Of Kuzari 1946:

Abraham Ibn Ezra and the Rise of Medieval Hebrew Science Shlomo Sela, 2021-10-11 The main focus of this book is the study of Abraham Ibn Ezra's 1089-1167 scientific thought within the historical and cultural context of his times. His scientific contribution may be understood as the very embodiment of the rise of medieval Hebrew science, a process in which Jewish scholars gradually adopted the holy tongue as a vehicle to express secular and scientific ideas. The first part provides a comprehensive picture of Ibn Ezra's scientific corpus. The second part studies his linguistic strategy. The third and fourth parts study Ibn Ezra's introductions to his scientific treatises, and the fifth part is devoted to studying four encounters with Claudius Ptolemy, the main scientific character featuring in Ibn Ezra's literary work. Fifty Key Jewish Thinkers Dan Cohn-Sherbok, 2013-01-11 This popular Key Guide provides an overview of the broader intellectual currents of Jewish philosophy. It includes a chronological table and maps. A History of Jewish Philosophy in the Middle Ages Colette Sirat, 1990-11-30 Jewish medieval philosophy has formed the subject of much research over the past thirty years since the appearance of Gutmann's Philosophies of Judaism, resulting in greater understanding and a new need for summation. This important work, now available in paperback, aims to supply that need and devotes ample discussion to the major figures of the period, like Saadiah Gaon, Maimonides, Abraham Ibn Ezra, and Judah Halevi. It also gives much attention to the discussion and presentation of texts by lesser-known authors clustering around the greater men and movements. The Qur'ānic Pagans and Related Matters Patricia Crone, 2016-06-10 Patricia Crone's Collected Studies in Three Volumes brings together a number of her published, unpublished, and revised writings on Near Eastern and Islamic history, arranged around three distinct but interconnected themes. Volume 1, The Qur'anic Pagans and Related Matters, pursues the reconstruction of the religious environment in which Islam arose and develops an intertextual approach to studying the Qur'anic religious milieu. Volume 2, The Iranian Reception of Islam: The Non-Traditionalist Strands, examines the reception of pre-Islamic legacies in Islam, above all that of the Iranians. Volume 3, Islam, the Ancient Near East, and Varieties of Godlessness, places the rise of Islam in the context of the ancient Near East and investigates sceptical and subversive ideas in the Islamic world. Judaism and the Gentile Faiths Joseph P. Schultz, 1981 Examines the historic development of Jewish religious thought in the cross-cultural context of the world's major faiths. The law, ethics, and mysticism of Judaism are compared with their counterparts in Confucianism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam, Christianity, and the secular formulations of religion in modern times.

Intertwined Worlds Hava Lazarus-Yafeh, 2014-07-14 Exploring the lively polemics among Jews, Christians, and Muslims during the Middle Ages, Hava Lazarus-Yafeh analyzes Muslim critical attitudes toward the Bible, some of which share common features with both pre-Islamic and early modern European Bible criticism. Unlike Jews and Christians, Muslims did not accept the text of the Bible as divine word, believing that it had been tampered with or falsified. This belief, she maintains, led to a critical approach to the Bible which scrutinized its text as well as its ways of transmission In their approach Muslim authors drew on pre Islamic pagan Gnostic and other sectarian writings as well as on Rabbinic and Christian sources Elements of this criticism may have later influenced Western thinkers and helped shape early modern Bible scholarship Nevertheless Muslims also took the Bible to predict the coming of Muhammad and the rise of Islam They seem to have used mainly oral Arabic translations of the Hebrew Bible and recorded some lost Jewish interpretations In tracing the connections between pagan Islamic and modern Bible criticism Lazarus Yafeh demonstrates the importance of Muslim mediation between the ancient world and Europe in a hitherto unknown field Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Islamization and Native Religion in the Golden Horde Devin DeWeese, 2010-11-01 This book is the first substantial study of Islamization in any part of Inner Asia from any perspective and the first to emphasize conversion narratives as important sources for understanding the dynamics of Islamization Challenging the prevailing notions of the nature of Islam in Inner Asia it explores how conversion to Islam was woven together with indigenous Inner Asian religious values and thereby incorporated as a central and defining element in popular discourse about communal origins and identity The book traces the many echoes of a single conversion narrative through six centuries the previously unknown recounting of the dramatic contest in which the khan zbek adopted Islam at the behest of a Sufi saint named Baba T kles DeWeese provides the English language translation of this and another text as well as translations and analyses of a wide range of passages from historical sources and epic and folkloric materials Not only does this study deepen our understanding of the peoples of Central Asia involved in so much turmoil today but it also provides a model for other scholars to emulate in looking at the process of Islamization and communal religious conversion in general as it occurred elsewhere in the world Judaica; Classification Schedule,

