Burroughs,2015-07-03 Excerpt from Accepting the Universe Essays in Naturalism My reader need hardly be told that theological grounds do not count with me I want nothing less than a faith founded upon a rock faith in the constitution of things The various man made creeds are fictitious like the constellations Orion Cassiopeia's Chair the Big Dipper the only thing real in them is the stars and the only thing real in the creeds is the soul's aspiration toward the Infinite This abides though creeds and dogmas change or vanish About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Accepting the Universe HardPress,John

(Naturalist.),1921 Chasing the Grid Kenneth Posner,2025-09-23 Discover the transformational journey of a conventional minded runner to a minimalist mountain climbing adventure seeking ultrarunner determined to conquer the Catskill Mountains challenge known as the Grid After a successful career on Wall Street the Catskill Mountains beckoned In Chasing the Grid author Kenneth Posner a seasoned corporate worker and intrepid but non elite runner sets out after an ultra distance mountain running record which nearly destroys him Along the way he stumbles upon an obscure peak bagging tradition known as the Grid which becomes his new obsession The Grid is a project where a determined athlete must run hike or climb a list of peaks in every month of the year the purpose being to get to know the mountains intimately in every season For New York s Catskill Mountains where this story takes place the formula requires more than 400 separate ascents For Posner the Grid turns out to be not just another running challenge it s a pilgrimage It offers a retreat from the spirit of modern running often reduced to a one dimensional activity driven by ego and moderated by clocks in favor of how our ancestors moved through nature in days gone by purposefully patiently and mindfully Posner emerges from the experience as a radically different kind of runner now running barefoot across trails and shirtless in the winter leaving behind food water lights navigational gear and even bug spray By following Posner in his quest to complete the Grid readers will feel sandstone fragments under bare soles pad across a bed of moss as luxurious as a Persian carpet squelch with him through cool black boreal mud dance across snow and ice and participate in discoveries about the passage of time the energy of nature and the sense of self Across the Great Border Fault Kevin T. Dann,2000 He argues that these were expressions of the early back to nature movement whose underlying biological materialism or Naturalism was integral to American popular culture of the time A Century of Early Ecocriticism David Mazel,2001-01-01 In the 1970s the relationship between literature and the environment emerged as a topic of serious and widespread interest among writers and scholars The ideas debates and texts that grew out of this period subsequently converged and consolidated into the field now known as ecocriticism A Century of Early Ecocriticism looks behind these recent developments to a prior generation s ecocritical inclinations Written between 1864 and 1964 these thirty four selections include scholars writing about the green aspects of literature as well as nature writers reflecting on the genre In his introduction David Mazel argues that these early ecocritics played a crucial role in both the development of environmentalism and the academic study of American literature and culture Filled with provocative still timely ideas A Century of Early Ecocriticism demonstrates that our concern with the natural world has long informed our approach to literature Thinking Like a Planet J. Baird Callicott,2014-01-06 Bringing together ecology evolutionary moral psychology and environmental ethics J Baird Callicott counters the narrative of blame and despair that prevails in contemporary discussions of climate ethics and offers a fresh more optimistic approach Whereas other environmental ethicists limit themselves to what Callicott calls Rational Individualism in discussing the problem of climate change only to conclude that essentially there is little hope that anything will be done in the face of its perfect moral storm in

Stephen Gardiner's words Callicott refuses to accept this view. Instead he encourages us to look to the Earth itself and consider the crisis on grander spatial and temporal scales as we have failed to in the past. Callicott supports this theory by exploring and enhancing Aldo Leopold's faint sketch of an Earth ethic in Some Fundamentals of Conservation in the Southwest, a seldom studied text from the early days of environmental ethics that was written in 1923 but not published until 1979 after the environmental movement gathered strength. Sharp Eyes Charlotte Zoë Walker, 2000-08-01 John Burroughs the genial and tremendously popular author of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries has gained renewed appreciation at the end of the twentieth century. His quiet approach to nature writing a combination of scientific observation and poetic spirit has informed generations of readers. This book is a testament to the importance of his work in modern literature. In addition to exploring the historical aspects of Burroughs's life and character these works illuminate his role as a writer and his relationships with such contemporaries as Whitman Thoreau Emerson and Muir. Frank Bergan discusses Burroughs as environmentalist. Bill McKibben writes on Burroughs and the call of the not so wild. Daniel Payne expounds on Burroughs's religion of nature. Wendell Berry considers the sacred economy of homesteading and Ralph Black provides an analysis on Burroughs and the poetics of the nature essay. This book will have special appeal to those interested in nature writing American literature and environmental and cultural history of New York State. A section on the history and current use of Burroughs's work in the classroom also makes the book a valuable resource for teachers. Nature's Writers Donald S. Clark, 2024-09-03 A photographic celebration of the landscapes that have influenced some of America's most important nature writers from John Muir to Terry Tempest Williams to Barbara Kingsolver. Since 2019 Donald S. Clark has documented the places that have been instrumental in influencing the lives and words of both historic and contemporary nature and environmental writers throughout the United States. While we have always felt their passionate connection to their own environments no book has ever made this visual connection between writers and their land before the relationship between prose and place. Featuring more than 40 of America's most important writers the content is as far reaching as America itself from sea to shining sea forest to prairie and mountain to coastline. Accompanying each gallery of stunning photography is a selected excerpt by the writer about their land. With the increasingly noticeable effects of climate change the significance of these writers and their personal connections to the environment is even more timely. This unique and compelling story of the land and how it has inspired some of our greatest poets and authors will make a wonderful gift for budding environmentalists students of nature writing or anyone interested in conservation.
