Acadiensis Reader Atlantic Canada After Confederation:

Canadian History: Beginnings to Confederation Martin Brook Taylor, Doug Owram, 1994-01-01 In these two volumes which replace the Reader's Guide to Canadian History experts provide a select and critical guide to historical writing about pre and post Confederation Canada with an emphasis on the most recent scholarship Cover Urban and community development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991, 1993-01-01 This book offers the first comprehensive overview of community development for the Atlantic Provinces The authors take a collaborative approach to their research question and contribute more than just a survey on urban development They also create a framework for understanding the relationship between the development of towns and cities in Atlantic Canada and in other parts of the country Published in English Atlantic Canada After Confederation Phillip Alfred Buckner, David Frank, 1985 Atlantic Canada Margaret Conrad, James Hiller, 2001 Having long combined a profound sense of place pride and optimism with a fatalistic resignation today the people of Atlantic Canada are increasingly coming to share a determination to overcome their position as poor cousins within the Canadian federation Atlantic Canada tells the story of the region from its geological origins through its settlers Aboriginal and European to their descendants lives on a series of margins first of the French and British empires then of Confederation now of the global free market Communities, Development, and Sustainability across Canada John T. Pierce, Ann Dale, 2011-11-01 What is a sustainable community The pressing need to answer this simple question is what prompted John Pierce and Ann Dale to gather the essays in this volume Communities Development and Sustainability across Canada is a timely synthesis of work on how Canadian communities can achieve sustainable development It bridges the gap between theory and praxis and brings together academics policy makers and community activists all of whom have argued for increased local participation in sustainable community development Communities have become the weak link in efforts to refashion relations between the environment and the economy The goal of this book is not simply to describe problems but also to suggest answers not simply to offer theory but also to promote action so that Canadian communities can better achieve sustainable development The twelve essays are organized into four sections Vision Connections Action and Assessing Progress The first and last sections discuss local sustainable development within the context of increasing globalization The second section approaches sustainable development from the perspective of social evolution and urban systems The third section the heart of the book is comprised of three community case studies an assessment of the Pacific salmon fishery and four general discussions of sustainable development The conclusion reiterates the need to make communities stronger links in sustainable development The message of Communities Development and Sustainability across Canada is clear it is time for communities themselves to act if they are to achieve sustainable development This provocative and persuasive book will prove to be a valuable guide to taking the first steps The Newfoundland Diaspora Jennifer Bowering Delisle, 2013-06-01 Out migration driven by high unemployment and a floundering economy has been a defining aspect of

Newfoundland society for well over a century and it reached new heights with the cod moratorium in 1992 This Newfoundland diaspora has had a profound impact on the province's literature Many writers and scholars have referred to Newfoundland out migration as a diaspora but few have examined the theoretical implications of applying this contested term to a predominantly inter provincial movement of mainly white economically motivated migrants The Newfoundland Diaspora argues that diaspora helpfully references the painful displacement of a group whose members continue to identify with each other and with the homeland It examines important literary works of the Newfoundland diaspora including the poetry of E J Pratt the drama of David French the fiction of Donna Morrissey and Wayne Johnston and the memoirs of David Macfarlane These works are the sites of a broad inquiry into the theoretical flashpoints of affect diasporic authenticity nationalism race and ethnicity The literature of the Newfoundland diaspora both contributes to and responds to critical movements in Canadian literature and culture querying the place of regional national and ethnic affiliations in a literature drawn along the borders of the nation state This diaspora plays a part in defining Canada even as it looks beyond the borders of Canada as a literary community