Evil and Suffering in Jewish Philosophy Oliver Leaman, 1995 The problems of evil and suffering have been extensively discussed in Jewish philosophy and much of the discussion has centred on the Book of Job In this new study Oliver Leaman poses two questions how can a powerful and caring deity allow terrible things to happen to obviously innocent people and why has the Jewish people been so harshly treated throughout history given its status as the chosen people He explores these issues through an analysis of the views of Philo Saadya Maimonides Gersonides Spinoza Mendelssohn Hermann Cohen Buber Rosenzweig and post Holocaust thinkers and suggests that a discussion of evil and suffering is really a discussion about our relationship with God The Book of Job is thus both the point of departure and the point of return In Search of Hebraism

Because My Soul Longs for You: Integrating Theology into Our Lives Rabbi Edwin C. Goldberg, Rabbi Elaine S. Zecher, 2021-08-12 Because My Soul Longs for You seeks to answer one of the most enduring human questions Where can we find God in our lives While Jewish theologians have long pondered the God question from ethical and philosophical perspectives the last century has made space for a more experiential theology God is present in our lived experiences Radical amazement to use Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel's phrase can be found in everyday life Contributors to this volume share how they welcome God's presence into their lives as well as the theological language they use to think and speak about this presence Chapters explore how we experience God through prayer text study poetry food music service movement meditation interpersonal connection and much more Published by CCAR Press a division of the Central Conference of American Rabbis

Mirror of His Beauty Peter Schäfer, 2018-06-05 In this beautifully realized study Peter Schäfer investigates the origins of a female manifestation of God in Jewish mysticism The search itself is a fascinating exploration of the idea of a feminine divinity And Schäfer's surprising but persuasive conclusions yield deeper understanding of the complex but frequently intimate relationship between Christianity and Judaism and of the development of religious concepts more generally Toward the end of the twelfth century a small book titled the Bahir Light appeared in Provence The first document of Judaism's emerging kabbalistic movement it introduced a completely new view of God one that included a divine potency that was essentially female This female divinity was portrayed both as a mediator between Jews and God and as part of the Godhead itself Examining Judaic history from the biblical Wisdom tradition to the Middle Ages Schäfer finds some precedents for the Kabbalah's feminine divinity But he cannot account for her forceful appearance in twelfth century southern France without reference to the immediate Christian environment particularly the flourishing veneration of the Virgin Mary Indeed twelfth century Jews and Christians were simultaneously rediscovering the feminine as an aspect of the Godhead after having abandoned it in favor of either an abstract disembodied God or an exclusively male one In proposing that the medieval cult of Mary rather than eastern Gnosticism is the appropriate framework for understanding the feminine elements in Jewish mysticism Mirror of His Beauty represents a sea change in Kabbalah and Jewish Christian cultural studies It shifts our attention from the Byzantine East to the Latin Christian West And in contrast to histories that treat the development of Judaism and Christianity in isolation it leads us to a fuller understanding of Jews and Christians living in proximity aware of each other Bibliography of Islamic Philosophy Hans Daiber, 1998-12-31
