Muñoz,Inmaculada Pineda-Hernández,2015-02-27 Whether imaginary or based on real events stories are at the core of any culture Regardless of their length their rhetoric strategies or their style humans tell stories to each other to express their innermost fears and needs to establish a point within an argument or to engage their listeners in a fabricated composition Stories can also serve other purposes such as being used for entertainment for education or for the preservation of certain cultural traits Storytelling is at the heart of human interaction and as such can foster a dialogic narrative between the person creating the story and their audience In literature this dialogue has been traditionally associated with narrative in general and with the novel in particular However other genres also make use of storytelling including drama This volume explores the ways in which American theatre from all eras deals with this how stories are told onstage what kinds of stories are recorded in dramatic texts and how previously neglected realities have gained attention through the American playwright s telling or retelling of an event or action The stories unfolded in American drama follow recent narratology theories particularly in the sense that there is a greater preference for those so called small stories over big stories Despite the increase in the production of this type of texts and the growing interest in them in the field of narratology small stories are literary episodes that have been granted less critical attention particularly in the analysis of drama As such this volume fills a void in the study of the stories presented on the American stage The Harlem Renaissance Harold Bloom,2004 Harlem in the 1920s and 30s was the epicenter of a flourishing in African American literature with the poetry and prose of Langston Hughes Zora Neale Hurston Gwendolyn Brooks and Claude McKay to name a few This volume examines the defining themes and styles of African American literature during this period which laid the groundwork for contemporary African American writers Brave to be Involved Yomna Mohamed Saber,2010 Although Gwendolyn Brooks 1917 2004 was the first African American writer to win the Pulitzer Prize she occupies a curious position in the larger black canon Despite her importance with the exception of very few critical accounts of her work she has been usually treated in critical isolation from her black peers be they male or female Brooks s earlier stages were discarded by many black critics as works directed to white audiences whereas black critics who became interested in her nationalist phase limited her to the Black Aesthetic perspective Such approaches to Brooks s opus fail to do justice to her work which stood on equal footing with other groundbreaking works in terms of her pioneering themes and techniques This book examines all of Brooks's stages while tracing the changes that marked her voice throughout By comparing and contrasting her work to Richard Wright Margaret Walker Ralph Ellison Lorraine Hansberry Amiri Baraka and Sonia Sanchez it becomes possible to highlight the distinct poetic legacy of Brooks The aim of this book is to assess the extent to which Brooks participated in the black canon and to examine how far her realistic settings and individualised characters resulted in a poetry capable of providing accurate reflections of black life in America throughout five very vibrant decades The American Stage Ron Engle, Tice L. Miller, 1993-05-06 This book focuses on the economic and social forces which shaped American theatre throughout its history Alone or as a collection these essays written by leading theatre historians and critics of the American theatre will stimulate discussions concerning the traditionally held views of America's theatrical heritage Amiri Baraka Jerry Watts, 2001-08 In a chapter sure to prove controversial Watts links Baraka's famous misogyny to an attempt to bury his own homosexual past BOOK JACKET Redefining Black Film Mark A. Reid, 1993-02-23 Can films about black characters produced by white filmmakers be considered black films In answering this question Mark Reid reassesses black film history carefully distinguishing between films controlled by blacks and films that utilize black talent but are controlled by whites Previous black film criticism has buried the true black film industry Reid says by concentrating on films that are about but not by blacks Reid's discussion of black independent films defined as films that focus on the black community and that are written directed produced and distributed by blacks ranges from the earliest black involvement at the turn of the century up through the civil rights movement of the Sixties and the recent resurgence of feminism in black cultural production His critical assessment of work by some black filmmakers such as Spike Lee notes how these films avoid dramatizations of sexism homophobia and classism within the black community In the area of black commercial film controlled by whites Reid considers three genres African American comedy black family film and black action film He points out that even when these films use black writers and directors a black perspective rarely surfaces Reid's innovative critical approach which transcends the black image language of earlier studies and at the same time redefines black film makes an important contribution to film history Certain to attract film scholars this work will also appeal to anyone interested in African American and Women's Studies Gynocritics and the Traversals of Women's Writing Hemant Verma, Ajit Kumar, Rafseena M., 2024-01-11 Discussions on any narrative focusing on the experiences of about and by women have always had differences as well as similarities What makes such varying approaches interesting is the fact that the re-readings and re-presentations of the hegemonic narratives necessitated the significance of feminist approaches which forms the major focus in the present volume A feminist reading of the current narratives could explain how historically women's rights and roles have been undermined and how the absence of women was never a concern in the male-centered narratives Women's writings provide a consciousness that helps individuals consider critically about how differently men and women are dealt With different dimensions brought in through the various scholarly articles on the differential treatment of women in the highly misogynist society the book offers the space for the intellectuals the academic researchers and scholars in the field of literature and humanities to contribute to the development of an egalitarian world Teaching African American Literature Maryemma Graham, Sharon Pineault-Burke, Marianna White Davis, 2013-12-16 This book is written by teachers interested in bringing African American literature into the classroom Documented here is the learning process that these educators experienced themselves as they read and discussed the stories pedagogical Evidence of Being Darius Bost, 2018-12-21 Evidence of Being opens on a grim scene Washington DC's gay black community in the 1980s ravaged by AIDS the crack epidemic and a series of unsolved murders seemingly abandoned by the government and mainstream culture Yet in this darkest of moments a new vision of community and hope managed to emerge Darius Bost's account of the media poetry and performance of this time and place reveals a stunning confluence of activism and the arts In Washington and New York during the 1980s and 90s gay black men banded together using creative expression as a tool to challenge the widespread views that marked them as unworthy of grief They created art that enriched and reimagined their lives in the face of pain and neglect while at the same time forging a path toward bold new modes of existence At once a corrective to the predominantly white male accounts of the AIDS crisis and an openhearted depiction of the possibilities of black gay life Evidence of Being above all insists on the primacy of community over loneliness and hope over despair The Black Theatre Movement in the United States and in South Africa Olga Barrios, 2008 El creixement dels moviments sociopolítics entre els anys seixanta i noranta als Estats Units i a Sud frica va establir els fermes fonaments sobre els quals amb una força i ímpetu sense precedents es va forjar el teatre negre d'aquests anys Forma i contingut van sorgir a l'una del compromís polític i artístic adoptat per aquests artistes contra l'imperialisme el colonialisme i el racisme occidentals Per primera vegada en la història el teatre negre dels Estats Units i de Sud frica analitzava i valorava les arrels negres per a poder il·luminar la recerca d'un futur de llibertat No obstant això el context sociopolític i les circumstàncies específiques de cada país han generat igualment els trets distintius del teatre afronord americà i negre sud africà incloses les diferències de gènere manifestos en ramificacions artístiques totalment heterogènies i niques The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America A Melvin Dixon Critical Reader, Deferred Dreams, Defiant Struggles Violet Showers Johnson, Gundolf Graml, Patricia Williams Lessane, 2018-08-31 This volume sheds light on how to construe the contemporary political vicissitudes of the Black experience and the ongoing struggle for agency belonging and civil rights It offers a fresh look at familiar concepts such as activism and belonging and models innovative approaches for studying the African diasporic experience in the 21st century
