Academia And The Luster Of Capital:

Academia and the Luster of Capital Sande Cohen, Ideas says Sande Cohen have attained commodity status in the academy and knowledge is now seen as another capitalistic industry In Academia and the Luster of Capital Cohen both reveals and interrogates the specific and material workings of this economy of the marketplace of ideas Cohen uses paradigms from Baudrillard Lyotard Deleuze and Guattari to assemble a war machine against the well oiled apparatus of self preservation and self reproduction of the academic institution In detailed and concrete arguments he challenges accepted theories of criticism especially university based myths Academia and the Luster of Capital constitutes a compelling statement for the abandonment of legitimating officiating paradigms of thought in all academic disciplines and outlines possibilities for the emergence of the new in thought in action Paulo Freire on Higher Education Miguel Escobar, Paulo Freire, Alfredo L. Fernandez, Gilberto Guevara-Niebla, 1994-01-01 Dedicated to a transformation of education so that it becomes an instrument of liberation rather than oppression Freire discusses in unprecedented depth the implications and consequences of his pedagogical theory concerning three main problems faced by contemporary higher education power and education curriculum and social reality and the role of intellectuals This dialogue with Freire enlarges the body of knowledge regarding his thinking about educational emancipation and the role of higher education in encouraging self reliance Genealogical Pragmatism John J. Stuhr, 1997-10-16 Drawing on the work of popular American writers American philosophers and Continental thinkers this book provides a new interpretation of pragmatism and American philosophy At the Limits of History Keith Jenkins, 2013-02-01 Why bother with history Keith Jenkins has an answer He helps us re think the end of history as signalled by postmodernity Readers may disagree with him but he never fails to provoke debate about the future of the past Joanna Bourke Professor of History Birkbeck College Keith Jenkins work on historical theory is renowned this collection presents the essential elements of his work over the last fifteen years Here we see Jenkins address the difficult and complex question of defining the limits of history The collection draws together the key pieces of his work in one handy volume encompassing the ever controversial issue of postmodernism and history questions on the end of history and radical history into the future Exchanges with Perez Zagorin and Michael Coleman further illuminate the level of debate that has surrounded postmodernism and which continues to do so An extended introduction and abstracts which contextualize each piece together with a foreword by Hayden White and an afterword by Alun Munslow make this collection essential reading for all those interested in the theory and practice of history and its development over the last few decades The Unmaking of Fascist Aesthetics Kriss Ravetto, 2001 In works by filmmakers from Bertolucci to Spielberg debauched images of nazi and fascist eroticism symbols of violence and immorality often bear an uncanny resemblance to the images and symbols once used by the fascists themselves to demarcate racial sexual and political others This book exposes the madness inherent in such a course which attests to the impossibility of disengaging visual and rhetorical constructions from political ideological and moral codes Kriss Ravetto argues that contemporary discourses using such devices actually continue unacknowledged rhetorical moral and visual analogies of the past Against postwar fictional and historical accounts of World War II in which generic images of evil characterize the nazi and the fascist Ravetto sets the more complex approach of such filmmakers as Pier Paolo Pasolini Liliana Cavani and Lina Wertmuller Her book asks us to think deeply about what it means to say that we have conquered fascism when the aesthetics of fascism still describe and determine how we look at political figures and global events Book jacket

Cultural Studies - Vol. 12.4 Ted Striphas,2012-11-12 This special issue looks at the increasing presence of Cultural Studies as a discipline within academia The debate about it s relevance still rages and is commented on in these pages Also includes tips on publishing for academics and a guide to Cultural Studies institutional presence A must for all students and graduates in the field

The Hidden Curriculum in Higher Education Eric Margolis,2002-05-03 The Hidden Curriculum in Higher Education is a daring look at the way colleges and universities produce race class and gender hierarchies and reproduce conservative ideology These original and provocative essays shed light on all that remains hidden in higher education

