color plates and 101 black and white photographs, provides a brief history of the collection and offers a generous selection of paintings, manuscripts, calligraphies, bindings, and drawings that spans the geographic range of Islamic art from North Africa to India. Detailed discussions of each illustration introduce readers to the major patrons and artists in the development of the arts of the precious book. Anthony Welch and Stuart Cary Welch have selected the most magnificent pages from the prince's collection for this volume. Included are portraits of the great Mughal rulers of India, paintings from the pages of a sixteenth-century Shahnamah, Book of Kings of Iran, and stunning examples of calligraphy. Among the Muslim manuscripts represented are Qur'ans from North Africa, Ottoman Turkey, Iran, and India; historical works such as the Ottoman illustrated manuscript of the Tuhfat ul Leta'if philosophical treatises such as the Ethics of Nasir al-Din Tusi of India; and literary works such as the late sixteenth-century Anvar-i Suhayli, commissioned and probably illustrated by the leading Safavid Iranian painter Sadiqi Bek. The Regional Travel Guide for Tehran and Central Iran (Iran) , A World History of Art Hugh Honour, John Fleming, 2005. Over two decades, this art historical tour de force has consistently proved the classic introduction to humanity's artistic heritage. From our paleolithic past to our digitised present, every continent and culture is covered in an articulate and well-balanced discussion. In this Seventh Edition, the text has been revised to embrace developments in archaeology and art historical research, while the renowned contemporary art historian Michael Archer has greatly expanded the discussion of the past twenty years, providing a new perspective on the latest developments. The insight, elegance, and fluency that the authors bring to their text are complemented by 1458 superb illustrations, half of which are now in colour. These images, together with the numerous maps and architectural plans, have been chosen to represent the most significant chronological, regional, and individual styles of Blair,Jonathan M. Bloom,1996-09-25 They discuss for example how the universal caliphs of the first six centuries gave way to regional rulers and how in this new world order Iranian forms techniques and motifs played a dominant role in the artistic life of most of the Muslim world the one exception was the Maghrib an area protected from the full brunt of the Mongol invasions where traditional models continued to inspire artists and patrons By the sixteenth century say the authors the eastern Mediterranean under the Ottomans and the area of northern India under the Mughals had become more powerful and the Iranian models of early Ottoman and Mughal art gradually gave way to distinct regional and imperial styles Safavid Art and Architecture Sheila R.
