Commemoration in Medieval Cambridge John S. Lee, Christian Steer, Cambridge University Library, 2018 An examination of how academic colleges commemorated their patrons in a rich variety of ways WINNER of a 2019 Cambridgeshire Association for Local History award The people of medieval Cambridge chose to be remembered after their deaths in a variety of ways through prayers Masses and charitable acts and by tomb monuments liturgical furnishings and other gifts The colleges of the university alongside their educational role arranged commemorative services for their founders fellows and benefactors Together with the town's parish churches and religious houses the colleges provided intercessory services and resting places for the dead This collection explores how the myriad of commemorative enterprises complemented and competed as locations where the living and the dead from town and gown could meet Contributors analyse the commemorative practices of the Franciscan friars the colleges of Corpus Christi Trinity Hall and King's and within Lady Margaret Beaufort's Cambridge household the depictions of academic and legal dress on memorial brasses and the use and survival of these brasses The volume highlights for the first time the role of the medieval university colleges within the family of commemorative institutions in offering a new and broader view of commemoration across an urban environment it also provides a rich case study for scholars of the medieval Church town and university JOHN S LEE is Research Associate at the Centre for Medieval Studies University of York CHRISTIAN STEER is Honorary Visiting Fellow in the Department of History University of York Contributors Sir John Baker Richard Barber Claire Gobbie Dauntton Peter Murray Jones Elizabeth A New Susan Powell Michael Robson Nicholas Rogers The Household Accounts of Lady Margaret Beaufort (1443-1509) Susan Powell, 2022-10-13 Lady Margaret Beaufort 1443-1509 was the mother of Henry Tudor 1457-1509 This edition selects the principal household accounts from the period 1498-1509 during which she ran her own household entirely independent of her third husband Thomas Stanley earl of Derby Collyweston, Northampton, England Extracts Church of England. Parish Church of Colley-Weston (Northamptonshire), 1986 The Shell Book of English Villages Maurice Willmore Barley, 1980 Reading Families Rebecca L. Krug, 2018-09-05 Rebecca Krug argues that in the later Middle Ages people defined themselves in terms of family relationships but increasingly saw their social circumstances as being connected to the written word Complex family dynamics and social configurations motivated women to engage in text-based activities Although not all or even the majority of women could read and write it became natural for women to think of writing as a part of everyday life Reading Families looks at the literate practice of two individual women Margaret Paston and Margaret Beaufort and of two communities in which women were central the Norwich Lollards and the Bridgettines at Syon Abbey The book begins with Paston's letters which were written at her husband's request and ends with devotional texts that describe the spiritual daughterhood of the Bridgettine readers Scholars often assume that medieval women's participation in literate culture constituted a rejection of patriarchal authority Krug maintains however that for most women learning to engage with the written word served as a practical response to social changes and was not necessarily a revolutionary act

Books, Buildings and Social Engineering Alistair Black, Simon Pepper, Kaye Bagshaw, 2017-05-15 Public libraries have strangely never been the subject of an extensive design history Consequently this important and comprehensive book represents a ground breaking socio architectural study of pre 1939 public library buildings A surprisingly high proportion of these urban civic buildings remain intact and present an increasingly difficult architectural problem for many communities The book thus includes a study of what is happening to these historic libraries now and proposes that knowledge of their origins and early development can help build an understanding of how best to handle their future