Critical Mathematics Education: Past, Present and Future,2010-01-01 Critical mathematics education brings together a series of concerns related to mathematics and its role in society the practices of teaching and learning of mathematics in educational settings and the practices of researching mathematics education The work of Ole Skovsmose has provided a seminal contribution to the shaping of those concerns in the international community of mathematics educators and mathematics education researchers This book gathers contributions of researchers from five continents for whom critical mathematics education has been an inspiration to think about many different topics such as the dialogical and political dimensions of teacher education mathematical modeling the philosophy of mathematics from social and political perspectives teaching practices in classrooms the connection between mathematics and society the scope and limits of critical thinking in relation to mathematics and mathematics education and the political dimension of researching mathematics education The book is not only a tribute to Ole Skovsmose s long academic career it is also a way of providing an overview of the roots of the critical mathematics education concerns their current developments in different parts of the world and their future directions With a diversity of styles and forms of texts this book is addressed to all those teachers and researchers who would like to be introduced or would like to go deeper into the types of insights that critical mathematics education offers

Masocriticism Paul Mann,1999-01-01 These essays on literary theory philosophy and cultural criticism describe in their form and content the end of criticism even while performing the endlessness of that endgame In a sense the book deconstructs all forms of critique and criticism including deconstruction and including its own self That the book is so painfully aware of the futility of its own enterprise even while pursuing it relentlessly and with such critical rigor is what makes this a book of masocriticism as well as about masocriticism

Decentering Music Kevin Korsyn,2004-12-02 As a work of cultural criticism that recalls the concerns of Foucault

Hayden White Zizek and others Decentering Music examines the struggle for the authority to speak about music at a time when the humanities are in crisis By linking the institutions that support musical research including professional associations and universities to complex historical changes such as globalization and the commodification of knowledge Korsyn undertakes a critique of musical scholarship as an institutional discourse while contributing to a general theory of disciplinary structures that goes beyond the limits of any single field In asking a number of fundamental questions about the models through which disciplinary objects in music are constructed Korsyn suggests unexpected relationships between works of musical scholarship and the cultural networks in which they participate Thus David Lewin's theory of musical perceptions is compared to Richard Rorty's concept of the liberal ironist Susan McClary's feminist narrative of music history is juxtaposed with T S Eliot's dissociation of sensibility and Steven Feld's work in recording the music of the Kaluli people is compared to the treatment of ambient sound in contemporary cinema Developing a framework for interpretation in dialogue with a number of poststructuralist writers Korsyn goes far beyond applying their thought to the analysis of music by showing the cultural dilemmas to which their work responds Korsyn suggests how musical research already participates in these ideas Rather than impose any single method Decentering Music empowers readers to choose for themselves by interrogating their own values and ideological commitments exploring the enabling conditions for statements about music By demonstrating the complicity of opposing positions and challenging readers to reexamine their own values Decentering Music will surely provoke debate while appealing to readers in a variety of fields and to anyone concerned about the crisis in the humanities

'A New Type of History' Beverley Southgate, 2015-05-22 Linking fiction with history and historical theory A New Type of History Fictional Proposals for dealing with the Past focuses on a selection of nineteenth and twentieth century novelists Tolstoy Proust John Cowper Powys Virginia Woolf Wyndham Lewis Penelope Lively and James Hamilton Paterson who have criticized scientifically based history and proposed alternative ways of approaching the past more subjective and personal colourful and imaginative and above all ethically orientated In this it is argued they have been reverting to an earlier rhetorical model for history which is now being increasingly adopted by practising historians This new type of history may lack the claimed objectivity and truth of its immediate predecessor but it opens the way for an ethically focused subject that may be used in Nietzsche's words for the purpose of life Providing a new take on both novelists and historiography and ranging widely from the nineteenth century to the present day this cross disciplinary study will be valuable reading for all those interested in the intersection and interplay between fiction and history

