Worldwide Face of Elder Abuse Pamela B. Teaster,Georgia J. Anetzberger,Elizabeth Podnieks,2023-09-25 This book provides a picture of the abuse of older adults organized by World Health Region and locating the problem within an area's historic and present societal treatment of older persons. An actual and emblematic case study of the abuse of an older adult frames each chapter. Using the case study as a touchstone, each chapter guides the reader's understanding of elder abuse in the region or country through the use of empirical data and research on the problem, explaining its usefulness and limitations as well as guiding frameworks utilized to address the problem. The book highlights the efforts of leading figures in each area or region who are addressing the problem, explaining existing policies and future initiatives to address the abuse of older adults. By providing a holistic and person-centered picture of the issue and problem of elder abuse based on actual experiences as well as national and international statistics and research and politics and policy, this book is an invaluable resource for students, academics, social service practitioners, health professionals, law enforcement, and policymakers around the world.

The Abuse of Elderly People Jacki Pritchard, 1992 The Human Rights of Older Persons Bridget

Lewis, Kelly Purser, Kirsty Mackie, 2020-08-07. This book provides a comprehensive human rights analysis of key areas of law affecting older persons, including legal capacity, elder abuse, accommodation and aged care, healthcare, employment, financial security, retirement and estate planning, and social and cultural participation. The research identifies individual autonomy and participation in decision making as fundamental to a human rights-based approach to elder law. The book argues that a paradigm shift must occur away from traditional medical and charity-based understandings of old age to instead acknowledge older persons as active holders of enforceable rights. The book argues that a Convention on the Rights of Older Persons is an essential tool in achieving this, but that even without a dedicated treaty, there is much to be gained from a human rights-based approach. Significantly, because the issues arising in old age are often the culmination of experiences occurring throughout the life course, a human rights-based approach to elder law must begin with a commitment to human rights for people of all ages.

Old Age Abuse Mervyn Eastman, Age Concern England (Organization), 2013-11-11. Age Concern always seeks to be at the forefront in raising issues of importance as part of our continuing fight to improve the quality of life of older people. To this end, we are privileged in being able to draw on the skills of people with the commitment, expertise, and enthusiasm to press for much-needed change. When some years ago we published a book by Mervyn Eastman on old age abuse, the subject was largely unrecognized. He played a pioneering role in drawing attention to this difficult and sensitive topic, classifying the various types of abuse, analysing their causes, their tragic effects, and the different contexts in which they were likely to occur. Earlier, when I joined Age Concern, I had been struck by the paucity of knowledge of old age abuse. My previous work with children and young people provided me with stark reminders of how much more developed both policy and practice were in dealing with the abuse of children. Even in that field, there was still much to learn, and subsequent legislation, policy guidelines, and codes of practice have taken us further down the road by constructing clear lines of accountability and by protecting and representing children at risk by helping potential abusers and developing practice that avoids punishing victims through removing them from their homes

Financial Exploitation of the Elderly United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking and Financial Services. Subcommittee on General Oversight and Investigations, 1999

Aging and Diversity Lisa Wagner, Chandra M Mehrotra, Man Guo, 2025-09-22 Aging and diversity intersect in important ways as individuals from different backgrounds experience aging through distinct lenses shaped by traditions, values, and beliefs. As the older population in the United States is becoming more diverse, it is important to understand the characteristics, the potential, and the needs of this population. In this new and fully revised edition of Aging and Diversity, Lisa S Wagner, Chandra Mehrotra, and Man Guo address key topics in diversity and aging, discussing how the aging experience is affected by not only race and ethnicity but also gender, religious affiliation, socioeconomic status, rural/urban community location, and sexual orientation and gender identity. Taking this broad view of human diversity allows the authors to convey some of the rich complexities facing aging populations, complexities that provide both challenges to meet the needs of a diverse population of elders and opportunities to learn how to live in a pluralistic society. Wagner, Mehrotra, and Guo present up-to-date knowledge and scholarship about aging and diversity in a way that engages readers in active learning, placing ongoing emphasis on developing readers' knowledge and skills, fostering higher-order thinking, and encouraging exploration of personal values and attitudes.

Nursing for Wellness in Older Adults Carol A. Miller, 2009 Now in its Fifth Edition, this text provides a comprehensive and wellness-oriented approach to the theory and practice of gerontologic nursing. Organized around the author's unique functional consequences theory of gerontologic nursing, the book explores normal age-related changes and risk factors that often interfere with optimal health and functioning to effectively identify and teach health promotion interventions. The author provides research-based background information and a variety of practical assessment and intervention strategies for use in every clinical setting. Highlights of this edition include expanded coverage of evidence-based practice, more first-person stories, new chapters, and clinical tools such as assessment tools recommended by the Hartford Institute of Geriatric Nursing.

International Handbook of Elder Abuse and Mistreatment Mala Kapur Shankardass, 2019-08-09 This first of its kind work on elder abuse and mistreatment provides a comprehensive and up-to-date overview of the subject.
