Treasures of Knowledge: An Inventory of the Ottoman Palace

Library (1502/3-1503/4) (2 vols) Gülru Necipoğlu, Cemal Kafadar, Cornell H. Fleischer, 2019-08-12 The subject of this two volume publication is an inventory of manuscripts in the book treasury of the Topkapı Palace in Istanbul commissioned by the Ottoman sultan Bayezid II from his royal librarian Atufi in the year 908 1502 3 and transcribed in a clean copy in 909 1503 4 This unicum inventory preserved in the Oriental Collection of the Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences Magyar Tudomány Akadémia Könyvtára Keleti Gyűjtemény MS TrKF 59 records over 5 000 volumes and more than 7 000 titles on virtually every branch of human erudition at the time The Ottoman palace library housed an unmatched encyclopedic collection of learning and literature hence the publication of this unique inventory opens a larger conversation about Ottoman and Islamic intellectual cultural history The very creation of such a systematically ordered inventory of books raises broad questions about knowledge production and practices of collecting readership librarianship and the arts of the book at the dawn of the sixteenth century The first volume contains twenty eight interpretative essays on this fascinating document authored by a team of scholars from diverse disciplines including Islamic and Ottoman history history of science arts of the book and codicology agriculture medicine astrology astronomy occultism mathematics philosophy theology law mysticism political thought ethics literature Arabic Persian Turkish Turkic philology and epistolary Following the first three essays by the editors on implications of the library inventory as a whole the other essays focus on particular fields of knowledge under which books are catalogued in MS TrKF 59 each accompanied by annotated lists of entries The second volume presents a transliteration of the Arabic manuscript which also features an Ottoman Turkish preface on method together with a reduced scale facsimile

Contemporary Arab Fiction Fabio Caiani, 2007-09-12 This book introduces Western readers to some of the most significant novels written in Arabic since 1979 Relying on literary theory and referring to comparative examples from other literatures this study places its findings within a wider framework defining what is meant by innovation in the Arabic novel and the particular socio political context in which it appears

Fiction and the Frontiers of Knowledge in Europe, 1500-1800 Richard Scholar, Alexis Tadié, 2016-04-15 The uses of fiction in early modern Europe are far more varied than is often assumed by those who consider fiction to be synonymous with the novel The contributors to this volume demonstrate the significant role that fiction plays in early modern European culture not only in a variety of its literary genres but also in its formation of philosophical ideas political theories and the law The volume explores these uses of fiction in a series of interrelated case studies ranging from the Italian Renaissance to the French Revolution and examining the work of among others Montaigne Corneille Descartes Hobbes Locke and Diderot It asks Where does fiction live and thrive Under what conditions and to what ends It suggests that fiction is best understood not as a genre or a discipline but instead as a frontier one that demarcates literary genres and disciplines of knowledge and which crucially allows for the circulation of ideas between them

The Printed Book in Contemporary American Culture Heike Schaefer, Alexander Starre, 2019-08-28 This essay collection explores the cultural functions the printed book performs in the digital age It examines how the use of and attitude toward the book form have changed in light of the digital transformation of American media culture. Situated at the crossroads of American studies, literary studies, book studies, and media studies, these essays show that a sustained focus on the medial and material formats of literary communication significantly expands our accustomed ways of doing cultural studies. Addressing the changing roles of authors, publishers, and readers while covering multiple bookish formats such as artists' books, bestselling novels, experimental fiction, and zines, this interdisciplinary volume introduces readers to current transatlantic conversations on the history and future of the printed book.

Transcultural Encounters in Knowledge Production and Consumption Xianlin Song, Youzhong Sun, 2017-09-22

This book is a distinctive collection on transcultural encounters in knowledge production and consumption which are situated at the heart of pursuit for cognitive justice. It uniquely represents transcultural dialogues between academics of Australia, China, and Malaysia located on the borders of different knowledge systems. The uniqueness of this volume lies in the convergence of transcultural perspectives which bring together diverse disciplines as cultural studies, education, media translation theory and practice, arts, musicology, political science, and literature. Each chapter explores the possibility of decolonising the knowledge production space as well as research methodologies. The chapters engage with Chinese and western thought on transcultural subjects and collectively articulate a new politics of difference, de-centring the dominant epistemologies and research paradigms in the global academia. Refracted through transcultural theories and practices adapted to diverse traditions, histories, and regional affiliations and directed toward an international transcultural audience, the volume demonstrates expansive possibilities in knowledge production and contributes to the understanding of and between research scholarship which deals with collective societal and cultural challenges within the globalised world we live in. It would be of interest to researchers engaged with current critical debates in general and global scholars in transcultural and intercultural studies in specific.