Newfoundland and Labrador Sean Cadigan, 2017-06-22 Published to coincide with the sixtieth anniversary of Newfoundland and Labrador joining Canada Sean T Cadigan has written the book that will surely become the definitive history of one of North America's most distinct and beautiful regions The site of the first European settlement by Vikings one thousand years ago a former colony of England and known at various times as Terra Nova and Newfoundland until its official name change to Newfoundland and Labrador in 2001 this easternmost point of the continent has had a fascinating history in part because of its long held position as the gateway between North America and Europe Examining the region from prehistoric times to the present Newfoundland and Labrador is not only a comprehensive history of the province but an illuminating portrait of the Atlantic world and European colonisation of the Americas Cadigan comprehensively details everything from the first European settlements the displacement and extinction of the indigenous Beothuk by European settlers the conflicts between settlers and imperial governance to the Royal Newfoundland Regiment's near annihilation at the Battle of the Somme the rise of Newfoundland nationalism Joey Smallwood's case for confederation and the modernization and economic disappointments instigated by joining Canada Paying particular attention to the ways in which Newfoundland and Labrador's history has been shaped by its environment this study considers how natural resources such as the Grand Banks the disappearance of cod and off shore oil have affected the region and its inhabitants Richly detailed compelling and written in an engaging and accessible style Newfoundland and Labrador brings the rich and vibrant history of this remarkably interesting region to life

Retrenchment and Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland Reginald Byron, 2003-01-01 Set against the background of momentous economic changes over the last decade Retrenchment and

Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland examines the economic political and social circumstances that have led to the current crisis in rural Newfoundland In this timely collection ten social scientists explore how outporters are coping with uncertainty the choices that they are now confronting and the consequences of these choices in terms of their capacity to sustain livelihoods into the next generation and beyond Offering both general overviews and specific case studies drawn from recent research Retrenchment and Regeneration in Rural Newfoundland provides insight into the moral and political economy of Newfoundland the background to the collapse of the fish stocks and the effects of the crisis on outporter s occupational choices and migration decisions Rich in detail and thought provoking ideas this collection is the first to examine the interconnected problems and opportunities in rural Newfoundland in light of global economic and social changes

Twentieth-century Newfoundland James Hiller, Peter Neary, 1994 Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations brings together ten papers by eight well known historians of Newfoundland and Labrador The papers address a wide variety of subject matter and open many avenues for further research The book concludes with an extensive bibliography on the Newfoundland and Labrador in the Twentieth century This bibliography is organized by topic and will serve the needs of the general reader and specialists alike Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations highlight the scope and complexity of present day writing about the history of Newfoundland and Labrador James Hiller Professor of History at Memorial University and author of a number of articles on Newfoundland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Peter Neary Professor of History at the University of Western Ontario and the author of Newfoundland in the North Atlantic World 1929-1949 1998

Anne of Tim Hortons Herb Wyile, 2011-04-25 Anne of Tim Hortons Globalization and the Reshaping of Atlantic Canadian Literature is a study of the work of over twenty contemporary Atlantic Canadian writers that counters the widespread impression of Atlantic Canada as a quaint and backward place By examining their treatment of work culture and history author Herb Wyile highlights how these writers resist the image of Atlantic Canadians as improvident and regressive if charming folk After an introduction that examines the current place of the region within the Canadian federation and the broader context of economic globalization Anne of Tim Hortons explores how Atlantic Canadian writers present a picture of the region that is much more complex and less quaint than the stereotypes through which it is typically viewed Through the works of authors such as Michael Winter Lisa Moore George Elliott Clarke Rita Joe Frank Barry Alistair MacLeod and Bernice Morgan among others the book looks at the changing and increasingly corporate nature of work the cultural diversification and subversive self consciousness of Atlantic Canadian literature and Atlantic Canadian writers often revisionist approach to the region s history What these writers are engaged in the book contends is a kind of collective readjustment of the image of the region Rather than a marginal place stranded outside of time Atlantic Canada in these works is very much caught up in contemporary economic political and cultural developments particularly the broad sweep of economic globalization

of regional baseball on the northeast coast of North America Colin Howell writes about the social and economic influence of baseball on community life in the Maritimes and New England during the past century from its earliest spread from cities and towns into the countryside to the advent of television and the withering of local semi pro leagues after the Second World War The history of sport is an important feature of the new social history Howell discusses how baseball has been deeply implicated in debates about class and gender race and ethnicity regionalism and nationalism work and play and the commercialization of leisure Baseball s often overlooked connection to medical and religious discourse is also explored Howell begins with the game s earliest days when it was being molded by progressive reformers to meet what they considered to be the needs of an emerging industrial society He then turns to the interwar years when baseball in the Maritimes became strictly amateur revealing an emerging sense of community solidarity and regional identity The game flourished at the community level after the Second World War before it eventually succumbed to the new commodified and nationally marketed sporting culture that accompanied the development of the modern consumer society Finally Howell shows that fundamental changes in the nature of capitalism after the war and in the economic and social reality of small towns and cities hastened the death of a century long tradition of competitive community level baseball Howell has written an informative and insightful social history that examines the transformation of Maritime community life from the 1860s to the late twentieth century

