Beauties and Achievements of the Blind William Artman, Lansing V. Hall, 1876      Educational Achievement and Psychosocial Transition in Visually Impaired Adolescents Ranjita Dawn, 2017-12-13 This book provides a fresh approach to studies on adolescents with visual impairment It threads through the three elements of disability visual impairment psychosocial development of adolescents and their educational achievement It highlights how these concepts traverse across and cast an irrefutable impact on each other The author prepares the ground by highlighting the failure of existing theories of disability studies in addressing issues concerning adolescents She further critiques the psycho medical approach to disability which undermines or disregards its social construction The book provides an analysis of numerous issues affecting the psychosocial development of adolescents with visual impairment which is further validated through narratives in educational settings It also strongly advocates the need to create awareness about the basic ethics of human relationships and rights moral consciousness and social and civic responsibilities which can play a vital role in ensuring healthy psychosocial development of adolescents with visual impairment and in ensuring inclusion      Beauties and Achievements of the Blind William Artman, Lansing V. touch shaped Victorian culture By Touch Alone adds new chapters to the history of disability and reading Toward an Aesthetics of Blindness David Feeney, 2007 Blindness has always fascinated those who can see Although modern imaginative portrayals of the sightless experience are increasingly positive the affirmative elements of these renderings are inevitably tempered and problematized by the visual predilections of the artists undertaking them This book explores a variety of the discontinuities between depictions of the sightless experience of beauty by sighted artists and the lived aesthetic experiences of blind people It does so by pressing a radical interdisciplinary reinterpretation of celebrated dramatic portrayals of blindness into service as a tool with which to probe the boundaries of the capacities of the sighted imagination while exploring the sensory detriment of our visually fixated notions of beauty Works by J M Synge W B Yeats and Brian Friel are explored as a means of crafting a workable and innovative medium of theoretical and experiential exchange between the disciplines of literature aesthetics and disability studies In addition to appraising previously unexamined aspects of the work of three of Ireland's most celebrated modern dramatists this book considers the consequences for blind people of the exclusionary and prohibitive elements of traditional aesthetic theory and art education The insights yielded will be of value to those with an interest in modern literature differential aesthetics visual culture perception and the experience of blindness