Jairus's Daughter and the Female Body in Mark Janine E. Luttick, 2023-11-17 Jairus's Daughter and the Female Body in Mark demonstrates that ubiquitous and significant depictions of children in the literature and material culture of the first century CE shaped the mindsets of the Gospel of Mark's original audience Through a detailed analysis of the story of Jairus's daughter in Mark 5 and of the archaeological remains depicting female children Janine E Luttick reveals how ancient hearers of this story encountered an image of a female child that communicated ideas of hope to Jesus's followers and in turn how readers today can understand the authority of Jesus the domestic structures of early Christianity and the suffering and loss experienced by some early Christians

Critical Pedagogy and Predatory Culture Peter McLaren, 2002-03-11 This book is a principled accessible and highly stimulating discussion of a politics of resistance for today Ranging widely over issues of identity representation culture and schooling it will be required reading for students of radical pedagogy sociology and political science

A History of History Alun Munslow, 2012 In a provocative analysis of European and American historical thinking and practice since the early 18th century A History of History confronts several basic assumptions about the nature of history Among these are the concept of historical realism the belief in representationalism and the idea that the past possesses its own narrative What is offered in this book is a far reaching and fundamental rethinking of realist and representationalist history of a particular kind by addressing and explaining the ideas of major philosophers of history over the past three hundred years and those of the key theorists of today In pursuing this radical analysis the understanding of history as a narrative is evaluated along with contemporary notions such as the continuing presence of the past and the idea of its lessons Written by one of the leading thinkers on the subject A History of History provides an accessible and radical history of history while offering new insights into the pressing questions of the nature purpose and function of history This book is an essential text for all students teachers and consumers of history

Anthropology as Ethics T. M. S. Evens, 2009 Anthropology as Ethics is concerned with rethinking anthropology by rethinking the nature of reality It develops the ontological implications of a defining thesis of the Manchester School that all social orders exhibit basically conflicting underlying principles Drawing especially on Continental social thought including Wittgenstein Merleau Ponty Levinas Dumont Bourdieu and others and on pre modern sources such as the Hebrew bible the Nuer the Dinka and the Azande the book mounts a radical study of the ontology of self and other in relation to dualism and nondualism It demonstrates how the self other dichotomy disguises fundamental ambiguity or nondualism thus obscuring the essentially ethical dilemmatic and sacrificial nature of all social life It also proposes a reason other than dualist nihilist and instrumental one in which logic is seen as both inimical to and continuous with value Without embracing absolutism the book makes ambiguity and paradox the foundation of an ethical response to the pervasive anti foundationalism of much postmodern thought

Critical Mathematics Education Paul Ernest, Bharath Sriraman, Nuala Ernest, 2016-01-01 Mathematics is traditionally seen as the most neutral of disciplines the furthest removed from the arguments and controversy of politics and social life However critical mathematics challenges these assumptions and actively attacks the idea that mathematics is pure objective and value neutral It argues that history society and politics have shaped mathematics not only through its applications and uses but also through molding its concepts methods and even mathematical truth and proof the very means of establishing truth Critical mathematics education also attacks the neutrality of the teaching and learning of mathematics showing how these are value laden activities indissolubly linked to social and political life. Instead, it argues that the values of openness, dialogicality, criticality towards received opinion, empowerment of the learner, and social, political engagement and citizenship are necessary dimensions of the teaching and learning of mathematics if it is to contribute towards democracy and social justice. This book draws together critical theoretic contributions on mathematics and mathematics education from leading researchers in the field. Recurring themes include the natures of mathematics and critical mathematics education, issues of epistemology and ethics, ideology, the hegemony of mathematics, ethnomathematics, and real life education, Capitalism, globalization, politics, social class, habitus, citizenship, and equity. The book demonstrates the links between these themes and the discipline of mathematics and its critical teaching and learning. The outcome is a groundbreaking collection unified by a shared concern with critical perspectives of mathematics and education and of the ways they impact on practice. Rhine Crossings