Canada's Rural Majority R.W. Sandwell,2016-04-06 Before the Second World War Canada was a rural country Unlike most industrializing countries Canada s rural population grew throughout the century after 1871 even if it declined as a proportion of the total population Rural Canadians also differed in their lives from rural populations elsewhere In a country dominated by a harsh northern climate a short growing season isolated households and communities and poor land they typically relied on three ever shifting pillars of support the sale of cash crops subsistence from the local environment and wage work off the farm Canada s Rural Majority is an engaging and accessible history of this distinctive experience including not only Canada s farmers but also the hunters gardeners fishers miners loggers and cannery workers who lived and worked in rural Canada Focusing on the household the environment and the community Canada s Rural Majority is a compelling classroom resource and an invaluable overview of this understudied aspect of Canadian history

From Migrant to Acadian N.E.S. Griffiths,2005 Despite their position between warring French and British empires European settlers in the Maritimes eventually developed from a migrant community into a distinctive Acadian society From Migrant to Acadian is a comprehensive narrative history of how the Acadian community came into being Acadian culture not only survived despite attempts to extinguish it but developed into a complex society with a unique identity and traditions that still exist in present day Nova Scotia and New Brunswick

Connected Accountabilities: Environmental Justice and Global Citizenship Sivaram Vemuri,2020-05-18 These chapters are all based on earlier versions presented and discussed at the Ecological Justice and Global citizenship conference in Mansfield College Oxford in 2008 They provide an indication of the breadth of research and debate on environmental issues and provide a number of interesting perspectives Canadian Book Review Annual ,1998

Fishing a Borderless Sea Brian J. Payne,2010-02-16 Over the centuries processing and distribution of products from land and sea has stimulated the growth of a global economy In the broad sweep of world history it may be hard to imagine a place for the meager little herring baitfish Yet as Brian Payne adeptly recounts the baitfish trade was hotly contested in the Anglo American world throughout the nineteenth century Politicians called for wars navies were dispatched with guns at the ready vessels were seized at sea and violence erupted at sea Yet the battle over baitfish was not simply a diplomatic or political affair Fishermen from hundreds of villages along the coastline of Atlantic Canada and New England played essential roles in the construction of legal authority that granted or denied access to these profitable bait fisheries Fishing a Borderless Sea illustrates how everyday laborers created a complex system of environmental stewardship that enabled them to control the local resources while also allowing them access into the larger global economy Ireland's Empire Colin Barr,2020-01-16 Examines the complex relationship between Roman Catholicism and the global Irish diaspora in the nineteenth century for the first time

Urban and Community Development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 Carleton University. History Collaborative,Canadian Museum of Civilization,1993 This book which arose from a graduate seminar in Maritime history in 1991 92 offers the first systematic and comparative overview of community development for the entire Atlantic region The book assesses the published census returns from Confederation to the present to track the growth and development of each town and city in the region and surveys aspects of the region s political economy since Confederation paying close attention to the rise and fall of an industrial core and the emergent dependencies that were being reshaped by the expanding of government in determining the fate of Atlantic Canada A typology of community experiences is followed by a reflection on the consequences for the contemporary urban scene of political and economic transformation

Seafaring Labour Eric W. Sager,1996 Sager argues that sailors were not misfits or outcasts but were divorced from society only by virtue of their occupation The wooden ships were small communities at sea fragments of normal society where workers lived struggled and often died With the coming of the age of steam the sailor became part of a new division of labour and a new social hierarchy at sea Sager shows that the sailor was as integral to the transition to industrial capitalism as any land worker
