designing E Librarian Services With the help of this system users will be able to retrieve multimedia resources from digital libraries more efficiently than they would by browsing through an index or by using a simple keyword search E Librarian Services combine recent advances in multimedia information retrieval with aspects of human machine interfaces such as the ability to ask questions in natural language they simulate a human librarian by finding and delivering the most relevant documents that offer users potential answers to their queries The premise is that more pertinent results can be retrieved if the search engine understands the meaning of the query the returned results are therefore logical consequences of an inference rather than of keyword matches Moreover E Librarian Services always provide users with a solution even in situations where they are unable to offer a comprehensive answer Visualizing the Semantic Web Vladimir

Geroimenko, Chaomei Chen, 2006-07-01 The Semantic Web is a vision that has sparked a wide ranging enthusiasm for a new generation of the Web The Semantic Web is happening The central idea of that vision is to make the Web more understandable to computer programs so that people can make more use of this gigantic asset The use of metadata data about data can clearly indicate the meaning of data on the Web so as to provide computers enough information to handle such data On the future Web many additional layers will be required if we want computer programs to handle the semantics the meaning of data properly without human intervention Such layers should deal with the hierarchical relationships between meanings their similarities and differences logical rules for making new inferences from the existing data and metadata and so on Dozens of new technologies have emerged recently to implement these ideas XML eXtensible Markup Language forms the foundation of the future Web RDF Resource Description Framework OWL Web Ontology Language and many other technologies help to erect a multistory building of the Semantic Web layer by layer by adding new features and new types of metadata According to Tim Berners Lee the inventor of the current Web and the Semantic Web it may take up to ten years to complete the building The new Web will be much more complex than the current one and will contain enormous amounts of metadata as well as data Mediating Semantics for Multidisciplinary Collaborative Design Yongwook Jeong, 2008