Aminia M. Brueggemann, Peter Schulman, 2006-06-01 Rhine Crossings explores the conflicts and resolutions that have characterized the relationship between France and Germany over the past two centuries. Despite their varying outlooks on life and style, the French esprit and the German wesen, and despite three bloody wars, the Franco-Prussian and the two world wars, there has always been, and still is, a vital intellectual, political, and cultural exchange between these former archenemies. The essays in this book detail the admiration and antagonism in French and German attempts to seek each other out while keeping their individual senses of self. Focusing on representative works of literature, film, and philosophy, the contributors identify the problems vexing these countries: war, economic competition, as well as possible solutions. The Maastricht treaty, increasing youth exchange. From the literary salons of the eighteenth century to the trenches of the twentieth, from a love-hate relationship to one of cooperation and peace, this book investigates the unique and volatile dialectic between these two nations and cultures. Sons And Daughters Of Los David James, 2003-02-27 Los Angeles. A city that is synonymous with celebrity and mass market culture is also, according to David James, synonymous with social alienation and dispersal. In the communities of Los Angeles, artists, cultural institutions, and activities exist in ways that are often concealed from sight, obscured by the powerful presence of Hollywood and its machinations. In this significant collection of original essays, The Sons and Daughters of Los reconstructs the city of Los Angeles with new cultural connections. Explored here are the communities that offer alternatives to the picture of L.A. as a conglomeration of studios and mass media. Each essay examines a particular piece of or place in Los Angeles cultural life: from the Beyond Baroque Poetry Foundation, the Woman's Building, to Highways and L.A.C.E., as well as the achievements of these grassroots initiatives. Also included is critical commentary on important artists, including Harry Gamboa Jr. and others whose work has done much to shape popular culture in L.A. The cumulative effect of reading this book is to see a very different city take shape, one whose cultural landscape is far more innovative and reflective of the diversity of the city's people than mainstream notions of it suggest. The Sons and Daughters of Los offers a substantive and complicated picture of the way culture plays itself out on the smallest scale in one of the largest metropolises on earth contributing to a richer more textured understanding of the vibrancy of urban life and art

The Real Thing Georg M. Gugelberger, 1996 Presented as the authentic testimony of the disenfranchised the colonized and the oppressed testimonio has in the last two decades emerged as one of the most significant genres of Latin America's post boom literature In the political battles that have taken place around the formation of the canon the testimonio holds a special place no other single genre of literature has taken up such a large part of current debate Initially hailed in the 1970s as a genuine form of resistance literature testimonio has since undergone a significant change in its critical reception The essays in The Real Thing analyze the testimonio its history and its place in contemporary consciousness Although the literature of testimony arose on the margins of institutional power and its ends were in large part political change the canonization of testimonio by the academic Left has moved it from margin to center ironically bringing about the institutionalization of its transgressive and counter hegemonic qualities Discussing Latin American works ranging from Salvadorian writer Roque Dalton's Miguel Marmol to Rigoberta Menchu a work that earned its author a Nobel Prize this collection explores how critical writing about testimonio has turned into discourse about the institution of academia the canon postmodernism and postcolonialism and the status of Latin American studies generally Contributors John Beverley Santiago Col's Georg M Gugelberger Barbara Harlow Fredric Jameson Alberto Moreiras Margaret Randall Javier Sanjines Elzbieta Sklodowska Doris Sommer Gareth Williams George Ydice Marc Zimmerman Imprisoned by History Martin L. Davies, 2009-12-04 This book analyzes what history does in contemporary culture It argues that contemporary society is in historical terms already historicized shaped by history and thus history loses sight of the world seeing it only as a reflection of its own self image By illustrating the ways in which history enforces socially coercive attitudes and forms of behavior the author argues that history is in itself ideological and exists as an instrument of political power Contending that this ideological function is the normal function of professional academic history he repudiates the conventional view that only biased or bad history is ideological By finding history projecting onto the world and getting reflected back at it the exacting history focused thinking and behavior on which the discipline and the subject rely he concludes that history's very normality and objectivity are inherently compromised and that history works only in terms of its own self interest
