Book Of Resemblances:

The Book of Resemblances: Intimations, the desert Edmond Jabès, 1990 A Book of Resemblances Book
Robert Duncan, 1966 A Book of Resemblances Robert Duncan, Auerhahn Press, 1962 Paths to Contemporary French Literature, Volume 1 John Taylor, 2005-04-27

Although the great French novelists of the last two centuries are widely read in America there is a widespread notion that little of importance has happened in French literature since the heyday of Sartre Camus and the nouveau roman. Some might argue that even well-read Americans are ignorant about what is happening in European literature generally. Certainly there has never been so few translations of foreign books in the United States or so little coverage of foreign writers. Curious American readers need new up-to-date information and analyses about what is happening elsewhere. Paths to Contemporary French Literature is a stimulating and much-needed guide to the major currents of one of the world's great literatures. This critical panorama of contemporary French literature introduces English language readers to over fifty important writers and poets many of whom are still little known outside of France. Emphasizing authors who are admired by their peers as opposed to those with overnight reputations, John Taylor offers a compelling insider's view. The pioneering essays included in this book offer incisive analyses of the ideas motivating current writing and delve into a writer's or poet's entire output. Although some names may be familiar—Marguerite Duras, Hélène Cixous, Philippe Jaccottet, Henri Michaux—the reader obtains fresh reappraisals of their seminal work. Especially noteworthy, however, are Taylor's lively introductions to many other key writers who either have not yet crossed the English Channel let alone the Atlantic. Combating the notion that French literature is overtly intellectual, inaccessible, or interested only in formal experimentation, Taylor shows that many French writers are instead acutely inquisitive about the outside world, shrewd observers of reality, even very funny. Although not conceived as a reference book, the volume possesses some qualities of a reference work: a good bibliography, reliable dates, and biographical facts. Paths to Contemporary French Literature will be of interest to students of French literature and culture, literary scholars, and readers of contemporary fiction and poetry. Robert Duncan Robert Duncan, 2012-12-17

This volume of the collected poetry, non-critical prose, and plays of Robert Duncan gathers all of Duncan's books and magazine publications up to and including Letters (Poems 1953–1956). Interrupting Auschwitz Josh Cohen, 2003-01-01

Hitler wrote: Theodor Adorno imposed a new categorical imperative on humankind: to arrange thoughts and actions so that Auschwitz will not repeat itself. Interrupting Auschwitz argues that what gives this imperative its philosophical force and ethical urgency is the very impossibility of fulfilling it. But rather than being cause for despair, this failure offers a renewed conception of the tasks of thought and action. Precisely because the imperative cannot be fulfilled, it places thought in a state of perpetual incompleteness whereby our responsibility is never at an end and redemption is always interrupted. Josh Cohen argues that both Adorno's own writings on art after Auschwitz and Emmanuel Levinas' interpretations of Judaism reveal both thinkers as impelled by this logic of interruption by a passionate refusal to bring thought to a point of completion The analysis of their motifs of art and religion are brought together in a final chapter on the poet philosopher Edmond Jabès PHILOSOPHY Exile, Non-Belonging and Statelessness in Grangaud, Jabès, Lubin and Luca Greg Kerr, 2021-06-07 At least since the Romantic era poetry has often been understood as a powerful vector of collective belonging The idea that certain poets are emblematic of a national culture is one of the chief means by which literature historicizes itself inscribes itself in a shared cultural past and supplies modes of belonging to those who consume it But what then of the exiled migrant or translingual poet How might writing in a language other than one's mother tongue complicate this picture of the relation between poet language and literary system What of those for whom the practice of poetry is inseparable from a sense of restlessness or unease suggesting a condition of not being at home in any one language even that of their mother tongue These questions are crucial for four French language poets whose work is the focus of this study Armen Lubin 1903-74 Gh. rasim Luca 1913-94 Edmond Jabès 1912-91 and Michelle Grangaud 1941- Ranging across borders within and beyond the Francosphere from Algeria to Armenia to Egypt to Romania this book shows how a poetic practice inflected by exile statelessness or non belonging has the potential to disrupt long held assumptions of the relation between subjects the language they use and the place from which they speak Living in the Margins Terry A. Veling, 2002-11-12 A gifted theologian sheds light on the meaning and value of intentional faith communities in the margins of parish life On the Mediterranean and the Nile Aimée Israel-Pelletier, 2018-03-12 Aimée Israel Pelletier examines the lives of Middle Eastern Jews living in Islamic societies in this political and cultural history of the Jews of Egypt By looking at the work of five Egyptian Jewish writers Israel Pelletier confronts issues of identity exile language immigration Arab nationalism European colonialism and discourse on the Holocaust She illustrates that the Jews of Egypt were a fluid community connected by deep roots to the Mediterranean and the Nile They had an unshakable sense of being Egyptian until the country turned toward the Arab East With Israel Pelletier's deft handling Jewish Egyptian writing offers an insider's view in the unique character of Egyptian Jewry and the Jewish presence across the Mediterranean region and North Africa Humanity in God's Image Claudia Welz, 2016 A study which suggests human beings are created in the image of an invisible God an idea that can only be conceptualized in the imagination For You Alone Terry A. Veling, 2014-04-18 The works of Emmanuel Levinas a survivor of the Nazi horror are striking in the constancy of their thought and the strength of their appeal We are not condemned to evil and hatred rather we are called to be for each other For You Alone explores the relational and religious quality of Levinas work Our lives are always twofold rather than one and the same A relational life is dependent on encounters that are revelatory Revelation means that life is no mere sameness but is tied to the revelation of the other to you Here is transcendence par excellence Here is what the name of God signifies the relational and ethical bond that takes us outside ourselves toward the other in our midst What could be more natural more human or more divine than to speak of the relational quality of life An answerable life means that we are asked after called required Here I am under your gaze Levinas
