Michaelides,Gavin T. L. Brown,Hanna Eklöf,Elena C. Papanastasiou,2019-09-03 This open access book presents a person centered exploration of student profiles using variables related to motivation to do school mathematics derived from the IEA s Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS data Statistical cluster analysis is used to identify groups of students with similar motivational profiles across grades and over time for multiple participating countries While motivational variables systematically relate to school outcomes linear relationships can obscure the diverse makeup of student subgroups each with varying combinations of motivation emotions and attitudes In this book a person centered analysis of distinct and meaningful motivational profiles and their differences on sociodemographic variables and mathematics performance broadens understanding about the role that motivation characteristics play in learning and achievement in mathematics Exploiting the richness of IEA s TIMSS data from many countries extracted clusters reveal consistent as well as certain nuanced patterns that are systematically linked to sociodemographic and achievement measures Student clusters with inconsistent motivational profiles were found in all countries mathematics self confidence then emerged as the variable more closely associated with average achievement The findings demonstrate that teachers researchers and policymakers need to take into account differential student profiles prioritizing techniques that target skill and competence in mathematics in educational efforts to develop student motivation

Identity and Interethnic Marriage in the United States Stanley Gaines, Jr., 2017-05-25 Drawing on psychological and sociological perspectives as well as quantitative and qualitative data Identity and Interethnic Marriage in the United States considers the ways the self and social identity are linked to the dynamics of interethnic marriage Bringing together the classic theoretical contributions of George Herbert Mead Erving Goffman and Erik Erikson with contemporary research on ethnic identity inspired by Jean Phinney this book argues that the self and social identity especially ethnic identity are reflected in individuals complex journey from singlehood to interethnic marriage within the United States Handbook of Classroom Management Carolyn M. Evertson, Carol S. Weinstein, 2013-10-31 Classroom management is a topic of enduring concern for teachers administrators and the public It consistently ranks as the first or second most serious educational problem in the eyes of the general public and beginning teachers consistently rank it as their most pressing concern during their early teaching years Management problems continue to be a major cause of teacher burnout and job dissatisfaction Strangely despite this enduring concern on the part of educators and the public few researchers have chosen to focus on classroom management or to identify themselves with this critical field The Handbook of Classroom Management has four primary goals 1 to clarify the term classroom management 2 to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners that there is a distinct body of knowledge that directly addresses teachers managerial tasks 3 to bring together disparate lines of research and encourage conversations across different areas of inquiry and 4 to promote a vigorous agenda for future research in this area To this end 47 chapters have been organized into 10 sections each chapter written by a recognized expert in that area Cutting across the sections and chapters are the following themes First positive teacher student relationships are seen as the very core of effective classroom management Second classroom management is viewed as a social and moral curriculum Third external reward and punishment strategies are not seen as optimal for promoting academic and social emotional growth and self regulated behavior Fourth to create orderly productive environments teachers must take into account student characteristics such as age developmental level race ethnicity cultural background socioeconomic status and ableness Like other research handbooks the Handbook of Classroom Management provides an indispensable reference volume for scholars teacher educators in service practitioners and the academic libraries serving these audiences It is also appropriate for graduate courses wholly or partly devoted to the study of classroom management

Entrepreneurship Norris F. Krueger, 2002 This new collection provides a much needed retrospective view of the key academic work published in this area The papers here highlight the importance of studying entrepreneurship from a wide range of perspectives including research that derives from economics history sociology psychology and from different business disciplinary bases such as marketing finance and strategy The overall focus in this set is on entrepreneurial activity rather than specifically small or family owned business and favours research articles over those that deal purely with practice

Character Strengths and Virtues Christopher Peterson, Martin E. P. Seligman, 2004-04-08 This groundbreaking handbook of human strengths and virtues is the first progress report from a prestigious group of researchers in the Values in Action Classification Project which has undertaken a systematic classification and measurement of universal strengths and virtues This landmark work makes possible for the first time a science of human strengths that goes beyond armchair philosophy and political science The handbook begins with the background of the VIA classification scheme and defines terms before describing in thorough detail the current state of knowledge with respect to each of the 24 character strengths in the classification Addressing issues of assessment and measurement practical applications and directions for future research this work will demand the attention of any psychologist who is interested in positive psychology and its relevance to clinical personality and social psychology
