American English Spelling D. W. Cummings, 1988-05 In this study of the English language as it is spelled in America D W Cummings demonstrates that behind the apparent disorder of spelling in American English lies a self regulating and self reorganizing system that is responsive to four kinds of imperative phonetic semantic etymological and systemic Cummings offers a systematic theory of orthography and applies this theory to the American English vocabulary with numerous examples Cummings also describes the explication of written words into their elements particles and processes and he sets out the tactical and procedural rules that control the distribution and sequencing of vowels and consonants In the largest section of the book he provides an exhaustive description of the major and minor correspondences between the sounds of American English words and their spellings An essential reference work American English Spelling moves beyond questions of how words are spelled to an understanding of why they are spelled as they are The Phonetic Journal , 1890

Handbook of Descriptive Linguistic Fieldwork Shobhana L. Chelliah, Willem J. de Reuse, 2010-10-06 The Handbook of Descriptive Linguistic Fieldwork is the most comprehensive reference on linguistic fieldwork on the market bringing together all the reader needs to carry out successful linguistic fieldwork Based on the experiences of two veteran linguistic fieldworkers and advice from more than a twenty active fieldwork researchers this handbook provides an encyclopedic review of current publications on linguistic fieldwork and surveys past and present approaches and solutions to problems in the field and the historical political and social variables correlating with fieldwork in different areas of the world The discussion of the ethical dimensions of fieldwork as well as what constitutes the typical linguistic fieldwork setting or consultant is explored from multiple perspectives relevant to fieldwork on every continent Included is information omitted in most other texts on the subject such as the collection representation management and methods of extracting grammatical information from discourse and conversational data as well as the relationship between questionnaire based elicitation text based elicitation and philology and the need for combinations of these methods The book is useful before during and after linguistic field trips since it provides extensive practical macro and micro organization and planning fieldwork tips as well as a handy sketch of major typological features for use in linguistic analysis Comprehensive references are provided at the end of each chapter as resources relevant to the reader s particular interests

Local Language, Literacy and Multilingualism in a West African Society Kasper Juffermans, 2015 This book aims to enhance and challenge our understanding of language and literacy as social practice against the background of heightened globalisation Juffermans presents an ethnographic study of the linguistic landscape of The Gambia arguing that language should be conceptualised as a verb languaging rather than a countable noun a language languages He goes on to argue that sociolinguistics should not be defined as the study of who speaks what language to whom and when and to what end as Fishman defined it but as the study of who uses which linguistic features under particular circumstances in a particular place and time The book is therefore in part an exercise to unpluralise language which Juffermans argues is necessary for a more realistic understanding of what language is what it does and what people do with it The book will be of interest to sociolinguistics researchers especially those focusing on Africa and the global South
