Quality of Pupil Learning Experiences Neville Bennett, Charles Desforbes, Anne Cockburn, Betty Wilkinson, 2012 Very little is known about the quality of the learning experiences provided for pupils This book contains the results of a major research project conducted in a sample of English primary schools in which particular attention was paid to the tasks children were assigned to the degree of match between assigned tasks and pupil attainment to the detailed observation of children at work The teacher's problems in assigning work appropriate to children's attainments and the special problem of matching posed by the transfer of children from one class to another were also subjected to analysis Lessons learned from the project were used as a basis for the design of an in-service course for teachers The course which was aimed at improving teachers' matching skills was closely evaluated The report contains data and analysis pertinent to each of the above issues The findings reveal that despite the conscientious efforts of able teachers a number of serious issues are apparent particularly in areas such as classroom organization and teacher diagnosis of children's work

Dragon Thunder Carolyn Rose Gimian, Diana J. Mukpo, 2008-02-26. It was not always easy to be the guru's wife, writes Diana Mukpo. But I must say it was rarely boring. At the age of sixteen, Diana Mukpo left school and broke with her upper-class English family to marry Chogyal Trungpa, a young Tibetan lama who would go on to become a major figure in the transmission of Buddhism to the West. In a memoir that is at turns magical, troubling, humorous, and totally out of the ordinary, Diana takes us into her intimate life with one of the most influential and dynamic Buddhist teachers of our time. Diana led an extraordinary and unusual life as the first lady of a burgeoning Buddhist community in the American 1970s and 80s. She gave birth to four sons, three of whom were recognized as reincarnations of high Tibetan lamas. It is not a simple matter to be a modern Western woman married to a Tibetan Buddhist master, let alone to a public figure who is sought out and adored by thousands of eager students. Surprising events and colorful people fill the narrative as Diana seeks to understand the dynamic, puzzling, and larger-than-life man she married and to find a place for herself in his unusual world. Rich in ambiguity, Dragon Thunder is the story of an uncommon marriage and also a stirring evocation of the poignancy of life and of relationships from a woman who has lived boldly and with originality.

My Math Teacher is a Vampire Duane L. Ostler, 2014-12-27. Book 2 of The Stewards of Light series and sequel to My Science Teacher is a Wizard. Blake Drywater and his fellow unfortunate students at Millard Fillmore Middle School once more find themselves facing an unexpected creature in one of their classes. Because of a sudden neck disorder suffered by their math teacher, Blake and his classmates receive a chilling substitute. His name is Mr. Coagulate, who has a strange fascination with blood and dreams. Meanwhile, Blake's former science teacher, Mr. Marlin, uses his wizard skills to annoyingly turn himself into objects in Blake's classroom—objects that talk to Blake but which no one else can hear. Mr. Marlin warns Blake that his substitute math teacher is actually a vampire determined to enslave Blake and use him as an unwilling warrior in the battlefield of vampire nightmares. And in spite of Blake's best efforts to stay out of such a horrible place, he unwillingly finds himself in the midst of the vampire battle one night where he learns that nothing ever works out the way it should.
